19TH YEAR. NO. 232. EAST LIVERPOOL, O., WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 1, 1902. TWO CENTS.

LEAP FROM ELEVATOR CAUSES FATAL HURT TO A YOUNG GIRL

Nannie Bucey, Aged 14, Became Frightened and Triedt o Jump Out, Probably Forfeiting Her Life.

Nannie Bucey, an employe of the decalcomania department of the K. T. & K. pottery, was fatally injured a few minutes after 12 o'clock today.

The girl, who is but 14 years of age, is employed as a decalcomaniia worker at the Walnut street decorating shop of the firm, and with 50 others has been very fond of riding on the elevator which passes through the department, and which is used to convey the decorated ware to and from the shop on the second floor.

Sallie DeBee and the Bucey girl are said to have gone below for the purpose of securing boxes, and after obtaining a number started the elevator toward the second story. The conveyance is run by hydraulic power, and the girls had no difficulty in stopping it at the proper place. As they were about to alight, the DeBee girl going first, some one upon the third floor is said to have released the elevator and it began slowly to ascend. Poth girls became terrified at once, and it is thought Miss Bucey attempted to jump from the cage as it was clearing the top portion of the door.

When she was caught the floor of the elevator was about four feet above the level of the decalcomania shop, and the unfortunate girl disappeared between the moving cage and the side of the elevator shaft. The space is not more than six inches wide and the little body was caught and terribly crushed about the stomach, head and breast. So tigthly did the body become wedged that the massive machine was stopped.

Other girls were attracted by the outcry, and all rushed to the door of the shaft. At the same time the employes of the decorating shop above hurried to the opening. They were horrified to see the body of the Bucy girl dangling in mid air, with the blood streaming from her body, and legs. A few had sufficient presence of mind to catch at the rope and release the body.

In a semi-conscious condition little Miss Bucey was tenderly carried to a large table in the decorating shop, and Dr. Bailey and the ambulance summoned. It was soon decided that nothing could be done for the relief of the sufferer until she could be taken home, and arrangements were at once made to carry out the plan.

HELPLESS FROM A FIT WHEN TRAIN STRUCK HIM

Unconscious, mangled and bleeding, Samuel Eckels, aged 22 years, a resident of Jethro Hollow, lay alongside of the C. & P. railroad track near Golding's flint mill yesterday afternoon for over an hour without attention, with face turned upward receiving the pelts of the dashing rain which poured throughout the day.

When discovered by three laborers employed by the bridge contractor, doing work a short distance below the mill, Eckels was yet unconscious, and it was thought that he was dead. They shook him vigorously, however, and noticing a quiver of his lips, and the twitching of his muscles, were convinced that life was not totally extinct and immediately constructed a rude cot on which they bore him to his home.

A physician was called and by the application of strong restoratives revived the young man, but not readily. A long, deep gash had been inflicted in his head and his body was otherwise badly bruised. The physician was compelled to take several stitches in sewing the wound, but states, notwithstanding that, Eckels will be confined to his bed for a number of days as the result of the accident, he is not in immediate danger of fatal results.

Eckels is subject to attacks of epilepsy and it was while wrestling with a fit that he met with the accident. He has been employed as water carrier by the bridge gang and was carrying a bucket up the track when seized with an attack. He states that he knew the attack was coming on and heard the east bound passenger coming up behind him, but was unable to move. While struggling with his terrible malady the engine struck him with terrific force, knocking him quite a distance. He does not remember whether the engineer sounded a warning signal or whether he slowed up after striking him. Nor does he remember whether he was prostrate or standing when struck.

His parents, it is said, will not permit him to work again near the railroad, and are thinking of making application for his admittance to the hospital at Gallipolis.

LISBON MAN GONE LEAVING BEHIND HIM $6,000 IN OBLIGATIONS

Discharge of C. W. Pritchard, Tin Mill Timekeeper, Followed by Several Sensational Charges.

Lisbon, October 1.—(Special)—Lisbon was given a sensation this morning when it was reported that Cyrus W. Pritchard, time-keeper at the tin mill had disappeared, leaving behind him unpaid bills aggregating $6,000. Pritchard left Lisbon Saturday, some reports being to the effect that he had a companion, and others that he was alone.

Pritchard's short-comings became public this morning when Lodge Riddle, attorney for W. H. Bar, roller at the tin mill, filed attachment proceedings with County Clerk McNutt on four promissory notes, aggregating $1,237.

The notes were given on the dates named for the following amounts: August 30, 1902, $220; September 10, 1902, $432; September 13, 1902, $360; September 14, 1902, 125. In his affidavit Mr. Bar declares his belief that Pritchard has absconded, and that Frank P. Moore and Ed. F. Moore, as executors and trustees under the will of Mary Moore Pritchard holds moneys, claims and real estate in trust for Pritchard, the amount of which is unknown. Nothing has been found as yet with which to satisfy the claim.

Pritchard is said to have been living at a rapid pace lately, and the news of his disappearance is received with no surprise. He is a comparatively young man and has held the position at the tin mill ever since the plant was built ten years ago.

He has a wife and three children living here. Among other persons to whom he is said to be indebted are Judge J. G. Moore, Dr. Frank Moore, Bert Lyder, Harry George, the opera house orchestra, of which he was manager, and Mrs. Ida Eells, who conducts a grocery store in the East End. Mrs. Eells received a letter from Pittschard Monday, dated at Pittsburg, saying he would be home Monday evening.

It develops that he was discharged from the mill last Saturday for tampering with the pay envelopes.

Pritchard, it is said, has been noted for crooked dealings all of his life. It is related that when he was at college he forged some notes on a near relative, and the fraud was not discovered until the notes matured several years later.

His family connections are of the best. He is a deacon in the Baptist church.

FINE OF $50 AND COSTS

Imposed Uon Each, on the Charge of Drunkenness And Vagrancy, They to Stand Committed Until It Is Paid. Bad Record of the Prisoners.

Four brothers, Daniel, John, David and Isaac Gourley, accompanied by their bosom friend, the notorious "Chongeye" Carraher, who escaped jail two weeks ago, were arraigned before the mayor this morning, all charged with drunkenness and vagrancy. To the charge they pleaded not guilty and were remanded back to their cells until this afternoon at 1 o'clock when they were again arraigned and this time tney pleaded guilty.

The mayor told them that he had given them all the chances in the world, and that the entire bunch is looked upon with terror by the peaceable citizens, and that the general public would not be satisfied until they were driven from the city. He also told them that he had conclusive evidence that two of them were the men who attempted to gain an entrance to Thomas Teeford's house, as exclusively mentioned in the News Review, and that he knew positively that they had stolen the jardinieres which have been reported lost during the past few weeks. At the conclusion of his speech the mayor sentenced each of the quintet to the Canton work house until a fine of $50 and costs is paid. They will be taken to the works tomorrow, where they will remain until late next spring.

MORE PURCHASES BY THE C. & P.

RAILROAD STILL AFTER LANDS HERE AND BELOW.

Transfers Recently Recorded And Other Deals Pending—Nearly Enough Secured.

Representatives of the real estate departments of the Cleveland and Pittsburg railroad have been working in this city since Monday trying to secure, and also purchasing property fronting upon the railroad between this city and Wellsville. This property is needed to complete the plans already mapped out by the company for the extention of its new tracks between the two cities. The company at Wellsville yesterday completed the deal for the purchase of the property owned by Nat Ridner, which extends 300 feet along the railroad, and the consideration in the deal was $1,500. Property owned by Mrs. Thomas Blackmore is being sought, and this transfer may be completed this week. Property also owned by Walter B. Hill, and A. M. Peterson will, it is said, be under option in a day or so. In fact, all these sales may be consummated this week.

With the purchase of these properties the railroad company will have practically secured all the property that is needed for the completion of the improvements that are now under way. With the exception of the Ridner property, all other tracts are located on the north side of the railroad, while the Ridner property is located on the south side of the track, near "Driven from home" hill.

SIXTY DAY SENTENCE

Imposed On a Salem Man Who Pleaded to Assault.

Lisbon, October 1.—(Special)—William Daugherty, who has been in jail since June 18, and was indicted in July by a special grand jury for assault with intent to kill, pleaded guilty in court yesterday afternoon to the charge of assault. His sentence is 60 days in the Canton workhouse and costs of prosecution.

The assault was made on L. L. Wilson in a Salem livery stable.

Will Not Go With Mercer.

William Bradley, third baseman of the Cleveland American League team, will not accompany Win Mercer, of this city, on his tour to the Pacific coast. Mercer is getting together nearly all of the star performers of the American league for the purpose of touring it across the continent, winding up on with a series with the best teams on the coast. Mercer is now very desirous of getting Rhody Wallace to take his place, but Wallace is reported ready to decline the offer.

POLICE AID IS SOUGHT IN LOCATING LOST WIFE

After searching in vain for two days and nights in this city and Chester for his wife, who, he alleges, eloped two weeks ago with a man who boarded at his home, Daniel Devore, of Toronto, applied to central police station last evening and solicited the aid of the officers in locating his spouse.

To a friend in the city yesterday he stated that it is not due to the love that he has for his wife that he wants to find her, but it is because she has in her name property worth $1,600 which he wants to regain possession of. He turned the property over to her upon their marriage several years ago, but when he did so it was with the verbal agreement that she be true to him. Now, he says, she has proven false, he is determined that she shall not enjoy the fruits of the estate.

In a state bordering on distraction the deserted husband scoured the city and to a number of people told his tale in a pitiful manner. Never suspecting his wife of unfaithfulness he says he was completely dumfounded upon returning home one evening from his work at the American Sewer Pipe company's plant to find that his wife was gone with one of his most trusted boarders.

He waited patiently for her to return for several days, and she not putting in an appearance or sending him word, he instituted a search. She has friends and relatives in this city and the husband feels confident that she is in the vicinity.

Telephonic communication with the city officials at Toronto this morning revealed the fact that the officers of that town have been on the lookout for the woman ever since her disappearance, but they have not been able even to get a trace of her whereabouts. The woman, they state, was once highly respected in Toronto, but during the past few months had carried herself in a rather loose manner. Her maiden name was Wilson.

A photograph given to the local police shows her to be about five feet in height and of heavy build. When she left home she wore a brown dress, a ring on the first and third finger of her left hand and a gold watch and chani. She is about 36 years of age.

MERCHANTS TURN DOWN PROPOSITION OF CLERKS

Willing to concede all reasonable demands, but decidedly in disfavor of making a concession which would not only jeopardize their business interests, but would cause dissatisfaction among their patrons, 40 members of the Business Men's association held a meeting last evening and turned down without a dissenting vote a proposition presented by a committee of the Retail Clerks' association.

The proposition was that the association discontinue the keeping open of stores on Monday evening after 6 o'clock. This, the members felt, could not be done, and after but little consideration ordered the proposition returned to the clerks. A member stated this morning that the business is now so congested on Saturday and Monday evening that it is impossible to handle the trade. Were the conditions such as to eliminate these evenings they might as well retire from the business, he said.

Several other concessions asked by the Retail association were looked upon with favor and may be granted. One of them applies to the keeping open on the eves of holidays. The clerks want the stores closed at the usual time, 6 o'clock, on such evenings, and it is said that practically every member of the B. M. A. is willing to vote to that end. The stand taken by the association is not contrary to the judgment of the public. The people desire that they be kept open on Monday evening, and the business men intend to comply with this wish.

The proposition presented was in the hands of three women and one man. They at first applied to the association and when given a voice made their demand known. It was done verbally, and they were ordered to retire and present the proposition in writing if they wished action taken. They did this, but not in the usual manner. Not only was the proposition devoid of the Retail association's stamp, it is said, but it had not the signatures of the proper officials. On this point alone the business men could have turned it down, but instead devoted attention to its demands.

After ordering the proposition returned to the clerks the president of the association instructed the secretary to prepare a resolution and hand it to the clerks for their acceptance. It will be placed in their hands at the regular meeting to be held tomorrow evening.

Mr. Duffy stated that he has not changed his mind and cannot accept the Democratic nomination. The document which Mr. Duffy is now at work upon will be delivered into the hands of J. J. Weisend this evening.

The meeting of the Labor party executive committee in session at Alliance today will have no effect upon the decision of Mr. Duffy, and is called for the purpose of laying plans for the coming campaign.

President A. S. Hughes, of the N. B. of O. P., is representing the East Liverpool labor people. The city chairman, John T. Wood, was unable to go, and Mr. Hughes went in his stead.

THE NASH CODE PASSES SENATE

Only the Police Court Section of the Bill Is Eliminated From It.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, October 1. — The Nash code in all its entirety, save the police court section, was passed by the senate late Tuesday afternoon by a strict party vote. The Democrats tried to block its passage by resorting to obstruction tactics. The Republicans claimed they made a pledge to vote for the bill, but the Democrats denied this and insisted that their action was proper. With the police court provision in the bill a two-third vote was necessary to pass it, and as the Republicans could not muster this strength without receiving Democratic votes, in order to force the passage of the measure they took out the police court section, converting it into a separate bill, and soon secured its passage, a bare majority only being required. The Democrats offered an amendment to strike out the curative act in the bill, but it did not prevail. Senator Harding introduced the police court bill and it may be passed today. As has been stated it will take a two-thirds vote to pass it. Had the Republicans not eliminated it from the code they could not have passed it. The session was the stormiest yet held in the extraordinary session. The opposition which came from the minority was unexpected.

Senator Connell says that he will speak on the application for a pardon for Zach S. Robison, life man from Columbiana, at the next meeting of the state pardon board. Warden Darby and the penitentiary officials will do what they can to aid Robison, who, they declare, is the best behaved inmate of the prison. Zach has had charge of the paint gang for several years.

There were "doins" in the house, too. Guerin, of Erie, offered his curative amendment, which was adopted after a warm fight by a vote of 55 to 35. Eight Democrats stood out against Tom Johnson's threats and voted for the measure. Tom will be

Only the Police Court Section of the Bill Is Eliminated From It.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, October 1. — The Nash code in all its entirety, save the police court section, was passed by the senate late Tuesday afternoon by a strict party vote. The Democrats tried to block its passage by resorting to obstruction tactics. The Republicans claimed they made a pledge to vote for the bill, but the Democrats denied this and insisted that their action was proper. With the police court provision in the bill a two-third vote was necessary to pass it, and as the Republicans could not muster this strength without receiving Democratic votes, in order to force the passage of the measure they took out the police court section, converting it into a separate bill, and soon secured its passage, a bare majority only being required. The Democrats offered an amendment to strike out the curative act in the bill, but it did not prevail. Senator Harding introduced the police court bill and it may be passed today. As has been stated it will take a two-thirds vote to pass it. Had the Republicans not eliminated it from the code they could not have passed it. The session was the stormiest yet held in the extraordinary session. The opposition which came from the minority was unexpected.

Senator Connell says that he will speak on the application for a pardon for Zach S. Robison, life man from Columbiana, at the next meeting of the state pardon board. Warden Darby and the penitentiary officials will do what they can to aid Robison, who, they declare, is the best behaved inmate of the prison. Zach has had charge of the paint gang for several years.

There were "doins" in the house, too. Guerin, of Erie, offered his curative amendment, which was adopted after a warm fight by a vote of 55 to 35. Eight Democrats stood out against Tom Johnson's threats and voted for the measure. Tom will be

WITH THE WORKMEN IN THE CLAY PLANTS

FROM PEORIA'S SHOP.

The pottery in this city is running about the same as usual, but still work is a little slack. The clay hands are making from seven to eight days a pay. There is also a shortage of saggers, and owing to this fact the glost kilnmen are not making as much time as they would like to.

Patrick Rafferty, who has been working out his notice, thinking he would take a position at Akron, has changed his mind, and instead he will go to Trenton. Trenton was his former home. Samuel Thomas, who was formerly employed at this shop, and who recently went to New Castle, has written to his friends here stating he has a good position and proposes to remain.

Fletcher Massey, who left the Peoria shop to go to East Liverpool, has been working for a few days at Sebring. He is expected to arrive at East Liverpool in a few weeks.

Some changes have been made in the plan to give Samuel Brooks the dishmaking bench, which was made vacant by the resignation of Samuel Thomas. The company will keep the position open until next month, when the position will be given to an apprentice, whose time will expire within a few weeks. Samuel Brooks, who had the promise of this position, has secured a position at Derry and will leave for there soon. William Swan, who has also been working in the local clay shops, will also go to Derry when that shop commences operation.

The company has received a rush order for ware, and during the week three cars will be packed and shipped, which will clean the glost warehouse of every piece of ware in it. The company is in need of ware, but from some unknown cause it cannot be got through the kilns fast enough.

SHIPPING PIPE.

The Eastern Ohio Sewer Pipe company, at Irondale, owned principally by Fred Owesney and Alf. Freeman, of Steubenville has made and shipped twenty-four cars of pipe to points in the east, the first pipe having been burned in the kilns 60 days ago. Six kilns are being used and six more are under construction. The plant is to be increased to 20 kilns all of which are of the largest kind. The kilns are 23 feet in diameter. Pipes are made ranging from two to 36 inches in size. Asbestos covering is being put around all of the heating and steam pipes both inside and outside of the building. Men are now setting a large mixing pan, also an immense grinding pan. The main building is of brick, two stories high and covers a ground surface of 91x300 feet. There are four floors with machine room annex. It is a plant that is complete in all of its appointments. The company has its own dynamo and electric light. At each machine is a push button which communicates with the engine room. In case of accident machinery can be stopped immediately so the safety devices are important. There are numerous elevators and labor saving machines. It is anticipated that the remaining kilns will be built by spring and when under full operation about 250 men will be employed day and night. Only about half that number are employed at present.

A NEW COMPANY.

Articles of incorporation will soon be filed at Columbus by the American Ceramic Art company, of this city, capital stock about $20,000. The incorporators, who are all local people, will be George Heisler, general manager of the decorating department of the Warwick pottery, Wheeling; Charles Pelley, of East End; Harry Waggoner, of the National China company and Ernest W. Thompson, a well known local business man. This company has been formed for several weeks, and its plant has already been arranged. Quarters have been secured in that part of the building on Railroad street formerly occupied by Frank E. Oyster. A large kiln, heated by oil, has been purchased and tested. Trials have been run through the kiln with excellent results, and from the experiments that have already been made, the venture is an assurd success. It is the intention of this new firm to enter the general decorating business, and already a number of large orders have been secured. The company will not only decorate ware for private customers, but for the general trade. It frequently occurs that the manufacturers of this city are pushed in their decorating departments, and from now on this rushing will be alleviated. It is also the intention of this new firm to decorate imported china, and for this work some of the best decorators in the district have been engaged. The policy that will be followed by this firm will in no manner conflict with any other industry in this city, and judging from present appearances, the company will handle a large business. The decorating of special pieces of ware will be given close attention by the new firm.

WANTS TO COME BACK.

About a year ago a well known local pottery workman secured what he thought was a good position in a Trenton shop. His position at that time was netting him not less than $4 a day. He worked out his two weeks' notice and soon afterwards went to Trenton. Several letters were received from him soon after he arrived in the east, and in them he spoke of the good time he was having, the money he was making and all that sort of thing. Then letters ceased to come to his local friends. A few days ago one of the prominent manufacturers in this city received a letter from him in which he asked if he could not be furnished employment. He also said that he was working but from four to five days a pay, and occasionally he would get in six days. He seemed to be tired of that way of working and said if he could get a position in East Liverpool again he would never leave the city. He will come back on these conditions, it is said.

AGED POTTER DEAD.

Former Deputy Revenue Collector John M. Pruden, the oldest pottery man in Elizabeth, if not in New Jersey, is dead. He was born in Elizabeth, and his father, Keen Pruden, was the pioneer of the pottery industry in Elizabeth. He was succeeded in it by his son, John, who had for a partner William Alcot. Afterwards the business was sold to the Beebower Pottery company. Mr. Pruden was appointed during the Harrison administration as deputy revenue collector, the only political position he ever held. His father was one of the early presidents of the National State bank at Elizabeth, and was succeeded as president by the late Colonel John Kean, father of United States Senator Kean. Mr. Pruden was a strong Republican in politics. He is survived by a widow and an only son, Caleb C. Pruden, who is a wealthy man and sole heir to his father's estate. The dead man was one of the most honored residents of Elizabeth.

MATTERS ARE ALL SETTLED.

The work of preliminary steps to form a relief association among the employes of the kiln and dipping departments of the Laughlin potteries Nos. 2 and 3, have about been completed, and it is expected that collections for the association will commence not later than Saturday. A meeting of the committee upon by-laws and constitution was held Monday morning and yesterday morning a general meeting of the employes was held. It was then that a full report of the by-laws committee was read for the first time. The constitution of the new association was read for the first time. The constitution of the new association is almost similar to that which has governed the association at the National pottery, although a few changes in some of the rules have been made. It is thought that the new association will start off with a membership of about 50, and it is possible this number will be exceeded.

NEW CLEVELAND SHOP.

Much has been said and written relative to Mr. Crook retiring from the Akron Pottery company, and what business he proposed to follow. It is now stated upon authority that Mr. Cook will locate in Cleveland, and that he will have an almost exclusive business. He is now having built at Cleveland a large decorating shop, and will enter the general decorating business upon a large scale. Decorating kilns will be built and a number of first class decorators, it is said, will be employed. In this manner a person will be enabled to purchase a piece of white ware or china, take them to this shop, tell what is wanted upon it, and within a few days, the order is finished. This is the same plan that will be followed by the American Ceramic Art company, which was recently organized in this city.

POTTER'S DEATH.

John Shue, aged 30, died yesterday at the home of his brother-in-law in Steubenville. He was born in Port Washington but has worked in the Steubenville pottery several years. He married Miss Mary Poole, of Steubenville, who survives with five children. He is also survived by the mother and one sister, Mrs. Fred Albright, and the following half-sisters and brothers: Mrs. Fred Black, Martins Ferry; Mrs. Wm. McGrew, Sebring; Misses Emma and Kate and Daniel and Thomas Wise, and Eva and Harry Lidy. He was a member of the Mystic Circle, of the Knights of the Golden Eagle and of Union No. No. 20, N. B. of O. P.

SMALL DECORATING KILN.

Theodore Leissel is a printer at the Smith-Phillips pottery, but this fact does not prohibit him from having higher ambitions. When his work is through at the pottery, Mr. Leissel devotes his attention to other lines, and in so doing, he is in a fair way to build up a business of his own. He has commenced the erection of a small decoarting kiln on his property in the Klondike section, and after his labor is finished at the pottery he will devote his time to experimenting in the decoration of ware. He has made several experiments of late in this particular line, all of which have been successful.

FIREMEN STAYED AT HOME.

Mr. W. G. Croxall, one of the owners and managers of the Kokomo sanitary shop, has been in the city for several days, not looking for many workmen, but just one, a kiln fireman. These workmen appear to be a scarce article, at least Mr. Croxall stated, and in one instance he offered one fireman an advance of $11 a week more than he is now receiving, but the fireman rejected the proposition with thanks. It appears that very few firemen care to leave the city, no matter how good a proposition they receive to do so. Mr. Croxall returned home last evening.

SCOTT WAS IN TOWN.

Samuel Scott, general manager of the Zanesville Art Pottery, was in the city a few days ago placing orders for some machinery, which is to be shipped as soon as possible. Mr. Scott stated that the shop was in full operation, and that all the workmen were making good time. There are seven kilns at this pottery, all being used for biscuit and glost firing. The glost ware is fired in the upper part of the kilns, while the lower part is used for biscuit purposes.

OVERCOME BY HEAT.

William McCoy, a kilnman, employed at the Union Porcelain works, at Trenton, was overcome by the heat while at work yesterday morning, and was taken to St. Francis hospital. McCoy was found to be suffering of thermic fever, and was given a cold bath and other treatment.

SOME LISBON NEWS.

Alexander Bayer, who has been employed at the Lisbon pottery, has gone to the New Castle pottery. He was employed while in Lisbon as manager of the slip house, and he will have a similar position in New Castle.

Robert Walters, well known in East Liverpool, who has been in Lisbon ever since the new pottery commenced operations, has taken charge of the clay shops, the department in which Mr. Bayer was employed.

A FLINT SALESMAN.

W. S. Chase, of Trenton, connected with a flint and spar company of that city, has been spending a few days in this district, calling upon the manufacturers.

GONE TO TRENTON.

SHIPPING PIPE.

The Eastern Ohio Sewer Pipe company, at Irondale, owned principally by Fred Owesney and Alf. Freeman, of Steubenville, has made and shipped twenty-four cars of pipe to points in the east, the first pipe having been burned in the kilns 60 days ago. Six kilns are being used and six more are under construction. The plant is to be increased to 20 kilns all of which are of the largest kind. The kilns are 23 feet in diameter. BIG JOB OF GRADING

It has been years since so much grading has been done in the vicinity of Ralston's Crossing, and the plant of the United Power company as has been done this year. First there was excavating for the new plant to be built by the East Liverpool Brick Manufacturing company, and no sooner was this completed than work was commenced by Contractor McLaughlin and others, in grading for additional tracks about this city.

So far, it has been estimated by Mr. McLaughlin that from 25,000 to 35,000 yards of excavating will be required on that part of the contract which has been let.

The earth secured from this source is not only being used to widen the road in the vicinity of Ralston's Crossing, but it is also being used to fill in that hollow just east of the crossing, and west of the trestle on the street railway. At present there are 14 teams at work on this contract and from 40 to 50 men employed. The contractore would employ more teams and men but it appears they cannot be had at any price. All teams that have been used for grading purposes about the city during the past summer are still busy on unfinished contracts, and will be for some time to come. It is thought the grading for this improvement will be completed within four months, at least the railroad company would like to have the work done in that time. As there is considerable rock in the hillside at Ralston, much explosive material is being used.

Where the excavating is being done, a space of 21 feet will be cleared north of the railroad tracks. It may be, although a decision has not been reached by the railroad company on the matter, that a space of 51 feet will be graded near the Laughlin pottery, No. 1. It is thought that by the time the contractors reach that part of their work the railroad company will have reached a decision in this particular matter. When the present plans of the railroad company are completed, the company will have a three track road through the city.

HIT THE WRONG BOY

J. D. McMurray's Reported Reason for Going to Pennsylvania.

J. D. McMurray is reported to be a resident of Pennsylvania. How long he will remain there cannot be told. Yesterday several boys employed at the Laughlin pottery threw some particles as several persons were passing the plant, and one of these struck McMurray. McMurray then picked up a stone and in throwing it at those whom he supposed were the boys who threw at him, struck Frank Dixon on the head, cutting a esevere gash. He was removed to his home, where his injuries were dressed by a physician.

Dixon was not mixed up in the affair, and, it is said, when McMurray heard what had been done he went to the neighboring state.

Scarcity of Brick.

Owing to the fact that the American Sewer Pipe company has been unable to get the required materials, work upon the new kilns to be built at the East End plant has been delayed much longer than was expected. An official of the East End plant said today that the three new kilns would be built just as soon as it was possible to do so, but owing to the condition of the brick market it has been impossible to get brick to begin the improvement. It is thought the kilns will be erected by the company's bricklayers

ON A BIG SCALE

Coal Mines Near Salem Will Be Opened And Operated And Coke Made.

Salem, Oct. 1.—The Farquhar coal mining property east of the city has been leased to Archibald Lemmon, a prominent coal mine operator of the south.

The lease is for a long term of years. Mr. Lemmon has decided to develop the property on a larger scale than was ever intended by the Farquhars. It is now the intention to build a railroad to the Salem railroad to get the output of coal to the foreign market. The route has been practically surveyed and will run from Buzzard's dam along the creek to the East Main street tramway, which is now being built. The road to be built will be about one and a half miles long. It is also the intention of the new lessee to put in a large number of coke ovens and manufacture coke on an extensive scale.

These gigantic undertakings will take much money, but Mr. Lemmon has decided to operate on a large scale. Hoisting machinery has been ordered, and it is expected to arrive this week, which can do the work for 200 employes if it is found necessary to employ that number.

"I am pleased to give my experience with Wine of Cardui as I am very grateful for its help. After my first baby was born I could not seem to regain my strength, although the doctor gave me a tonic which he considered very superior, but instead of getting better I grew weaker every day. My husband came home one evening with some Wine of Cardui and insisted that I take it for a week and see what it would do for me. As he seemed to have so much faith in it I did take the imedicine and was very grateful to find my strength slowly returning. In two weeks I was out of bed and in a month I was able to take up my usual duties. I am very enthusiastic in its praise."

MOTHERHOOD is the noblest duty and highest privilege women can achieve or aspire to. Without this privilege women do not get all there is in life—too often they go through the world discontented, wrapped up in their own selfish cares and troubles. How different is the happy mother, watching her children grow into manhood and womanhood. A mother lives as many lives as she has children—their joys and sorrows are hers, as are their ambitions, triumphs and defeats. Healthy women do not suffer miscarriage nor does a woman who is healthy suffer tortures at childbirth. It is the woman who is ailing—who has female weakness—who fears the ordeal of becoming a mother. Wine of Cardui builds up the womanly in a woman. It stops all unnatural drains and strains—irregularities which are responsible for barrenness and miscarriage. It makes a woman strong and healthy and able to pass through pregnancy and childbirth with little suffering. After the ordeal is passed the Wine prepares a woman for a speedy recovery to health and activity.

Wine of Cardui, in re-inforcing the organs of generation, has made mothers of women who had given up hope of ever becoming mothers. Wine of Cardui will cure almost any case of barrenness except cases of organic trouble. How can you refuse to take such a remedy that promises such relief from suffering? Wine of Cardui simply makes you a strong woman, and strong, healthy women do not suffer. They look forward to motherhood with joy.

ON A BIG SCALE

Coal Mines Near Salem Will Be Opened And Operated And Coke Made.

Salem, Oct. 1.—The Farquhar coal mining property east of the city has been leased to Archibald Lemmon, a prominent coal mine operator of the south.

The lease is for a long term of years. Mr. Lemmon has decided to develop the property on a larger scale than was ever intended by the Farquhars. It is now the intention to build a railroad to the Salem railroad to get the output of coal to the foreign market. The route has been practically surveyed and will run from Buzzard's dam along the creek to the East Main street tramway, which is now being built. The road to be built will be about one and a half miles long. It is also the intention of the new lessee to put in a large number of coke ovens and manufacture coke on an extensive scale.

These gigantic undertakings will take much money, but Mr. Lemmon has decided to operate on a large scale. Hoisting machinery has been ordered, and it is expected to arrive this week, which can do the work for 200 employes if it is found necessary to employ that number.

Detroit, Oct. 1.—After an animated discussion, lasting nearly three hours, yesterday afternoon, the Democratic state central committee selected L. T. "I am pleased to give my experience with Wine of Cardui as I am very grateful for its help. After my first baby was born I could not seem to regain my strength, although the doctor gave me a tonic which he considered very superior, but instead of getting better I grew weaker every day. My husband came home one evening with some Wine of Cardui and insisted that I take it for a week and see what it would do for me. As he seemed to have so much faith in it I did take the medicine and was very grateful to find my strength slowly returning. In two weeks I was out of bed and in a month I was able to take up my usual duties. I am very enthusiastic in its praise."

MOTHERHOOD is the noblest duty and highest privilege women can achieve or aspire to. Without this privilege women do not get all there is in life—too often they go through the world discontented, wrapped up in their own selfish cares and troubles. How different is the happy mother, watching her children grow into manhood and womanhood. A mother lives as many lives as she has children—their joys and sorrows are hers, as are their ambitions, triumphs and defeats. Healthy women do not suffer miscarriage nor does a woman who is healthy suffer tortures at childbirth. It is the woman who is ailing—who has female weakness—who fears the ordeal of becoming a mother. Wine of Cardui builds up the womanly in a woman. It stops all unnatural drains and strains—irregularities which are responsible for barrenness and miscarriage. It makes a woman strong and healthy and able to pass through pregnancy and childbirth with little suffering. After the ordeal is passed the Wine prepares a woman for a speedy recovery to health and activity.

Wine of Cardui, in re-inforcing the organs of generation, has made mothers of women who had given up hope of ever becoming mothers. Wine of Cardui will cure almost any case of barrenness except cases of organic trouble. How can you refuse to take such a remedy that promises such relief from suffering? Wine of Cardui simply makes you a strong woman, and strong, healthy women do not suffer. They look forward to motherhood with joy.

Considering the interest taken in politics in East Liverpool, the ignorance of those who write upon the subject is something surprising. Scarcely a day passes that some newspaper reference is not made to "Judge Kennedy, of Youngstown, the Republican candidate for congress." Every person who can read ought to be well aware that Judge James B. Kennedy is not the candidate for congress. That honor has fallen to his cousin, Attorney James Kennedy, who, though well qualified to be a judge, has never held that position. The mistake is natural, though a person who assumes to enlighten the public on political matters ought not to make it. But what excuse is there for the statement that "Thomas J. Duffy, of this city, will be the candidate for the nomination for congress on the Labor ticket?" Mr. Duffy received the nomination on the Labor ticket August 23. The newspaper writer who is not aware of that fact ought to read up on local history or else be given some assignment where his stock of misinformation would not be paraded so conspicuously.

Attorney General Elkin, of Pennsylvania, said in a recent speech: "Any falling off of Republican majorities this year will be a notice to the public that distrust has arisen in relation to laws favored and policies formulated by the Republican administration." This statement is as applicable to Ohio as to Pennsylvania. There will be no falling off if every Republican does his duty. The people are busy, but they should never get too busy to vote, especially at an election the results of which are fraught with so much importance as this year.

Senators Hoar and Hale are old-time Republicans, who know the benefits which the protective system have brought to the country. They are against all tariff tinkering. This is the view of the masses of the Republican party. It is the view, too, of all the Republican leaders of any consequence, from President Roosevelt down. Business men may rest assured that nothing will be permitted by the Republican party which will have a tendency to check the present prosperity.

The tributes of praise and esteem showered on Rev. Dr. Clark Crawford are all deserved. He has been a conscientious and faithful pastor and a strenuous worker for the cause of Christ, and East Liverpool will hold his name and his work in grateful remembrance.

The Democrats who have been reading Secretary Root out of the cabinet are to be disappointed. He will remain where he is. The president has a strong cabinet, and the war secretary is among the ablest of its members

A Bombay prince has left $5,000,000 as a fund for persons deprived of subsistence by sudden calamity in any part of the world. Even Asia can give a lesson in the broad philanthropic tendencies of the age.

A few loads of buckshot, well directed, would do more to discourage the activity of burglars and footpads in this city than all the arrests that have been made or are likely to be made.

The president will gladly settle the coal strike if those who are insisting that he do so will show him how. It now is up to the petitioners to produce their solution of the problem.

Eighty marriage licenses issued in Columbiana county last month is another evidence of prosperity.

Perry says it would cost $200,000 to discover the north pole. The game is not worth the candle.

When Alger and Miles meet even the mild climate of Washington will appear chilly.

AT THE THEATER

Costumes play a great part in the modern stage production. The average woman today looks to the stage for the latest mode. This important accessory has been used to the greatest advantage in the new revival in "East Lynne." Miss Warren has always had the reputation of being one of the best gowned women on the stage, and for this her first starring season her gowns, Parisian creations, will certainly make a sensation. Miss Warren is a coming woman in the dramatic race today, and those who see her at the Grand opera house on Saturday afternoon and evening will certainly be delighted.

Idah McGlone Gibson, who gives the talk on the stage at the opera house tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 is well known in the newspaper fraternity as "Mae." Mrs. Gibson's talk is not a cut and dried lecture but a series of stories, funny and pathetic, and those who have heard her, say that she is most entertaining. She has a number of pictures of the great people of the stage, Booth, Modjestica, Sol Smith Russell, Herne, who wrote Shore Acres, and others, and she tells personal reminiscenses of the people who have given them to her. The lecture is absolutely free and will doubtless be most entertaining. An attractive souvenir will be presented to every lady attending.

"The Prisoner of Zenda" was presented to a packed house at the Grand last evening. The play was well staged, but there was one drawback about the production, and this fact is to be regretted. Some of the players were not thoroughly acquainted with their parts, one or two of the cast appearing either to forget their lines or the way they should act. With a few weeks of rehearsal these things will be eliminated. Thomas B. Alexander and Eloise Elliston acted well their parts, and the performance as a whole was of more than average merit.

Butter making is quite an industry in Indiana. In order to faithfully reproduce one of the principal scenes a trained dog is introduced in "Indiana Folks." His duty consists of propelling the tread mill which agitates the churn. From two to four pounds of strictly fresh butter are churned by Snip, the cocker spaniel dog used in the play. The product of his labor is eaten on the bread used in the realistic dinner scene in the first act. This is only one of may natural features in this beautiful Indiana romance which comes to the Grand tonight, October 1.

Denman Thompson and Geo. W. Ryer's, best of all rural plays, "Our New Minister," more popular now than ever, and brighter and more attractive than before because of its new massive scenic environment, will make its annual visit to the Grand on Friday evening. There isn't much use in saying anything about "Our New Minister" nowadays—it's many merits are so well known—save to advise everybody to go and see it.

here tonight and he will undoubtedly attempt to read these members out of his party. Eight Republicans voted against the curative amendment. The Guerin amendment is very similar to the Hosea amendment, which was inserted in the code bill passed by the senate Tuesday afternoon, and it will be the duty of the conference committee to decide which one shall be adopted.

The action of the senate in re-incorporating the Beal act in the code Tuesday, Special Counsel Smith Bennett, of the attorney general's office, says neither strengthens nor weakens the law, giving no advantage to either the anti saloon people or the liquor interests.

Attorney Wayne B. Wheeler, of the Anti-Saloon league, stated today that it was true that the league was preparing to held a local option election in East Liverpool.

The LaBelle iron works, organized under the laws of West Virginia, capital $5,000,000, qualified to engage in business in Ohio, with headquarters at Steubenville. J. E. Wright, Steubenville, is president. The company has mammoth plants at Steubenville and Mingo.

Senator Connell has receiver a big stack of letter from ministers throughout his district, asking that nothing be put in the code which will interfere with the operation of the Beal local option law. Similar letters are pouring in from all over the state. It is not likely that anything will be done which will impair the effect of the act.

Attorney General Sheets said today that he had not examined the act under which registration was given East Liverpool and so could not say whether it was constitutional. The recent decision of the supreme court, he stated, made no reference to the registration laws, and as the East Liverpool act has not been questioned he advises that it be observed. He said that it is tacitly understood that the supreme court will not pass upon any of the election laws until the general assembly has had an opportunity to correct them. The next general assembly will undertake this task.

The Oakland Grove Free Methodist church, of East Liverpool, has been incorporated by Grant Funk, John R. Stewart, William Blankinship, Alex G. Chafin and Robert Kelly.

Win Mercer, the crack East Liverpool pitcher, who is with the Detroit team, is a member of Lajoie's All American Stars, who are playing the Columbus team in this city this afternoon.

STAGE COACH HELD UP.

Wild West Robbery Committed Near Goshen, N. Y.

Middletown, N. Y., Oct. 1.—The stage coach "Pioneer," which makes daily trips between Warwick and Goshen, was held up and robbed by three masked horsemen late yesterday afternoon at a lonely spot on the road. Clinton and Horatio S. Wisner, who own the coach, and were on it, saw the men on horses suddenly emerge from the dense woods which line the highway. Clinton was driving. The robbers ordered him to pull up his horses. This he refused to do, and the highwaymen opened fire with revolvers. None of the shots took effect, but the shooting caused the whip to bring his horses to a stop.

Inside the coach were Mrs. J. A. Chamberlain, Mrs. Fred Webster, Mrs. James Fuller Mrs. Hart, Mrs. Ed Johnson, all of Florida, N. Y. While two of the highwaymen covered the Wisner brothers with their revolvers the third, using many threats, compelled the passengers to give up all their money and valuables.

After the robbery had been completed the robbers spurred their horses and escaped.

Posses of armed men were formed and at once started a search for the highwaymen.

They were wealthy manufacturers of Tidiout, Pa., and several thousand dollars had been spent by relatives in the effort to find the bodies.

"Last year from continued strain in literary work I became very much exhausted, my nerves seemed to give way, and I had backache, headache and serious indigestion.

"One of my friends suggested that I try Peruna. It certainly acted like magic on my system.

"Within ten days I felt new life and health given me; and by taking an occasional dose off and on when I feel extra tired, I keep my system in perfect order."---MISS A. BRADY.

Mrs. Fanny Klavadatscher, of Summitsville, N. Y., writes as follows:

"For three months I suffered with pain in the back and in the region of the kidneys, and a dull pressing sensation in the abdomen, and other symptoms of pelvic catarrh.

"But after taking two bottles of Peruna I am entirely well, better than I ever was."—Mrs. Fanny Klavadatscher.

Considering the interest taken in politics in East Liverpool, the ignorance of those who write upon the subject is something surprising. Scarcely a day passes that some newspaper reference is not made to "Judge Kennedy, of Youngstown, the Republican candidate for congress." Every person who can read ought to be well aware that Judge James B. Kennedy is not the candidate for congress. That honor has fallen to his cousin, Attorney James Kennedy, who, though well qualified to be a judge, has never held that position. The mistake is natural, though a person who assumes to enlighten the public on political matters ought not to make it. But what excuse is there for the statement that "Thomas J. Duffy, of this city, will be the candidate for the nomination for congress on the Labor ticket?" Mr. Duffy received the nomination on the Labor ticket August 23. The newspaper writer who is not aware of that fact ought to read up on local history or else be given some assignment where his stock of misinformation would not be paraded so conspicuously.

Attorney General Elkin, of Pennsylvania, said in a recent speech: "Any falling off of Republican majorities this year will be a notice to the public that distrust has arisen in relation to laws favored and policies formulated by the Republican administration." This statement is as applicable to Ohio as to Pennsylvania. There will be no falling off if every Republican does his duty. The people are busy, but they should never get too busy to vote, especially at an election the results of which are fraught with so much importance as this year.

Senators Hoar and Hale are old-time Republicans, who know the benefits which the protective system have brought to the country. They are against all tariff tinkering. This is the view of the masses of the Republican party. It is the view, too, of all the Republican leaders of any consequence, from President Roosevelt down. Business men may rest assured that nothing will be permitted by the Republican party which will have a tendency to check the present prosperity.

The tributes of praise and esteem showered on Rev. Dr. Clark Crawford are all deserved. He has been a conscientious and faithful pastor and a strenuous worker for the cause of Christ, and East Liverpool will hold his name and his work in grateful remembrance.

The Democrats who have been reading Secretary Root out of the cabinet are to be disappointed. He will remain where he is. The president has a strong cabinet, and the war secretary is among the ablest of its members

A Bombay prince has left $5,000,000 as a fund for persons deprived of subsistence by sudden calamity in any part of the world. Even Asia can give a lesson in the broad philanthropic tendencies of the age.

A few loads of buckshot, well directed, would do more to discourage the activity of burglars and footpads in this city than all the arrests that have been made or are likely to be made.

The president will gladly settle the coal strike if those who are insisting that he do so will show him how. It now is up to the petitioners to produce their solution of the problem.

Eighty marriage licenses issued in Columbiana county last month is another evidence of prosperity.

Perry says it would cost $200,000 to discover the north pole. The game is not worth the candle.

AT THE THEATER

Costumes play a great part in the modern stage production. The average woman today looks to the stage for the latest mode. This important accessory has been used to the greatest advantage in the new revival in "East Lynne." Miss Warren has always had the reputation of being one of the best gowned women on the stage, and for this her first starring season her gowns, Parisian creations, will certainly make a sensation. Miss Warren is a coming woman in the dramatic race today, and those who see her at the Grand opera house on Saturday afternoon and evening will certainly be delighted.

Idah McGlone Gibson, who gives the talk on the stage at the opera house tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 is well known in the newspaper fraternity as "Mae." Mrs. Gibson's talk is not a cut and dried lecture but a series of stories, funny and pathetic, and those who have heard her, say that she is most entertaining. She has a number of pictures of the great people of the stage, Booth, Modjestica, Sol Smith Russell, Herne, who wrote Shore Acres, and others, and she tells personal reminiscenses of the people who have given them to her. The lecture is absolutely free and will doubtless be most entertaining. An attractive souvenir will be presented to every lady attending.

"The Prisoner of Zenda" was presented to a packed house at the Grand last evening. The play was well staged, but there was one drawback about the production, and this fact is to be regretted. Some of the players were not thoroughly acquainted with their parts, one or two of the cast appearing either to forget their lines or the way they should act. With a few weeks of rehearsal these things will be eliminated. Thomas B. Alexander and Eloise Elliston acted well their parts, and the performance as a whole was of more than average merit.

Butter making is quite an industry in Indiana. In order to faithfully reproduce one of the principal scenes a trained dog is introduced in "Indiana Folks." His duty consists of propelling the tread mill which agitates the churn. From two to four pounds of strictly fresh butter are churned by Snip, the cocker spaniel dog used in the play. The product of his labor is eaten on the bread used in the realistic dinner scene in the first act. This is only one of may natural features in this beautiful Indiana romance which comes to the Grand tonight, October 1.

Denman Thompson and Geo. W. Ryer's, best of all rural plays, "Our New Minister," more popular now than ever, and brighter and more attractive than before because of its new massive scenic environment, will make its annual visit to the Grand on Friday evening. There isn't much use in saying anything about "Our New Minister" nowadays—it's many merits are so well known—save to advise everybody to go and see it.

here tonight and he will undoubtedly attempt to read these members out of his party. Eight Republicans voted against the curative amendment. The Guerin amendment is very similar to the Hosea amendment, which was inserted in the code bill passed by the senate Tuesday afternoon, and it will be the duty of the conference committee to decide which one shall be adopted.

The action of the senate in re-incorporating the Beal act in the code Tuesday, Special Counsel Smith Bennett, of the attorney general's office, says neither strengthens nor weakens the law, giving no advantage to either the anti saloon people or the liquor interests.

Attorney Wayne B. Wheeler, of the Anti-Saloon league, stated today that it was true that the league was preparing to held a local option election in East Liverpool.

The LaBelle iron works, organized under the laws of West Virginia, capital $5,000,000, qualified to engage in business in Ohio, with headquarters at Steubenville. J. E. Wright, Steubenville, is president. The company has mammoth plants at Steubenville and Mingo.

Senator Connell has receiver a big stack of letter from ministers throughout his district, asking that nothing be put in the code which will interfere with the operation of the Beal local option law. Similar letters are pouring in from all over the state. It is not likely that anything will be done which will impair the effect of the act.

Attorney General Sheets said today that he had not examined the act under which registration was given East Liverpool and so could not say whether it was constitutional. The recent decision of the supreme court, he stated, made no reference to the registration laws, and as the East Liverpool act has not been questioned he advises that it be observed. He said that it is tacitly understood that the supreme court will not pass upon any of the election laws until the general assembly has had an opportunity to correct them. The next general assembly will undertake this task.

The Oakland Grove Free Methodist church, of East Liverpool, has been incorporated by Grant Funk, John R. Stewart, William Blankinship, Alex G. Chafin and Robert Kelly.

Win Mercer, the crack East Liverpool pitcher, who is with the Detroit team, is a member of Lajoie's All American Stars, who are playing the Columbus team in this city this afternoon.

Wild West Robbery Committed Near Goshen, N. Y.

Middletown, N. Y., Oct. 1.—The stage coach "Pioneer," which makes daily trips between Warwick and Goshen, was held up and robbed by three masked horsemen late yesterday afternoon at a lonely spot on the road. Clinton and Horatio S. Wisner, who own the coach, and were on it, saw the men on horses suddenly emerge from the dense woods which line the highway. Clinton was driving. The robbers ordered him to pull up his horses. This he refused to do, and the highwaymen opened fire with revolvers. None of the shots took effect, but the shooting caused the whip to bring his horses to a stop.

DISCUSSED SALE OF WATER WORKS

THE LOSSES TO THE CITY

Under the Present System Called Forth Considerable Comment. Combination Light And Water Plant Advocated.

A special meeting of Wellsville council was called last evening for the purpose of consulting with the water works trustees relative to the sale of the present water works system.

It will be remembered that on last Friday evening, at a special meeting of council, Manager Healy, of the East Liverpool Railway company, stated thtat he had a proposition to make concerning the purchase of the local water works system and the establishing of a gravity system.

After a long discussion of the topic last evening a resolution was finally drawn up and passed asking Mr. Healy to submit his proposition to council. The idea, it seems, is merely to ascertain the value of the local plant, as the sentiment of nearly all of council is against the selling of it.

A suggestion was made by one of the councilmen last evening that a combination municipal electric light and water works plant would be a good scheme. In talking over the subject, President A. S. Rogers, of the water works trustees, said: "In my judgment $30,000 would be sufficient money to equip the new city water works plant with power to furnish this city with electric light." At the present there are 59 electric arc lights in the city, none of which have proven entirely satisfactory. Councilman Brennan stated last evening that 35 more were needed at different places in the city.

Continuing Mr. Rogers said: "I understand that the lease between the electric light company and the city will expire within 18 or 20 months. It is best to consider this matter and be prepared to furnish the city with light when this time comes."

Getting back to the water works subject, President Whitacre, of council, asked Supt. Perkins, of the water works, whether the expense of keeping up the present water works was more than the receipts or not. Supt. Perkins stated that at the present time the water works are running into debt every year to the amount of between $3,000 and $4,000. The water works have never paid the interest on its bonded indebtedness and the trustees say that it never will.

Mr. Whitacre said that he did not believe that any municipality would hold onto a thing of this kind, knowing that it is sinking money every year, when it can be sold on a good proposition.

The running expenses of the water works at the present time amounted to about $9,000 each year, the total expenses about $14,000 and the total receipts between $10,000 and $12,000.

The subject of disposing of the water works was discussed for som time, but no definite action was taken other than that mentioned before in this article, namely the passing of the resolution asking Healy to submit his proposition.

A communication was read which was received a few days ago by Supt. Perkins, and which is from the Robert W. Hunt company, who are the water works trustees' consulting engineers. It stated that they had received a favorable communication from Congressman Tayler to the effect that he would do all within his power to have the government dam placed at the lower end of the city. He said that he would use all of his influence with the war department to bring this about.

The action of the finance committee in selling the bonds recently to Lamprecht Bros., Cleveland stock brokers, they being the highest bidders, was confirmed last evening by council.

Rinehart Bros., the East Liverpool contractors, were awarded the contract to repair the torn up paving on Third street. They were urged to do the work as soon as possible, as the street is in a very bad condition.

Councilman McLain brought up the matter of improving the culvert by putting in a small piece of sewer at the intersection of Bunting's run and Steubenville street, in the West End. Councilman Shoub moved that the matter be placed in the hands of the improvement committee with power to act. The motion was carried.

A motion was made and carried that the present grade on Clark avenue, which there was some talk of changing for the convenience of the street railway company, will remain as it is.

After a short talk upon the old subject of erecting a city tool house for the shelter of the street sweeper and sprinkler, in which there was no action taken, council adjourned.

HEALTH BOARD MEETING

Discussion of Smallpox Cases Occupies Much of the Members' Time.

The regular meeting of the board of health was held last evening in Mayor Fogo's private office, at which time only four members were present.

Previous to the meeting Dr. Tarr reported to the members of the board that the smallpox cases have not yet reached their worst stage, but that just at the present time they are getting along nicely. He said that three places were being guarded, while there are six different houses in the city that are under quarantine.

After the meeting had been called to order by Vice President Ashley, the regular bills were read, accepted and ordered paid.

Dr. Tarr's report for the month of August was read and accepted. It is as follows: Births, 17; deaths, 9; burial permits, 10; transits, 3; bodies received from other places, 4; contagious diseases, none.

The rules and regulations for the care and prevention of smallpox cases issued by the state board of health was read at the last evening session. Dr. Tarr will follow them as closely as possible in the cases which he now has on his hands.

After the discussion of a few minor matters and a talk over the smallpox situation the board adjourned. They will meet again on next Monday evenin at which time they will order all of the smallpox bills paid up to the time of meeting.

The wedding of Rev. Raymond Harold Edwards, late rector of the Church of the Ascension, to Miss Ida Irene Riggs was solemnized at high noon today at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. James H. Riggs, of Front street.

The ceremony was performed by Bishop Cortlandt Whitehead, of Pittsburg. The bride was gowned in white grenadine, over white silk entraine trimmed with Duchesse lace, with pearl trimming. She carried bride's roses. The ceremony was performed in the drawing room of the bride's home, which was decorated with palms and pink and white asters. Only the immediate relatives and a few of the neighboring clergy were present. After receiving the congratulations of the guests, the company repaired to the dining room, where an elaborate wedding breakfast was served.

The dining room was beautifully decorated in red. Red roses were used in profusion on the tables and other rew flowers were scattered about the room.

A BURGLAR AT WORK

An Officer Saw Him, But Has Not Yet Been Able to Find Him.

Officer Howard Davis, who early yesterday morning interrupted a burglar, in the act of gaining an entrance to the rear of Julius Goetz's clothing store on Main street, between Fourth and Fifth streets, has as yet been unable to find the man whom he saw in the act.

The burglar had been at his work for some time and had succeeded partially in gaining an entrance, when Davis first came into view down the alley. The man heard the officer coming and immediately dropped his tools and ran up the alley. Davis heard him, but could not see him on account of the darkness and dense fog. He shot in the same direction several times, but evidently did not hit his man.

It is thought that the work was done by local talent and that they will be caught in a few days. Davis will have nothing to say regarding the matter and declines to be interviewed. It is thought that he has his man located and is now hunting for evidence to convict.

Water Trustees Meeting.

The water works trustees held their regular business meeting last evening in the water works office, at which time only routine business was transacted. After this meeting they adjourned to the council chamber, where they met with council and discussed the water works proposition made by Manager L. W. Healy, of the East Liverpool Railway company, an account of which appears elsewhere.

Arrested Trio Released.

The two young ladies and the young man, Otto Henshaw, who were arrested yesterday by Chief Thorn, while alighting from the early train on a message from Charleston, W. Va., have been released. POPE-GRACE WEDDING

Popular Young Lady of This City Wedded to a Steubenville Man.

Prominent in the social circles of this city was the wedding of Miss Anna Pope and Mr. Frank Sterling Grace, of Steubenville, which occurred today. The drawing room of the Pope residence on Sheridan avenue was tastefully decorated in palms and other tropical plants. Pink and white were in evidence throughout the decorations.

Promptly at 3 o'clock Miss Sarah Dickey played Mendelssohn's wedding march and the bridal party entered the drawing room led by Rev. J. C. Taggart. Following Dr. Taggart came the best man, J. Easton McGowan, of Steubenville, and the maid of honor, Miss Margaret Pope, a sister of the bride. The maid of honor was attired in a pretty gown of pink satin mousseline. Then the bride entered upon the arm of her father, Mr. I. Bentley Pope. Her gown was a becoming creation of white organdie over white taffeta silk.

When the bridal party took their places in front of the mantel, which was banked with flowers, Rev. Mr. Taggart proceeded with the marriage ceremony, after which an elaborate breakfast was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Grace left this evening for an extended trip to Cleveland and Detroit, after which they will be at home to their friends in Steubenville.

Of Y. M. C. A. Membership Determined Upon at Directors' Meeting.

The Y. M. C. T. board of directors at the meeting last evening discussed a proposed change in the classification of the members. Heretofore the members have been divided into the following classes: Juniors, those under 15 years of age; intermediates, between the ages of 15 and 18; seniors, all over 18. A new class was formed of members under 12 years of age, whose work will be confined strictly to the gymnasium.

The junior class will be composed of members from 12 to 16 years of age; the intermediate, 16 to 18; the senior, 18 and over. Those of the intermediate class at present, who are under age, according to the new rule, and whose tickets expire before the first of December, will be allowed to continue in their present class, otherwise the new rule will go into effect at once.

Our store will be closed tomorrow on account of a holiday. 232-h

MANY VICTIMS OF CHOLERA.

Plague Worse In Iloilo Than Other Provinces.

Manila, Oct. 1.—It is announced that 5,124 cases of cholera and 2,746 deaths from that disease were reported in the province of Iloilo, island of Panay, on Monday. This is the highest record for any district since the outbreak occurred and exceeds the total of Manila and many of the provinces since the commencement. The town of Miago, in the province of Iloilo, was the worst sufferer, 1,173 cases being reported there Monday. At Cabatuan there were 939 cases and at Dumangas 395 cases were reported Monday. The people are fleeing to the mountains, leaving the dead unburied and the dying uncared for.

The government has ordered additional doctors and medicines to be sent to Iloilo. The number of victims makes ordinary sanitary measures impossible.

The totals for all the provinces, Monday, were 5,390 cases and 3,09[illegible] deaths.

ANOTHER BIG CONTRACT.

Westinghouse Will Erect $2,500,000 Plant at Glasgow, Scotland.

London, Oct. 1.—The British Westinghouse Electric company has been awarded the contract for the erection and complete equipment of the proposed plant of the Clyde Valley Power company at Glasgow, Scotland, at a cost of approximately $2,500,000. The plant will be the largest of its kind in the United Kingdom and the British are wild with joy at capturing for a British firm a contract which the largest electrical companies in the United States have struggled desperately for for months. The importance of the British Westinghouse company and the part that it promises to play in the coming revolution of English traction roads is just beginning to dawn upon the English people and they are jubilant as a result.

WELLSVILLE

Wellsville Council Voted to Hear the Proposition of Manager L. W. Healy.

A special meeting of Wellsville council was called last evening for the purpose of consulting with the water works trustees relative to the sale of the present water works system.

It will be remembered that on last Friday evening, at a special meeting of council, Manager Healy, of the East Liverpool Railway company, stated thtat he had a proposition to make concerning the purchase of the local water works system and the establishing of a gravity system.

After a long discussion of the topic last evening a resolution was finally drawn up and passed asking Mr. Healy to submit his proposition to council. The idea, it seems, is merely to ascertain the value of the local plant, as the sentiment of nearly all of council is against the selling of it.

A suggestion was made by one of the councilmen last evening that a combination municipal electric light and water works plant would be a good scheme. In talking over the subject, President A. S. Rogers, of the water works trustees, said: "In my judgment $30,000 would be sufficient money to equip the new city water works plant with power to furnish this city with electric light." At the present there are 59 electric arc lights in the city, none of which have proven entirely satisfactory. Councilman Brennan stated last evening that 35 more were needed at different places in the city.

Continuing Mr. Rogers said: "I understand that the lease between the electric light company and the city will expire within 18 or 20 months. It is best to consider this matter and be prepared to furnish the city with light when this time comes."

Getting back to the water works subject, President Whitacre, of council, asked Supt. Perkins, of the water works, whether the expense of keeping up the present water works was more than the receipts or not. Supt. Perkins stated that at the present time the water works are running into debt every year to the amount of between $3,000 and $4,000. The water works have never paid the interest on its bonded indebtedness and the trustees say that it never will.

Mr. Whitacre said that he did not believe that any municipality would hold onto a thing of this kind, knowing that it is sinking money every year, when it can be sold on a good proposition.

The running expenses of the water works at the present time amounted to about $9,000 each year, the total expenses about $14,000 and the total receipts between $10,000 and $12,000.

The subject of disposing of the water works was discussed for som time, but no definite action was taken other than that mentioned before in this article, namely the passing of the resolution asking Healy to submit his proposition.

A communication was read which was received a few days ago by Supt. Perkins, and which is from the Robert W. Hunt company, who are the water works trustees' consulting engineers. It stated that they had received a favorable communication from Congressman Tayler to the effect that he would do all within his power to have the government dam placed at the lower end of the city. He said that he would use all of his influence with the war department to bring this about.

The action of the finance committee in selling the bonds recently to Lamprecht Bros., Cleveland stock brokers, they being the highest bidders, was confirmed last evening by council.

Rinehart Bros., the East Liverpool contractors, were awarded the contract to repair the torn up paving on Third street. They were urged to do the work as soon as possible, as the street is in a very bad condition.

Councilman McLain brought up the matter of improving the culvert by putting in a small piece of sewer at the intersection of Bunting's run and Steubenville street, in the West End. Councilman Shoub moved that the matter be placed in the hands of the improvement committee with power to act. The motion was carried.

A motion was made and carried that the present grade on Clark avenue, which there was some talk of changing for the convenience of the street railway company, will remain as it is.

After a short talk upon the old subject of erecting a city tool house for the shelter of the street sweeper and sprinkler, in which there was no action taken, council adjourned.

HEALTH BOARD MEETING

The regular meeting of the board of health was held last evening in Mayor Fogo's private office, at which time only four members were present.

Previous to the meeting Dr. Tarr reported to the members of the board that the smallpox cases have not yet reached their worst stage, but that just at the present time they are getting along nicely. He said that three places were being guarded, while there are six different houses in the city that are under quarantine.

After the meeting had been called to order by Vice President Ashley, the regular bills were read, accepted and ordered paid.

Dr. Tarr's report for the month of August was read and accepted. It is as follows: Births, 17; deaths, 9; burial permits, 10; transits, 3; bodies received from other places, 4; contagious diseases, none.

The rules and regulations for the care and prevention of smallpox cases issued by the state board of health was read at the last evening session. Dr. Tarr will follow them as closely as possible in the cases which he now has on his hands.

After the discussion of a few minor matters and a talk over the smallpox situation the board adjourned. They will meet again on next Monday evenin at which time they will order all of the smallpox bills paid up to the time of meeting.

RIGGS-EDWARDS

Episcopal Rector And Prominent Wellsville Lady Wedded Today at Noon.

The wedding of Rev. Raymond Harold Edwards, late rector of the Church of the Ascension, to Miss Ida Irene Riggs was solemnized at high noon today at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. James H. Riggs, of Front street.

The ceremony was performed by Bishop Cortlandt Whitehead, of Pittsburg. The bride was gowned in white grenadine, over white silk entraine trimmed with Duchesse lace, with pearl trimming. She carried bride's roses. The ceremony was performed in the drawing room of the bride's home, which was decorated with palms and pink and white asters. Only the immediate relatives and a few of the neighboring clergy were present. After receiving the congratulations of the guests, the company repaired to the dining room, where an elaborate wedding breakfast was served.

The dining room was beautifully decorated in red. Red roses were used in profusion on the tables and other rew flowers were scattered about the room.

A BURGLAR AT WORK

An Officer Saw Him, But Has Not Yet Been Able to Find Him.

Officer Howard Davis, who early yesterday morning interrupted a burglar, in the act of gaining an entrance to the rear of Julius Goetz's clothing store on Main street, between Fourth and Fifth streets, has as yet been unable to find the man whom he saw in the act.

The burglar had been at his work for some time and had succeeded partially in gaining an entrance, when Davis first came into view down the alley. The man heard the officer coming and immediately dropped his tools and ran up the alley. Davis heard him, but could not see him on account of the darkness and dense fog. He shot in the same direction several times, but evidently did not hit his man.

It is thought that the work was done by local talent and that they will be caught in a few days. Davis will have nothing to say regarding the matter and declines to be interviewed. It is thought that he has his man located and is now hunting for evidence to convict.

Water Trustees Meeting.

The water works trustees held their regular business meeting last evening in the water works office, at which time only routine business was transacted. After this meeting they adjourned to the council chamber, where they met with council and discussed the water works proposition made by Manager L. W. Healy, of the East Liverpool Railway company, an account of which appears elsewhere.

Additional Fee Charged.

Placards are being scattered around different business places in the town which state that by a resolution passed at a meeting of the Ohio Fire Underwriters' association, agents are required to make a charge of a policy fee of one dollar each on all term policies and 50 cents each on all endorsements, to take effect on and after October 1.

The Bumble Bee club was entertained at the home of Miss May Rayl, on Front street, yesterday afternoon. Those present were Misses Grace McGregor, Grace Parke, Edith Mannist, Margaret Lindsay, Mary Bruner, Bessie McLean and May Rayl. A light lunch was served late in the afternoon and was enjoyed by all.

Arrested Trio Released.

The two young ladies and the young man, Otto Henshaw, who were arrested yesterday by Chief Thorn, while alighting from the early train on a message from Charleston, W. Va., have been released. It is thought by the authorities here that an elopement is the cause of the trouble, although nothing definite can be learned.

Only Smokestack Damaged.

C. & P. passenger train No. 319, which runs over the Fort Wayne road from Rochester to Alliance, ran into the rear end of the C. & P. passenger train No. 335 yesterday morning at Ravenna while rounding a curve at a low rate of speed. Only a smokestack was damaged.

POPE-GRACE WEDDING

Popular Young Lady of This City Wedded to a Steubenville Man.

Prominent in the social circles of this city was the wedding of Miss Anna Pope and Mr. Frank Sterling Grace, of Steubenville, which occurred today. The drawing room of the Pope residence on Sheridan avenue was tastefully decorated in palms and other tropical plants. Pink and white were in evidence throughout the decorations.

Promptly at 3 o'clock Miss Sarah Dickey played Mendelssohn's wedding march and the bridal party entered the drawing room led by Rev. J. C. Taggart. Following Dr. Taggart came the best man, J. Easton McGowan, of Steubenville, and the maid of honor, Miss Margaret Pope, a sister of the bride. The maid of honor was attired in a pretty gown of pink satin mousseline. Then the bride entered upon the arm of her father, Mr. I. Bentley Pope. Her gown was a becoming creation of white organdie over white taffeta silk.

When the bridal party took their places in front of the mantel, which was banked with flowers, Rev. Mr. Taggart proceeded with the marriage ceremony, after which an elaborate breakfast was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Grace left this evening for an extended trip to Cleveland and Detroit, after which they will be at home to their friends in Steubenville.

PRESIDENT WISHES TO SETTLE STRIKE

CONFERENCE BEING HELD TODAY.

Two Were Held Yesterday, and It Was Decided the Government Could Not Interfere at Present—Secretary Root, After Seeing New York Business Men, Yesterday, Joined the Conference Today.

Washington, Oct. 1.—The President yesterday took iniative steps to ascertain what if anything could be done by Federal authority to settle oo kyc mfwmemig soienxe dnth thes the coal strike. The result was a rather general expression of opinion by the advisors of the President, who were parties to yesterday's conference, to the effect that the Federal laws and constitutiondid not afford means of Federal interference to end the strike, but another conference was held today and the President will do all he properly and legally can to bring about a settlement. At the temporary White House, yesterday, a conference was held with three cabinet officers, Attorney General Knox Secretary Moody and Postmaster General Payne.

Governor Crain, of Massachusetts, was also present. The gentlemen met with President Roosevelt first, and after the subject had been considered for some time they adjourned to another room and conferred together for an hour. They all returned later in the day and held another conference with the president and the strike situation was discussed further. The approach of winter, with a coal famine imminent, and the distress and suffering that must ensue unless coal becomes available, presents a situation which he thinks should receive the attention of the administration, if there is anything that can be done by the government. Many appeals have been made to him and many suggestions have been received by him, and it was with a view to ascertaining what power the federal authority could evoke that caused the conference to be held.

Don't Warrant Federal Interference.

During the conference every phase of the situation was discussed. The general opinion of the advisers of the President was that the situation did not present a case in which there could be Federal interference by any warrant of law. There has been no interference with Federal authority in the anthracite region, either by stoppage of the mails or resistance of the United States court press. It was pointed out that there was no occasion for the use of Federdal troops as Governor Stone, of Pennsylvania, had not called on the government for assistance, nor had he even exhausted the resources of the state by calling out the full strength of the state militia. The question of the right to seek the appoinment of receivers for the mines, in order that they might be operated, was discussed, but neither in the constitution nor in any known law could any legal warrant be found for such action, though the discussion on such lines even went so far as the consideration of how the properties could be relinquished and control surrendered, after the object of supplying coal had been accepted, assuming the Federal government could intervene through receivers. The tenor of the whole discussion was to the effect that there was a lack of power in the Federal administration to take any action at the present stage of the strike, although the seriousness of the coal famine now and the much greater evils soon to follow, were considered at length and with a wish to discover some method of ending the industrial deadlock.

Governor Crane's presence naturally brought into prominence the proceedings brought in the Massachusetts court to secure the appointment of receivers for the coal properties, but the opinion was expressed that the situation could not be met successfully by this method.

Might Hamper a Settlement.

During the day advices were received that the strike might be settled by the miners and operators themselves, and it was suggested that hasty interference by the Federal government might prevent the consummation of the plans for a strike settlement, if any such were maturing. While recognizing the futility of efforts to end the strike that would accomplish nothing, it was stated that the President was anxious that the end of the strike should be brought about at the earliest possible moment and that, if the attorney general or any other member of the cabinet could devise a method, by which the President could proceed, that he would not hesitate to adopt it, unless meanwhile assurances of a settlement were received. After yesterday's meeting, Governor Crane left for Massachusetts.

The conference was resumed today, Secretary Root, who spent yesterday in New York, being present. It was understood last night that the visit of Secretary Root to New York was for the purpose of consulting prominent business men on the subject. The Secretary left for New York Monday after a short conference at the White House, when the same men were present, who were at yesterday's conference. It has been intimated that the President may send for the managers of the coal properties, but this will not be done until after the end of the conference today, and perhaps not then.

Root Refused to Talk.

Some confidence was expressed last night over the report Secretary Root may have brought from New York though it could not be learned what communication, if any, had been received from the Secretary while he was in New York. He reached Washington from there about 10 oclock last night, but denied himself to newspapermen and others seeking information.

No official statement was made regarding the conference yesterday though an intimation was given that last night some statement might follow the conference today. As heretofore stated, the main fact made apparent yesterday was, that the President will make every effort he can exert properly and lawfully to stop the strike and avert a fuel famine.

JONES CALLS A MEETING.

Toledo Mayor Issues Proclamation Upon Miners' Strike.

Toledo, O., Oct. 1.—Samuel M. Jones, the Golden Rule mayor, yesterday issued a proclamation regarding the miners' strike, in which, after telling of the strike and the outlook, that, with winter coming, thousands will not be able to get coal, he says:

"This state of affairs has moved some of our fellow citizens in Boston to ask the United States courts to appoint a receiver for the various anthracite mining companies and the coal carrying roads that are the direct cause of the trouble through their absolute refusal to submit the question of their differences to arbitration.

"Believing that this matter is one of vital importance and that these Boston citizens should have the benefit of the moral support of all good people everywhere and for the purpose of giving an opportunity to the people of our city to speak en masse on this topic, I, therefore, call upon all patriotic and liberty-loving citizens, to the extent of their ability, to assemble at Memorial hall, on Oct. 2, 1902, for the purpose of passing suitable resolutions to encourage these Boston citizens in the work that they have undertaken, and such other business as may properly come before the meeting."

MANUFACTURERS ACT.

Their President Invites Mitchell to Conference—He Accepts.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 1.—President D. M. Parry, of the National Association of Manufacturers, last night received from President John Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers, a telegram in answer to one sent him asking if the mine workers would be willing to appoint a committee to meet with a committee from the association and discuss a means of ending the coal strike. The message was dated Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 30, and contained the following:

"Shall be pleased to appoint committee to confer with committee of National Association of Manufacturers. Should prefer meeting in the east."

Upon receiving President Mitchell's telegram Mr. Parry sent Mr. Mitchell another telegram containing the following, in part:

"Your committee should represent those in full authority, including yourself. We suggest Buffalo as place of meeting, any day this week you may designate. Advise number of your committee."

CHAMBERLAIN APPROVED GIFT.

Phipps Said He Would Have Given to English, if Suffering.

New York, Oct. 1.—Henry Phipps, of the Carnegie Steel company, who gave $100,000 to the relief fund for destitute Boers, arrived on the steamship Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse yesterday. Mr. Phipps was reluctant to talk about his gift, but said:

"I sent Arthur White, the author, to see Mr. Chamberlain before he decided what to do and the answer came back that the gift would be all right. If the situation had been changed and England had been the suffering country I would have given her the money."

Husband's Shot Proved Fatal.

Greensburg, Pa., Oct. 1.—Mrs. Miller, who was shot by her husband at Jeannette, Friday night, died yesterday morning. Her husband, E. E. Miller, was arrested, and is now in jail. Mr. Miller is a son of David Miller, of the East End, Pittsburg, and a brother of William Miller, late engineer of the Pittsburg water works construction.

RECOVERY IN STOCKS.

The Market Put on Its Feet Again by Secretary Shaw's Action.

MONEY RATE'S DECLINE HELPED.

Also Rumors of Negotiations For a Strike Settlement Aided—White House Conference Rumors Had Effect on the Market.

New York, Oct. 1.—The stock market, which closed utterly demoralized on Monday, as a result of stringent monetary conditions and other unfavorable circumstances, made a sensational recovery, yesterday. The chief causes for the complete reversal were the action of the secretary of the treasury in removing the restraint on bank reserves and persistent reports from various quarters that the coal strike had at last reached the point where negotiations for a settlement were actually under way. For this last rumor there appeared to be little or no foundation, according to the individual and collective statements of the leading operators, made after the regular weekly meeting.

Money Rate Decline Helped.

Another influence for better prices was the decline in call money rates, though during the morning loans were made as high as 19 per cent. A large part of the day's loans was made at around 10 per cent and the rate at the close down to 2, but the rally was nominal, no money being placed at that figure.

Opening prices were better all the way from a fraction to five points. Wide openings, in which blocks of 2,000, 3,900 and 5,000 shares changed hands, were numerous. The greatest gains were in the Standard Railway shares, notably St. Paul, Louisville and Nashville (which bore the brunt of the previous day's pounding), Missouri Pacific, Union Pacific, the coalers and a number of specialties.

On the floor of the stock exchange the greatest excitement and activity prevailed during the first hour. Brokers on the short side were covering with all possible speed and the bull faction was in absolute control. The list manifested a vacillating tendency soon after the first bulge and many of the active stocks whose initial gains had been largest, receded from one to three points.

The opening rate for call money was 12 per cent, but soon advanced to 18, creating general confusion among those committed to higher prices.

White House Conference Rumors.

The more sensational features of the market developed in the early afternoon on news from Washington intimating that the president and his cabinet had taken steps to terminate the coal strike. In spite of the absence of any confirmation the market seized upon this announcement and with the coal stocks in the lead the entire list shot upward. The market developed a buoyant tone in the last hour, though operations were confined largely to the coalers, which were heavily traded in, and closed at practically best prices for the day. The day's operations were in excess of 1,200,000 shares.

Secretary Shaw's visit to the street and his talks with the leading banking interests helped in no small measure to restore confidence. Local banks loaned moderately.

Detroit, Oct. 1.—The telegraphic invitations sent out Wednesday night by Mayor William C. Maybury to governors of a number of states and the mayors of the principal cities in the east, middle west and northwest, asking them to send delegates to participate in a national conference on the coal strike, have met with a great number of acceptances, and the proposed conference bids fair to be a tremendous gathering. Mayor Ashbridge, of Philadelphia, declined, saying he expected a settlement before the conference could act.

PRESIDENT WISHES TO SETTLE STRIKE

CONFERENCE BEING HELD TODAY.

Two Were Held Yesterday, and It Was Decided the Government Could Not Interfere at Present—Secretary Root, After Seeing New York Business Men, Yesterday, Joined the Conference Today.

Washington, Oct. 1.—The President yesterday took iniative steps to ascertain what if anything could be done by Federal authority to settle oo kyc mfwmemig soienxe dnth thes the coal strike. The result was a rather general expression of opinion by the advisors of the President, who were parties to yesterday's conference, to the effect that the Federal laws and constitutiondid not afford means of Federal interference to end the strike, but another conference was held today and the President will do all he properly and legally can to bring about a settlement. At the temporary White House, yesterday, a conference was held with three cabinet officers, Attorney General Knox, Secretary Moody and Postmaster General Payne.

Governor Crain, of Massachusetts, was also present. The gentlemen met with President Roosevelt first, and after the subject had been considered for some time they adjourned to another room and conferred together for an hour. They all returned later in the day and held another conference with the president and the strike situation was discussed further. The approach of winter, with a coal famine imminent, and the distress and suffering that must ensue unless coal becomes available, presents a situation which he thinks should receive the attention of the administration, if there is anything that can be done by the government. Many appeals have been made to him and many suggestions have been received by him, and it was with a view to ascertaining what power the federal authority could evoke that caused the conference to be held.

Don't Warrant Federal Interference.

During the conference every phase of the situation was discussed. The general opinion of the advisers of the President was that the situation did not present a case in which there could be Federal interference by any warrant of law. There has been no interference with Federal authority in the anthracite region, either by stoppage of the mails or resistance of the United States court press. It was pointed out that there was no occasion for the use of Federdai troops as Governor Stone, of Pennsylvania, had not called on the government for assistance, nor had he even exhausted the resources of the state by calling out the full strength of the state militia. The question of the right to seek the appoinment of receivers for the mines, in order that they might be operated, was discussed, but neither in the constitution nor in any known law could any legal warrant be found for such action, though the discussion on such lines even went so far as the consideration of how the properties could be relinquished and control surrendered, after the object of supplying coal had been accepted, assuming the Federal government could intervene through receivers. The tenor of the whole discussion was to the effect that there was a lack of power in the Federal administration to take any action at the present stage of the strike, although the seriousness of the coal famine now and the much greater evils soon to follow, were considered at length and with a wish to discover some method of ending the industrial deadlock.

Governor Crane's presence naturally brought into prominence the proceedings brought in the Massachusetts court to secure the appointment of receivers for the coal properties, but the opinion was expressed that the situation could not be met successfully by this method.

Might Hamper a Settlement.

During the day advices were received that the strike might be settled by the miners and operators themselves, and it was suggested that hasty interference by the Federal government might prevent the consummation of the plans for a strike settlement, if any such were maturing. While recognizing the futility of efforts to end the strike that would accomplish nothing, it was stated that the President was anxious that the end of the strike should be brought about at the earliest possible moment and that, if the attorney general or any other member of the cabinet could devise a method, by which the President could proceed, that he would not hesitate to adopt it, unless meanwhile assurances of a settlement were received. After yesterday's meeting, Governor Crane left for Massachusetts.

The conference was resumed today, Secretary Root, who spent yesterday in New York, being present. It was understood last night that the visit of Secretary Root to New York was for the purpose of consulting prominent business men on the subject. The Secretary left for New York Monday after a short conference at the White House, when the same men were present, who were at yesterday's conference. It has been intimated that the President may send for the managers of the coal properties, but this will not be done until after the end of the conference today, and perhaps not then.

Root Refused to Talk.

Some confidence was expressed last night over the report Secretary Root may have brought from New York though it could not be learned what communication, if any, had been received from the Secretary while he was in New York. He reached Washington from there about 10 oclock last night, but denied himself to newspapermen and others seeking information.

No official statement was made regarding the conference yesterday though an intimation was given that last night some statement might follow the conference today. As heretofore stated, the main fact made apparent yesterday was, that the President will make every effort he can exert properly and lawfully to stop the strike and avert a fuel famine.

JONES CALLS A MEETING.

Toledo Mayor Issues Proclamation Upon Miners' Strike.

Toledo, O., Oct. 1.—Samuel M. Jones, the Golden Rule mayor, yesterday issued a proclamation regarding the miners' strike, in which, after telling of the strike and the outlook, that, with winter coming, thousands will not be able to get coal, he says:

"This state of affairs has moved some of our fellow citizens in Boston to ask the United States courts to appoint a receiver for the various anthracite mining companies and the coal carrying roads that are the direct cause of the trouble through their absolute refusal to submit the question of their differences to arbitration.

"Believing that this matter is one of vital importance and that those Boston citizens should have the benefit of the moral support of all good people everywhere and for the purpose of giving an opportunity to the people of our city to speak en masse on this topic, I, therefore, call upon all patriotic and liberty-loving citizens, to the extent of their ability, to assemble at Memorial hall, on Oct. 2, 1902, for the purpose of passing suitable resolutions to encourage these Boston citizens in the work that they have undertaken, and such other business as may properly come before the meeting."

MANUFACTURERS ACT.

Their President Invites Mitchell to Conference—He Accepts.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 1.—President D. M. Parry, of the National Association of Manufacturers, last night received from President John Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers, a telegram in answer to one sent him asking if the mine workers would be willing to appoint a committee to meet with a committee from the association and discuss a means of ending the coal strike. The message was dated Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 30, and contained the following:

"Shall be pleased to appoint committee to confer with committee of National Association of Manufacturers. Should prefer meeting in the east."

Upon receiving President Mitchell's telegram Mr. Parry sent Mr. Mitchell another telegram containing the following, in part:

"Your committee should represent those in full authority, including yourself. We suggest Buffalo as place of meeting, any day this week you may designate. Advise number of your committee."

CHAMBERLAIN APPROVED GIFT.

Phipps Said He Would Have Given to English, if Suffering.

New York, Oct. 1.—Henry Phipps, of the Carnegie Steel company, who gave $100,000 to the relief fund for destitute Boers, arrived on the steamship Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse yesterday. Mr. Phipps was reluctant to talk about his gift, but said:

"I sent Arthur White, the author, to see Mr. Chamberlain before he decided what to do and the answer came back that the gift would be all right. If the situation had been changed and England had been the suffering country I would have given her the money."

Husband's Shot Proved Fatal.

Greensburg, Pa., Oct. 1.—Mrs. Miller, who was shot by her husband at Jeannette, Friday night, died yesterday morning. Her husband, E. E. Miller, was arrested, and is now in jail. Mr. Miller is a son of David Miller, of the East End, Pittsburg, and a brother of William Miller, late engineer of the Pittsburg water works construction.

MONEY RATE'S DECLINE HELPED.

Also Rumors of Negotiations For a Strike Settlement Aided—White House Conference Rumors Had Effect on the Market.

New York, Oct. 1.—The stock market, which closed utterly demoralized on Monday, as a result of stringent monetary conditions and other unfavorable circumstances, made a sensational recovery, yesterday. The chief causes for the complete reversal were the action of the secretary of the treasury in removing the restraint on bank reserves and persistent reports from various quarters that the coal strike had at last reached the point where negotiations for a settlement were actually under way. For this last rumor there appeared to be little or no foundation, according to the individual and collective statements of the leading operators, made after the regular weekly meeting.

Money Rate Decline Helped.

Another influence for better prices was the decline in call money rates, though during the morning loans were made as high as 19 per cent. A large part of the day's loans was made at around 10 per cent and the rate at the close down to 2, but the rally was nominal, no money being placed at that figure.

Opening prices were better all the way from a fraction to five points. Wide openings, in which blocks of 2,000, 3,900 and 5,000 shares changed hands, were numerous. The greatest gains were in the Standard Railway shares, notably St. Paul, Louisville and Nashville (which bore the brunt of the previous day's pounding), Missouri Pacific, Union Pacific, the coalers and a number of specialties.

The opening rate for call money was 12 per cent, but soon advanced to 18, creating general confusion among those committed to higher prices.

White House Conference Rumors.

In spite of the absence of any confirmation the market seized upon this announcement and with the coal stocks in the lead the entire list shot upward. The market developed a buoyant tone in the last hour, though operations were confined largely to the coalers, which were heavily traded in, and closed at practically best prices for the day. The day's operations were in excess of 1,200,000 shares.

FAREWELL SAID TO DR. CRAWFORD

Impressive and Affecting Scenes at the First M. E. Church Last Night.

FINE PRESENT BESTOWED

On the Late Pastor With Other Tributes of Affection And Esteem—An Excellent Program — Exercises That Will Long Be Rembered.

Never in the history of the First Methodist Episcopal church has there occured a meeting in which so much feeling was manifested and more regret expressed than was witnessed at the farewell reception tendered Dr. and Mrs. Clark Crawford last night. Whn it came to the leave taking at 10 o'clock, there was scarcely a dry eye in the entire assemblage. Dr. Crawford was beloved by his people, and they took no pains to conceal their feelings.

President T. T. McCann, of the Epworth League had charge of the meeting, and a pleasing musical program was given at the beginning of the service. There was a song by the quartet, a vocal solo by Miss Everson, a piano selection by Mrs. Dix, a vocal solo by Mr. Blount, a humorous recitation by Will G. Morris, the congregational singing of "America," vocal solo by M. C. Williams, of Columbus, a vocal duet by Prof. and Mrs. John Phillis, and then another hymn by the congregation.

The affair was held in the Sunday school room of the church which was crowded. When the musical program was over, Rev. George W. Orcutt, pastor of the Erie street M. E. church in the East End, made an introductory address and at the proper time a piece of cloth was drawn from a large object on the platform which revealed a handsome bookcase that was formally presented to Dr. Crawford by his people.

Rev. Mr. Orcutt said: "We sometimes pause but never stop. Methodism goes on. The pastor of this church has never been without an appointment for a single moment and this church has never been without a pastor, yet there are changes which take place.

"The relationship of pastor and people is the most sacred outside of family ties. The four years that have passed will never be forgotten by this church. There have been times of joy and sorrow, words of welcome, the joys of matrimony and sadder scenes when the pastoral relationship has been evident in the deepest trials. A pastor's prayers and presence have brought relief and comfort. There is a special memory for Dr. Crawford to the converts of his ministry that will be deeper than perhaps for any other."

Mr. Orcutt remembered the everlasting image of the bearded preacher who had placed a hand on his head at the mourner's bench. That pastor had never been forgotten although others had come and gone. Think of that multitude of similar experience who love Dr. Crawford. He then asked those present who had been blesed by the present pastor to arise and there were persons who stood up in every portion of the room.

Rev. Mr. Orcutt then said that four years did not seem very long, but he recalled of the 123 honored dead in the M. E. conference the average pastoral service had been 28 years. Four years is 14 per cent. and practically 25 per cent. of Dr. Crawford's life given to East Liverpool people.

"It will go into history."

The speaker then gave a present to the deaconness, Miss Wallace, who is about leaving the city.

Dr. Crawford, with much emotion, stepped in front of the audience. He said that when he came to East Liverool four years ago his thoughts wer i nthe past.

Tonight his thoughts rank with the past in the consideration of a certain work ended. The commissior is now a matter of history. When he left that land of flowers and dropped into the smoke and fog of East Liverpool, he frequently asked his wife, "What is the matter with the sun?" He hoped then that the people were not as dark and gloomy as the atmosphere. Warm hearts were found and they had been found all through the charge.

A pastor of Pasadena, Cal., had said to him, "What will you do if you get into a cold pastorate after five years of revival?" He did not know but what he would get up a revival when he got here, but they had the revival fires burning.

"The object of the ministry is to save men and women. I don't know what to do if I can't get where souls can be brought to Jesus." He had gone into his new charge at Akron with just a little anxiety. He felt that he was going leaning on the arm of Christ with a prayer on his lips that he might be epuipped for any share in the work of that church.

Relations with East Liverpool people had been replete with gratitude and thanksgiving, yet it had been a pastorate of very hard work. Not enough time was taken for rest. Night and day there was labor for this church and the building of the Kingdom. He had sought to do his duty loyally and faithfully, yet he had seen where improvements could have been made. God is gracious and forgiving where faults and failings are not intentional. Compensation is felt for saving so many souls.

Pleasant and delightful have been the associations, Dr. Crawford declaring that he had always been a man of pacific spirit. That had reigned throughout his residence in this city. There had been a beautiful and unbroken fellowship. A debt of thanks is due to the predecessor. No collapse came and the work has been carried forward.

But, tenderest of memories would cluster around this altar and that above where new souls have been born into the Kingdom. His heart will burn as he thinks of these scenes. Two hundred and fifty East Liverpool funerals have been attended by Dr. Crawford. Forty-five of them have been members of the church, not including those that were probationary.

Dr. Crawford spoke at some length concerning his close connection with the flock. He wanted the people to offer their prayerful help to the charge that he was about to undertake. In accepting his gift he said that Mrs. Crawford might offer objections as she frequently interposed a tender remonstrance against his late hours in the library. He valued the love of the membership more than any temporal offering.

The final handshaking was a touching portion of the evening.

Miss Wallace, the deaconness, will leave tomorrow for her home in Iowa, stopping off for a short time in Chicago. Later she expects to go to California to spend the winter in the hope of benefitting her health. Miss Wallaces' departure is deeply regretted, and she is followed by the kindest wishes of a host of friends.

As a rule a man will feel well satisfied if he can hobble around on crutches two or three weeks after spraining his ankle, and it is usually two or three months before he has fully recovered. STRIKERS HOPEFUL.

Peaceful, Because They Anticipated a Settlement With the Operators.

MITCHELL TALKED TO A PERSON,

In New York, Over the Telephone, Last Night—Rumored He Might Go to Gotham Any Time Now—Both Sides Make Claims.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 1.—President Mitchell was still silent last night on his visit to Philadelphia, Monday. He said he is not in a position to speak, but declared that the party he was in conference with did not represent the coal operators. This declaration was considered important, as Mr. Mitchell would not deny that indirectly the persons he represented might be authorized to speak for the coal company. The impression at strike headquarters was that the mysterious man in the case is one of J. P. Morgan's financial agents and that he stands very close to P. A. B. Widener. It was also believed that the party who conferred with the miners' chief got his best terms for a settlement of the strike and that these terms were being discussed by the mine owners. President Mitchell will say nothing until the other side is heard from. He said to the Associated Press last night that he had no statement of any kind to give out. District Presidents Nicholls, Duffy and Fahy were still here. It was thought they were waiting for developments and might be summoned to a council any time.

Strikers Expect a Settlement.

Detachments from the Eighth and Ninth regiments made tours of the Wyoming and part of the Lackawanna regions yesterday, but found no crowds at the mines. The strikers were very peaceful, the feeling being strong among them that the end is near and that no more agitation is needed.

The chief officers of the miners' union went to Nanticoke today to attend the funeral of Joseph Gillis, who was killed by a coal and iron policeman at that place Sunday evening. The officers of the union claim Gillis was deliberately murdered.

District President Nicholls said 44 non-union men employed in the mines at Hyde Park quit work yesterday. He also reported that the Cayuga mine, in the Scranton district, was idle, after being in operation for a long period. President Fahy said many non-union men in his district were also quitting work and joining the miners' union.

Last evening President Mitchell talked over the 'phone with a party in New York. It was rumored that Mr. Mitchell might go to New York at almost any time now.

Shenandoah, Pa., Oct. 1.—Sheriff Knorr, of Columbia county, arrested 127 strikers at Centralia yesterday afternoon. They were charged on the warrants with rioting and inciting to riot.

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 1.—Perfect quiet reigned throughout the Lackawanna region yesterday. Not as much as a single case of stone throwing was reported.

School Children Went on Strike.

Sixty boys from the Boderly school, in Carbondale township, went on strike yesterday because seven children of non-union miners would not be turned out. They then marched with banners and drums to the Mayfield school and induced the boys there to strike. A majority of the pupils at No. 11 school, in this city, struck yesterday morning because coal which was being delivered at the school was reported to be "unfair" or mined by non-union men.

The local headquarters of the mine workers made claims yesterday that many men had quit work at various collieries, but in each instance the company officials denied emphatically that this was true, and made the counter claim that their forces were constantly growing. No colliery or washery has been started up in nearly two weeks, but the 40 places in this region that were operating prior to that time are all in operation.

THIS IS A FACT

There is No Question About it. It's a Plain Statement of Facts—Made By An East Liverpool Citizen.

I asked the invalid to take Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills I got at Larkin's Drug Store. The result was splendid—the medicine built her up—enriched the blood—made the nerves strong—gave restful sleep and so strengthened the stomach that digestion was perfect—the old time languid, played out feeling has given place to one of strength and energy and as a result we are more than pleased with the medicine."

Refused Carnegie Library.

London, Oct. 1.—The committee of the Marylebone borough council has drawn up a report recommending that the council thank Andrew Carnegie for his offer of $150,000 for the establishment of free libraries, "which they cannot see their way to accept." The refusal is based on the objection of the borough to the increased rates which would be entailed by the acceptance of the libraries.

Mines on Mountain Tops.

Nothing in engineering is more romantic or curious than the fashion in which the ordinary conception of a mine as an opening penetrating far below the ordinary level is reversed where inducements offer to climb high above the earth's surface before piercing into it.

There is, for instance, the Eureka gold mine, probably the highest in the world, situated 14,000 feet up in the Andes range, not far from the city of Jujuy, in Argentina. So high is this mine that it is only worked with great difficulty owing to the "mountain sickness" and to similar troubles to which workers at this immense altitude, almost three miles in the air, are subject.

Near Chocaya, in Bolivia, there is the Veta del Cuadro mine, where silver ore is extracted 13,060 feet above sea level, while the same metal is wrought near Peopo, in the Cordilleras, 12,400 feet above tide water. The produce from all these is carried on mule back over tremendous mountain paths to points where it can be placed on rail or be concentrated into more portable form for further transit by wagon to the seaboard.—Stray Stories.

Cool Garden Spots.

A glacier when it dislodges itself and sails away over the Arctic ocean never travels alone. In the wake of every large one floats a line of smaller companions.

The Eskimos call this phenomenon "the duck and ducklings," and any one who has watched the progress of the elder duck followed by her brood will appreciate the aptitude of the name.

Strange as it may seem, plants grow and blossom upon these great ice mountains. When a glacier is at rest, moss attaches itself to it, protecting the ice beneath, just as sawdust does. After a time the moss decays and forms a soil, in which the seeds of buttercups and dandelions, brought by the wind, take root and flourish.

Those who have traveled in arctic lands say they have found no point yet where the poppy does not bloom during the brief northern summer.

Laugh and Live.

Prince Jerome Napoleon was fond of telling the story of his scheme during the Crimean war by which he kept up the spirits of his men. The French army was losing daily large numbers of men through the ravages of the cholera. Marshal Canrobert sent the order to Prince Jerome that he should move his division to Varna. Jerome issued marching orders and added: "Seek out in every regiment all the actors, comedians, clowns, conjurers and entertainers. I will personally arrange a performance and present prizes to the best entertainer." During the whole of the retreat these performances took place for the edification of the division. Prince Jerome is not famous for any remarkable military triumphs, but this one act must at least be put to his credit, for it was undoubtedly due to this method of cheering up his men that his division could boast a death roll at least three times as small as that of any other. These performances were the forerunner of the now famous Zouave theater in the Crimea.

Lacemaking by Hand.

Making lace by hand is a well developed art in Paraguay. It was taught the natives 200 years ago by the missionaries and has been transmitted from generation to generation till it is now quite general throughout the republic. Some towns are devoted to making a certain kind of lace. In one town of 8,000 or 9,000 inhabitants almost all the women and children and many of the men make lace collarettes, handkerchiefs and ladies' ties. Another town makes lace embroidery and others drawn thread work, such as centerpieces, try mates, teacloths and doilies. The designs used in making the lace are taken from the curious webs of the semitropical spiders that are so numerous there. On this account it is called "nanduti," an Indian name which means spider web.

THE RECORD.

What Democracy Has Done About Trusts.

Not a National Statute From That Party.

No Attempt to Execute Existing Statutes—Both Law Making and Law Enforcing Things Left to Republicans—The Record.

Mr. Bryan and other Democratic leaders are appealing to the record of their party against the trusts. It has none.

The first declaration against trusts in a national platform was made by the Republican convention of 1888. A resolution by William McKinley, declaring "opposition to all combinations of capital organized in trusts or otherwise to control arbitrarily the condition of trade," and recommending to "congress and state legislatures in their respective jurisdictions such legislation as will prevent the execution of all schemes to oppress the people by undue charges on their supplies or by unjust rates for the transportation of their products to market," was adopted.

In carrying out that instruction of the Republican party a Republican congress enacted the Sherman anti-trust law of 1890 and five Republican states enacted anti-trust laws between 1889 and 1891. The Sherman anti-trust bill was passed by Republican votes, and was opposed by the Democrats in the senate and house.

In the platforms of 1892 both parties demanded additional legislation against the trusts. The Democrats elected the president and secured control of congress. The president made no specific recommendation, and the congress enacted no anti-trust laws.

In 1896 the Democratic convention demanded the more rigid enforcement of the Sherman law, and additional trust legislation of 1890.

In 1900 the Democratic convention pledged the Democratic party to the enforcement of existing (Republican) laws against the trusts, and to the enactment of more stringent laws. The Republicans elected the president and a majority in congress.

The supreme court havinng decided that "the Sherman act does not affect contracts in restraint of trade unless they interfere directly and substantially with interstate commerce," and that "a state act which imposes limitations upon the power of a corporation created under the laws of another state, to make contracts within the state for carrying on commerce between the states, violates that clause of the constitution which confers upon congress the exclusive right to regulate commerce," the Republicans proposed a constitutional amendment, enlarging the powers of congress to control corporations and to terminate their existence.

The proposition was opposed at every stage by the Democrats. For it 150 Republicans and 4 Democrats voted. Against it were 120 Democrats and 2 Republicans. Two-thirds not having voted in the affirmative, the resolution failed, and the Democrats were responsible for the failure.

To evade this responsibility the Democratic leaders are clamoring for the enforcement of existing (Republican) laws, contending that no additional legislation is necessary. If the Democratic leaders are honest in this they ought to give hearty support to Attorney General Knox in his proceedings against trusts.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Brave Men.

Persians in general are not supposed to be the bravest people in the world, but even in Persia the inhabitants of Kashan, a mercantile city, are notorious for their lack of a warlike spirit.

Their pusillanimity has passed into a proverb and given rise to many stories.

One of the best of these is that when Nadir Shah disbanded his army on its return from India the 30,000 men belonging to Kashan and its sister city of Ispahan applied for an escort of 100 musketeers to see them safely home.

Money to Wipe Out Debt—The Y. M. C. A. directors met last night and discussed association finances. The report received was very encouraging. The association is at present about $5,500 in debt, and the soliciting committee reported that about $3,100 of this amount has been pledged and that several hundred dollars more are in sight. A determined effort will now be made by the soliciting committee to raise enough to wipe out the deficit completely.

Mines on Mountain Tops.

Nothing in engineering is more romantic or curious than the fashion in which the ordinary conception of a mine as an opening penetrating far below the ordinary level is reversed where inducements offer to climb high above the earth's surface before piercing into it.

There is, for instance, the Eureka gold mine, probably the highest in the world, situated 14,000 feet up in the Andes range, not far from the city of Jujuy, in Argentina. So high is this mine that it is only worked with great difficulty owing to the "mountain sickness" and to similar troubles to which workers at this immense altitude, almost three miles in the air, are subject.

Near Chocaya, in Bolivia, there is the Veta del Cuadro mine, where silver ore is extracted 13,060 feet above sea level, while the same metal is wrought near Peopo, in the Cordilleras, 12,400 feet above tide water. The produce from all these is carried on mule back over tremendous mountain paths to points where it can be placed on rail or be concentrated into more portable form for further transit by wagon to the seaboard.—Stray Stories.

Cool Garden Spots.

A glacier when it dislodges itself and sails away over the Arctic ocean never travels alone. In the wake of every large one floats a line of smaller companions.

The Eskimos call this phenomenon "the duck and ducklings," and any one who has watched the progress of the elder duck followed by her brood will appreciate the aptitude of the name.

Strange as it may seem, plants grow and blossom upon these great ice mountains. When a glacier is at rest, moss attaches itself to it, protecting the ice beneath, just as sawdust does. After a time the moss decays and forms a soil, in which the seeds of buttercups and dandelions, brought by the wind, take root and flourish.

Those who have traveled in arctic lands say they have found no point yet where the poppy does not bloom during the brief northern summer.

Laugh and Live.

Prince Jerome Napoleon was fond of telling the story of his scheme during the Crimean war by which he kept up the spirits of his men. The French army was losing daily large numbers of men through the ravages of the cholera. Marshal Canrobert sent the order to Prince Jerome that he should move his division to Varna. Jerome issued marching orders and added: "Seek out in every regiment all the actors, comedians, clowns, conjurers and entertainers. I will personally arrange a performance and present prizes to the best entertainer." During the whole of the retreat these performances took place for the edification of the division. Prince Jerome is not famous for any remarkable military triumphs, but this one act must at least be put to his credit, for it was undoubtedly due to this method of cheering up his men that his division could boast a death roll at least three times as small as that of any other. These performances were the forerunner of the now famous Zouave theater in the Crimea.

Lacemaking by Hand.

Making lace by hand is a well developed art in Paraguay. It was taught the natives 200 years ago by the missionaries and has been transmitted from generation to generation till it is now quite general throughout the republic. Some towns are devoted to making a certain kind of lace. In one town of 8,000 or 9,000 inhabitants almost all the women and children and many of the men make lace collarettes, handkerchiefs and ladies' ties. Another town makes lace embroidery and others drawn thread work, such as centerpieces, try mates, teacloths and doilies. The designs used in making the lace are taken from the curious webs of the semitropical spiders that are so numerous there. On this account it is called "nanduti," an Indian name which means spider web.

THE RECORD.

What Democracy Has Done About Trusts.

Not a National Statute From That Party.

No Attempt to Execute Existing Statutes—Both Law Making and Law Enforcing Things Left to Republicans—The Record.

Mr. Bryan and other Democratic leaders are appealing to the record of their party against the trusts. It has none.

The first declaration against trusts in a national platform was made by the Republican convention of 1888. A resolution by William McKinley, declaring "opposition to all combinations of capital organized in trusts or otherwise to control arbitrarily the condition of trade," and recommending to "congress and state legislatures in their respective jurisdictions such legislation as will prevent the execution of all schemes to oppress the people by undue charges on their supplies or by unjust rates for the transportation of their products to market," was adopted.

In carrying out that instruction of the Republican party a Republican congress enacted the Sherman anti-trust law of 1890 and five Republican states enacted anti-trust laws between 1889 and 1891. The Sherman anti-trust bill was passed by Republican votes, and was opposed by the Democrats in the senate and house.

In the platforms of 1892 both parties demanded additional legislation against the trusts. The Democrats elected the president and secured control of congress. The president made no specific recommendation, and the congress enacted no anti-trust laws.

In 1896 the Democratic convention demanded the more rigid enforcement of the Sherman law, and additional trust legislation of 1890.

In 1900 the Democratic convention pledged the Democratic party to the enforcement of existing (Republican) laws against the trusts, and to the enactment of more stringent laws. The Republicans elected the president and a majority in congress.

The supreme court havinng decided that "the Sherman act does not affect contracts in restraint of trade unless they interfere directly and substantially with interstate commerce," and that "a state act which imposes limitations upon the power of a corporation created under the laws of another state, to make contracts within the state for carrying on commerce between the states, violates that clause of the constitution which confers upon congress the exclusive right to regulate commerce," the Republicans proposed a constitutional amendment, enlarging the powers of congress to control corporations and to terminate their existence.

The proposition was opposed at every stage by the Democrats. For it 150 Republicans and 4 Democrats voted. Against it were 120 Democrats and 2 Republicans. Two-thirds not having voted in the affirmative, the resolution failed, and the Democrats were responsible for the failure.

To evade this responsibility the Democratic leaders are clamoring for the enforcement of existing (Republican) laws, contending that no additional legislation is necessary. If the Democratic leaders are honest in this they ought to give hearty support to Attorney General Knox in his proceedings against trusts.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Brave Men.

Persians in general are not supposed to be the bravest people in the world, but even in Persia the inhabitants of Kashan, a mercantile city, are notorious for their lack of a warlike spirit.

Their pusillanimity has passed into a proverb and given rise to many stories.

One of the best of these is that when Nadir Shah disbanded his army on its return from India the 30,000 men belonging to Kashan and its sister city of Ispahan applied for an escort of 100 musketeers to see them safely home.

LEAP FROM ELEVATOR CAUSES FATAL HURT TO A YOUNG GIRL

Nannie Bucey, an employe of the decalcomania department of the K. T. & K. pottery, was fatally injured a few minutes after 12 o'clock today.

The girl, who is but 14 years of age, is employed as a decalcomaniia worker at the Walnut street decorating shop of the firm, and with 50 others has been very fond of riding on the elevator which passes through the department, and which is used to convey the decorated ware to and from the shop on the second floor.

Sallie DeBee and the Bucey girl are said to have gone below for the purpose of securing boxes, and after obtaining a number started the elevator toward the second story. The conveyance is run by hydraulic power, and the girls had no difficulty in stopping it at the proper place. As they were about to alight, the DeBee girl going first, some one upon the third floor is said to have released the elevator and it began slowly to ascend. Poth girls became terrified at once, and it is thought Miss Bucey attempted to jump from the cage as it was clearing the top portion of the door.

When she was caught the floor of the elevator was about four feet above the level of the decalcomania shop, and the unfortunate girl disappeared between the moving cage and the side of the elevator shaft. The space is not more than six inches wide and the little body was caught and terribly crushed about the stomach, head and breast. So tigthly did the body become wedged that the massive machine was stopped.

Other girls were attracted by the outcry, and all rushed to the door of the shaft. At the same time the employes of the decorating shop above hurried to the opening. They were horrified to see the body of the Bucy girl dangling in mid air, with the blood streaming from her body, and legs. A few had sufficient presence of mind to catch at the rope and release the body.

In a semi-conscious condition little Miss Bucey was tenderly carried to a large table in the decorating shop, and Dr. Bailey and the ambulance summoned. It was soon decided that nothing could be done for the relief of the sufferer until she could be taken home, and arrangements were at once made to carry out the plan.

HELPLESS FROM A FIT WHEN TRAIN STRUCK HIM

Unconscious, mangled and bleeding, Samuel Eckels, aged 22 years, a resident of Jethro Hollow, lay alongside of the C. & P. railroad track near Golding's flint mill yesterday afternoon for over an hour without attention, with face turned upward receiving the pelts of the dashing rain which poured throughout the day.

When discovered by three laborers employed by the bridge contractor, doing work a short distance below the mill, Eckels was yet unconscious, and it was thought that he was dead. They shook him vigorously, however, and noticing a quiver of his lips, and the twitching of his muscles, were convinced that life was not totally extinct and immediately constructed a rude cot on which they bore him to his home.

A physician was called and by the application of strong restoratives revived the young man, but not readily. A long, deep gash had been inflicted in his head and his body was otherwise badly bruised. The physician was compelled to take several stitches in sewing the wound, but states, notwithstanding that, Eckels will be confined to his bed for a number of days as the result of the accident, he is not in immediate danger of fatal results.

Eckels is subject to attacks of epilepsy and it was while wrestling with a fit that he met with the accident. He has been employed as water carrier by the bridge gang and was carrying a bucket up the track when seized with an attack. He states that he knew the attack was coming on and heard the east bound passenger coming up behind him, but was unable to move. While struggling with his terrible malady the engine struck him with terrific force, knocking him quite a distance. He does not remember whether the engineer sounded a warning signal or whether he slowed up after striking him. Nor does he remember whether he was prostrate or standing when struck.

His parents, it is said, will not permit him to work again near the railroad, and are thinking of making application for his admittance to the hospital at Gallipolis.

Discharge of C. W. Pritchard, Tin Mill Timekeeper, Followed by Several Sensational Charges.

Lisbon, October 1.—(Special)—Lisbon was given a sensation this morning when it was reported that Cyrus W. Pritchard, time-keeper at the tin mill had disappeared, leaving behind him unpaid bills aggregating $6,000. Pritchard left Lisbon Saturday, some reports being to the effect that he had a companion, and others that he was alone.

Pritchard's short-comings became public this morning when Lodge Riddle, attorney for W. H. Bar, roller at the tin mill, filed attachment proceedings with County Clerk McNutt on four promissory notes, aggregating $1.237.

The notes were given on the dates named for the following amounts: August 30, 1902, $220; September 10, 1902, $432; September 13, 1902, $360; September 14, 1902, 125. In his affidavit Mr. Bar declares his belief that Pritchard has absconded, and that Frank P. Moore and Ed. F. Moore, as executors and trustees under the will of Mary Moore Pritchard holds moneys, claims and real estate in trust for Pritchard, the amount of which is unknown. Nothing has been found as yet with which to satisfy the claim.

Pritchard is said to have been living at a rapid pace lately, and the news of his disappearance is received with no surprise. He is a comparatively young man and has held the position at the tin mill ever since the plant was built ten years ago.

He has a wife and three children living here. Among other persons to whom he is said to be indebted are Judge J. G. Moore, Dr. Frank Moore, Bert Lyder, Harry George, the opera house orchestra, of which he was manager, and Mrs. Ida Eells, who conducts a grocery store in the East End. Mrs. Eells received a letter from Pittschard Monday, dated at Pittsburg, saying he would be home Monday evening.

It develops that he was discharged from the mill last Saturday for tampering with the pay envelopes.

Pritchard, it is said, has been noted for crooked dealings all of his life. It is related that when he was at college he forged some notes on a near relative, and the fraud was not discovered until the notes matured several years later.

His family connections are of the best. He is a deacon in the Baptist church.

FOUR BROTHERS GO TO WORKHOUSE

FINE OF $50 AND COSTS

Four brothers, Daniel, John, David and Isaac Gourley, accompanied by their bosom friend, the notorious "Chongeye" Carraher, who escaped jail two weeks ago, were arraigned before the mayor this morning, all charged with drunkenness and vagrancy. To the charge they pleaded not guilty and were remanded back to their cells until this afternoon at 1 o'clock when they were again arraigned and this time tney pleaded guilty.

The mayor told them that he had given them all the chances in the world, and that the entire bunch is looked upon with terror by the peaceable citizens, and that the general public would not be satisfied until they were driven from the city. He also told them that he had conclusive evidence that two of them were the men who attempted to gain an entrance to Thomas Teeford's house, as exclusively mentioned in the News Review, and that he knew positively that they had stolen the jardinieres which have been reported lost during the past few weeks. At the conclusion of his speech the mayor sentenced each of the quintet to the Canton work house until a fine of $50 and costs is paid. They will be taken to the works tomorrow, where they will remain until late next spring.

MORE PURCHASES BY THE C. & P.

RAILROAD STILL AFTER LANDS HERE AND BELOW.

Transfers Recently Recorded And Other Deals Pending—Nearly Enough Secured.

Representatives of the real estate departments of the Cleveland and Pittsburg railroad have been working in this city since Monday trying to secure, and also purchasing property fronting upon the railroad between this city and Wellsville. This property is needed to complete the plans already mapped out by the company for the extention of its new tracks between the two cities. The company at Wellsville yesterday completed the deal for the purchase of the property owned by Nat Ridner, which extends 300 feet along the railroad, and the consideration in the deal was $1,500. Property owned by Mrs. Thomas Blackmore is being sought, and this transfer may be completed this week. Property also owned by Walter B. Hill, and A. M. Peterson will, it is said, be under option in a day or so. In fact, all these sales may be consummated this week.

With the purchase of these properties the railroad company will have practically secured all the property that is needed for the completion of the improvements that are now under way. With the exception of the Ridner property, all other tracts are located on the north side of the railroad, while the Ridner property is located on the south side of the track, near "Driven from home" hill.

Imposed On a Salem Man Who Pleaded to Assault.

Lisbon, October 1.—(Special)—William Daugherty, who has been in jail since June 18, and was indicted in July by a special grand jury for assault with intent to kill, pleaded guilty in court yesterday afternoon to the charge of assault. His sentence is 60 days in the Canton workhouse and costs of prosecution.

The assault was made on L. L. Wilson in a Salem livery stable.

Will Not Go With Mercer.

William Bradley, third baseman of the Cleveland American League team, will not accompany Win Mercer, of this city, on his tour to the Pacific coast. Mercer is getting together nearly all of the star performers of the American league for the purpose of touring it across the continent, winding up on with a series with the best teams on the coast. Mercer is now very desirous of getting Rhody Wallace to take his place, but Wallace is reported ready to decline the offer.

POLICE AID IS SOUGHT IN LOCATING LOST WIFE

After searching in vain for two days and nights in this city and Chester for his wife, who, he alleges, eloped two weeks ago with a man who boarded at his home, Daniel Devore, of Toronto, applied to central police station last evening and solicited the aid of the officers in locating his spouse.

To a friend in the city yesterday he stated that it is not due to the love that he has for his wife that he wants to find her, but it is because she has in her name property worth $1,600 which he wants to regain possession of. He turned the property over to her upon their marriage several years ago, but when he did so it was with the verbal agreement that she be true to him. Now, he says, she has proven false, he is determined that she shall not enjoy the fruits of the estate.

In a state bordering on distraction the deserted husband scoured the city and to a number of people told his tale in a pitiful manner. Never suspecting his wife of unfaithfulness he says he was completely dumfounded upon returning home one evening from his work at the American Sewer Pipe company's plant to find that his wife was gone with one of his most trusted boarders.

He waited patiently for her to return for several days, and she not putting in an appearance or sending him word, he instituted a search. She has friends and relatives in this city and the husband feels confident that she is in the vicinity.

Telephonic communication with the city officials at Toronto this morning revealed the fact that the officers of that town have been on the lookout for the woman ever since her disappearance, but they have not been able even to get a trace of her whereabouts. The woman, they state, was once highly respected in Toronto, but during the past few months had carried herself in a rather loose manner. Her maiden name was Wilson.

A photograph given to the local police shows her to be about five feet in height and of heavy build. When she left home she wore a brown dress, a ring on the first and third finger of her left hand and a gold watch and chani. She is about 36 years of age.

MERCHANTS TURN DOWN PROPOSITION OF CLERKS

Willing to concede all reasonable demands, but decidedly in disfavor of making a concession which would not only jeopardize their business interests, but would cause dissatisfaction among their patrons, 40 members of the Business Men's association held a meeting last evening and turned down without a dissenting vote a proposition presented by a committee of the Retail Clerks' association.

The proposition was that the association discontinue the keeping open of stores on Monday evening after 6 o'clock. This, the members felt, could not be done, and after but little consideration ordered the proposition returned to the clerks. A member stated this morning that the business is now so congested on Saturday and Monday evening that it is impossible to handle the trade. Were the conditions such as to eliminate these evenings they might as well retire from the business, he said.

Several other concessions asked by the Retail association were looked upon with favor and may be granted. One of them applies to the keeping open on the eves of holidays. The clerks want the stores closed at the usual time, 6 o'clock, on such evenings, and it is said that practically every member of the B. M. A. is willing to vote to that end. The stand taken by the association is not contrary to the judgment of the public. The people desire that they be kept open on Monday evening, and the business men intend to comply with this wish.

The proposition presented was in the hands of three women and one man. They at first applied to the association and when given a voice made their demand known. It was done verbally, and they were ordered to retire and present the proposition in writing if they wished action taken. They did this, but not in the usual manner. Not only was the proposition devoid of the Retail association's stamp, it is said, but it had not the signatures of the proper officials. On this point alone the business men could have turned it down, but instead devoted attention to its demands.

After ordering the proposition returned to the clerks the president of the association instructed the secretary to prepare a resolution and hand it to the clerks for their acceptance. It will be placed in their hands at the regular meeting to be held tomorrow evening.

DUFFY'S MIND IS NOT CHANGED

WILL DECLINE DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION FOR CONGRESS.

Is Engaged in Writing Out His Reasons—Committees Cannot Move Him.

T. J. Duffy, Labor candidate for congress, is this afternoon engaged upon his answer to the Democratic congressional committee.

Mr. Duffy stated that he has not changed his mind and cannot accept the Democratic nomination. The document which Mr. Duffy is now at work upon will be delivered into the hands of J. J. Weisend this evening.

The meeting of the Labor party executive committee in session at Alliance today will have no effect upon the decision of Mr. Duffy, and is called for the purpose of laying plans for the coming campaign.

President A. S. Hughes, of the N. B. of O. P., is representing the East Liverpool labor people. The city chairman, John T. Wood, was unable to go, and Mr. Hughes went in his stead.

JEWISH NEW YEAR

The Festival of Rash Hashona Opens This Evening at Sunset.

"Rash Hashona," or the Jewish new year, one of the two festivals observed by Jews all over the world, begins this evening at sunset.

The day is set apart as a time for prayer, general salutation and the forming of new resolutions for the coming year.

The orthodox Jews will devote two days to observing the new year's feast, while the members of the reformed congregation conclude their observance tomorrow at sunset.

All stores and business places conducted by the members of both sects will close this evening and remain so until the festival is concluded.

Only the Police Court Section of the Bill Is Eliminated From It.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, October 1. — The Nash code in all its entirety, save the police court section, was passed by the senate late Tuesday afternoon by a strict party vote. The Democrats tried to block its passage by resorting to obstruction tactics. The Republicans claimed they made a pledge to vote for the bill, but the Democrats denied this and insisted that their action was proper. With the police court provision in the bill a two-third vote was necessary to pass it, and as the Republicans could not muster this strength without receiving Democratic votes, in order to force the passage of the measure they took out the police court section, converting it into a separate bill, and soon secured its passage, a bare majority only being required. The Democrats offered an amendment to strike out the curative act in the bill, but it did not prevail. Senator Harding introduced the police court bill and it may be passed today. As has been stated it will take a two-thirds vote to pass it. Had the Republicans not eliminated it from the code they could not have passed it. The session was the stormiest yet held in the extraordinary session. The opposition which came from the minority was unexpected.

Senator Connell says that he will speak on the application for a pardon for Zach S. Robison, life man from Columbiana, at the next meeting of the state pardon board. Warden Darby and the penitentiary officials will do what they can to aid Robison, who, they declare, is the best behaved inmate of the prison. Zach has had charge of the paint gang for several years.

There were "doins" in the house, too. Guerin, of Erie, offered his curative amendment, which was adopted after a warm fight by a vote of 55 to 35. Eight Democrats stood out against Tom Johnson's threats and voted for the measure. Tom will be

FROM PEORIA'S SHOP.

The pottery in this city is running about the same as usual, but still work is a little slack. The clay hands are making from seven to eight days a pay. There is also a shortage of saggers, and owing to this fact the glost kilnmen are not making as much time as they would like to.

Patrick Rafferty, who has been working out his notice, thinking he would take a position at Akron, has changed his mind, and instead he will go to Trenton. Trenton was his former home. Samuel Thomas, who was formerly employed at this shop, and who recently went to New Castle, has written to his friends here stating he has a good position and proposes to remain.

Fletcher Massey, who left the Peoria shop to go to East Liverpool, has been working for a few days at Sebring. He is expected to arrive at East Liverpool in a few weeks.

Some changes have been made in the plan to give Samuel Brooks the dishmaking bench, which was made vacant by the resignation of Samuel Thomas. The company will keep the position open until next month, when the position will be given to an apprentice, whose time will expire within a few weeks. Samuel Brooks, who had the promise of this position, has secured a position at Derry and will leave for there soon. William Swan, who has also been working in the local clay shops, will also go to Derry when that shop commences operation.

The company has received a rush order for ware, and during the week three cars will be packed and shipped, which will clean the glost warehouse of every piece of ware in it. The company is in need of ware, but from some unknown cause it cannot be got through the kilns fast enough.

SHIPPING PIPE.

The Eastern Ohio Sewer Pipe company, at Irondale, owned principally by Fred Owesney and Alf. Freeman, of Steubenville has made and shipped twenty-four cars of pipe to points in the east, the first pipe having been burned in the kilns 60 days ago. Six kilns are being used and six more are under construction. The plant is to be increased to 20 kilns all of which are of the largest kind. The kilns are 23 feet in diameter. Pipes are made ranging from two to 36 inches in size. Asbestos covering is being put around all of the heating and steam pipes both inside and outside of the building. Men are now setting a large mixing pan, also an immense grinding pan. The main building is of brick, two stories high and covers a ground surface of 91x300 feet. There are four floors with machine room annex. It is a plant that is complete in all of its appointments. The company has its own dynamo and electric light. At each machine is a push button which communicates with the engine room. In case of accident machinery can be stopped immediately so the safety devices are important. There are numerous elevators and labor saving machines. It is anticipated that the remaining kilns will be built by spring and when under full operation about 250 men will be employed day and night. Only about half that number are employed at present.

A NEW COMPANY.

Articles of incorporation will soon be filed at Columbus by the American Ceramic Art company, of this city, capital stock about $20,000. The incorporators, who are all local people, will be George Heisler, general manager of the decorating department of the Warwick pottery, Wheeling; Charles Pelley, of East End; Harry Waggoner, of the National China company and Ernest W. Thompson, a well known local business man. This company has been formed for several weeks, and its plant has already been arranged. Quarters have been secured in that part of the building on Railroad street formerly occupied by Frank E. Oyster. A large kiln, heated by oil, has been purchased and tested. Trials have been run through the kiln with excellent results, and from the experiments that have already been made, the venture is an assurd success. It is the intention of this new firm to enter the general decorating business, and already a number of large orders have been secured. The company will not only decorate ware for private customers, but for the general trade. It frequently occurs that the manufacturers of this city are pushed in their decorating departments, and from now on this rushing will be alleviated. It is also the intention of this new firm to decorate imported china, and for this work some of the best decorators in the district have been engaged. The policy that will be followed by this firm will in no manner conflict with any other industry in this city, and judging from present appearances, the company will handle a large business. The decorating of special pieces of ware will be given close attention by the new firm.

All Humors

Are impure matters which the skin, liver, kidneys and other organs can not take care of without help, there is such an accumulation of them.

They litter the whole system.

Pimples, boils, eczema and other eruptions, loss of appetite, that tired feeling, bilious turns, fits of indigestion, dull headaches and many other troubles are due to them.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Remove all humors, overcome all their effects, strengthen, tone and invigorate the whole system.

"I had salt rheum on my hands so that I could not work. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla and it drove out the humor. I continued its use till the sores disappeared." MRS. IRA O. BROWN, Rumford Falls, Me.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

WANTS TO COME BACK.

About a year ago a well known local pottery workman secured what he thought was a good position in a Trenton shop. His position at that time was netting him not less than $4 a day. He worked out his two weeks' notice and soon afterwards went to Trenton. Several letters were received from him soon after he arrived in the east, and in them he spoke of the good time he was having, the money he was making and all that sort of thing. Then letters ceased to come to his local friends. A few days ago one of the prominent manufacturers in this city received a letter from him in which he asked if he could not be furnished employment. He also said that he was working but from four to five days a pay, and occasionally he would get in six days. He seemed to be tired of that way of working and said if he could get a position in East Liverpool again he would never leave the city. He will come back on these conditions, it is said.

AGED POTTER DEAD.

Former Deputy Revenue Collector John M. Pruden, the oldest pottery man in Elizabeth, if not in New Jersey, is dead. He was born in Elizabeth, and his father, Keen Pruden, was the pioneer of the pottery industry in Elizabeth. He was succeeded in it by his son, John, who had for a partner William Alcot. Afterwards the business was sold to the Beebower Pottery company. Mr. Pruden was appointed during the Harrison administration as deputy revenue collector, the only political position he ever held. His father was one of the early presidents of the National State bank at Elizabeth, and was succeeded as president by the late Colonel John Kean, father of United States Senator Kean. Mr. Pruden was a strong Republican in politics. He is survived by a widow and an only son, Caleb C. Pruden, who is a wealthy man and sole heir to his father's estate. The dead man was one of the most honored residents of Elizabeth.

MATTERS ARE ALL SETTLED.

The work of preliminary steps to form a relief association among the employes of the kiln and dipping departments of the Laughlin potteries Nos. 2 and 3, have about been completed, and it is expected that collections for the association will commence not later than Saturday. A meeting of the committee upon by-laws and constitution was held Monday morning, and yesterday morning a general meeting of the employes was held. It was then that a full report of the by-laws committee was read for the first time. The constitution of the new association was read for the first time. The constitution of the new association is almost similar to that which has governed the association at the National pottery, although a few changes in some of the rules have been made. It is thought that the new association will start off with a membership of about 50, and it is possible this number will be exceeded.

NEW CLEVELAND SHOP.

Much has been said and written relative to Mr. Crook retiring from the Akron Pottery company, and what business he proposed to follow. It is now stated upon authority that Mr. Cook will locate in Cleveland, and that he will have an almost exclusive business. He is now having built at Cleveland a large decorating shop, and will enter the general decorating business upon a large scale. Decorating kilns will be built and a number of first class decorators, it is said, will be employed. In this manner a person will be enabled to purchase a piece of white ware or china, take them to this shop, tell what is wanted upon it, and within a few days, the order is finished. This is the same plan that will be followed by the American Ceramic Art company, which was recently organized in this city.

POTTER'S DEATH.

John Shue, aged 30, died yesterday at the home of his brother-in-law in Steubenville. He was born in Port Washington but has worked in the Steubenville pottery several years. He married Miss Mary Poole, of Steubenville, who survives with five children. He is also survived by the mother and one sister, Mrs. Fred Albright, and the following half-sisters and brothers: Mrs. Fred Black, Martins Ferry; Mrs. Wm. McGrew, Sebring; Misses Emma and Kate and Daniel and Thomas Wise, and Eva and Harry Lidy. He was a member of the Mystic Circle, of the Knights of the Golden Eagle and of Union No. No. 20, N. B. of O. P.

SMALL DECORATING KILN.

Theodore Leissel is a printer at the Smith-Phillips pottery, but this fact does not prohibit him from having higher ambitions. When his work is through at the pottery, Mr. Leissel devotes his attention to other lines, and in so doing, he is in a fair way to build up a business of his own. He has commenced the erection of a small decoarting kiln on his property in the Klondike section, and after his labor is finished at the pottery he will devote his time to experimenting in the decoration of ware. He has made several experiments of late in this particular line, all of which have been successful.

FIREMEN STAYED AT HOME.

Mr. W. G. Croxall, one of the owners and managers of the Kokomo sanitary shop, has been in the city for several days, not looking for many workmen, but just one, a kiln fireman. These workmen appear to be a scarce article, at least Mr. Croxall stated, and in one instance he offered one fireman an advance of $11 a week more than he is now receiving, but the fireman rejested the proposition with thanks. It appears that very few firemen care to leave the city, no matter how good a proposition they receive to do go. Mr. Croxall returned home last evening.

SCOTT WAS IN TOWN.

Samuel Scott, general manager of the Zanesville Art Pottery, was in the city a few days ago placing orders for some machinery, which is to be shipped as soon as possible. Mr. Scott stated that the shop was in full operation, and that all the workmen were making good time. There are seven kilns at this pottery, all being used for biscuit and glost firing. The glost ware is fired in the upper part of the kilns, while the lower part is used for biscuit purposes.

OVERCOME BY HEAT.

William McCoy, a kilnman, employed at the Union Porcelain works, at Trenton, was overcome by the heat while at work yesterday morning, and was taken to St. Francis hospital. McCoy was found to be suffering of thermic fever, and was given a cold bath and other treatment.

SOME LISBON NEWS.

Alexander Bayer, who has been employed at the Lisbon pottery, has gone to the New Castle pottery. He was employed while in Lisbon as manager of the slip house, and he will have a similar uosition in New Castle.

Robert Walters, well known in East Liverpool, who has been in Lisbon ever since the new pottery commenced operations, has taken charge of the clay shops, the department in which Mr. Bayer was employed.

A FLINT SALESMAN.

W. S. Chase, of Trenton, connected with a flint and spar company of that city, has been spending a few days in this district, calling upon the manufacturers.

GONE TO TRENTON.

BIG JOB OF GRADING

It has been years since so much grading has been done in the vicinity of Ralston's Crossing, and the plant of the United Power company as has been done this year. First there was excavating for the new plant to be built by the East Liverpool Brick Manufacturing company, and no sooner was this completed than work was commenced by Contractor McLaughlin and others, in grading for additional tracks about this city.

So far, it has been estimated by Mr. McLaughlin that from 25,000 to 35,000 yards of excavating will be required on that part of the contract which has been let.

The earth secured from this source is not only being used to widen the road in the vicinity of Ralston's Crossing, but it is also being used to fill in that hollow just east of the crossing, and west of the trestle on the street railway. At present there are 14 teams at work on this contract and from 40 to 50 men employed. The contractore would employ more teams and men but it appears they cannot be had at any price. All teams that have been used for grading purposes about the city during the past summer are still busy on unfinished contracts, and will be for some time to come. It is thought the grading for this improvement will be completed within four months, at least the railroad company would like to have the work done in that time. As there is considerable rock in the hillside at Ralston, much explosive material is being used.

Where the excavating is being done, a space of 21 feet will be cleared north of the railroad tracks. It may be, although a decision has not been reached by the railroad company on the matter, that a space of 51 feet will be graded near the Laughlin pottery, No. 1. It is thought that by the time the contractors reach that part of their work the railroad company will have reached a decision in this particular matter. When the present plans of the railroad company are completed, the company will have a three track road through the city.

J. D. McMurray's Reported Reason for Going to Pennsylvania.

J. D. McMurray is reported to be a resident of Pennsylvania. How long he will remain there cannot be told. Yesterday several boys employed at the Laughlin pottery threw some particles as several persons were passing the plant, and one of these struck McMurray. McMurray then picked up a stone and in throwing it at those whom he supposed were the boys who threw at him, struck Frank Dixon on the head, cutting a esevere gash. He was removed to his home, where his injuries were dressed by a physician.

Dixon was not mixed up in the affair, and, it is said, when McMurray heard what had been done he went to the neighboring state.

Scarcity of Brick.

Owing to the fact that the American Sewer Pipe company has been unable to get the required materials, work upon the new kilns to be built at the East End plant has been delayed much longer than was expected. An official of the East End plant said today that the three new kilns would be built just as soon as it was possible to do so, but owing to the condition of the brick market it has been impossible to get brick to begin the improvement. It is thought the kilns will be erected by the company's bricklayers

Meeting in Private House.

Instead of holding meetings in any public place in the East End, the members of the Free Methodist church are now meeting in private houses. The meetings are not held in the same residence each evening, but throughout different parts of the East End. A number of conversions have been reported to have been made at these meetings.

Goes to Parkersburg.

Walter Smith, who has been employed as an extra conductor by the East Liverpool Railway company, has resigned his position and within a few days will leave for Parkersburg, where he will take a position on the Ohio River railroad. He will first start as a freight brakeman, but has been assured that he will be promoted to the position of freight conductor within a short time.

Circle Cleared $75.

UNIVERSITY EXTENSION

Many Works in Carnegie Library Which Will Aid Students.

In speaking of the university extension work which Prof. Rayman has begun in this city, Miss Baker, the librarian of the Carnegie public library, said:

"All people interested in the university extension lectures which begin next Friday evening will be glad to learn that the Carnegie library has a number of books which will make good supplementary reading. Prof. Sparks' lectures on American history are not merely the recital of events in the nation's career without sign of the actors connected therewith. Instead of this it is the history of the nation as associated with the lives of the men who made it. Benjamin Franklin, Samuel Adams, John Adams, Robert Morris, Alexander Hamilton and George Washington were preeminently the men of their time, and events of history will be found to group themselves about these characters.

"Connected with them are other names of less importance at that period, but who subsequently also became leaders of men. The library has a variety of biographies covering the lives of the six men whose mastery of difficult situations form the subject of Prof. Sparks' lectures. Well worth reading among these are Paul Leicester Ford's 'The Many Sided Franklin' and 'The True George Washington' and 'The Familiar Letters of John Adams And His Wife.' There are two copies of 'The Men Who Made the Nation,' and in the American Statesman series will be found sidelights on all the minor characters mentioned by Prof. Sparks in the course of his lectures."

ON A BIG SCALE

Coal Mines Near Salem Will Be Opened And Operated And Coke Made.

Salem, Oct. 1.—The Farquhar coal mining property east of the city has been leased to Archibald Lemmon, a prominent coal mine operator of the south.

The lease is for a long term of years. Mr. Lemmon has decided to develop the property on a larger scale than was ever intended by the Farquhars. It is now the intention to build a railroad to the Salem railroad to get the output of coal to the foreign market. The route has been practically surveyed and will run from Buzzard's dam along the creek to the East Main street tramway, which is now being built. The road to be built will be about one and a half miles long. It is also the intention of the new lessee to put in a large number of coke ovens and manufacture coke on an extensive scale.

These gigantic undertakings will take much money, but Mr. Lemmon has decided to operate on a large scale. Hoisting machinery has been ordered, and it is expected to arrive this week, which can do the work for 200 employes if it is found necessary to employ that number.

Gold Democrats Won.

Detroit, Oct. 1.—After an animated discussion, lasting nearly three hours, yesterday afternoon, the Democratic state central committee selected L. T. Durand, of Saginaw, as the party's candidate for governor. The new nomination was made necessary by the withdrawal of Judge H. Durand of Flint, a brotner of yesterday's nominee. Judge Durand was stricken with paralysis five weeks ago. This was a victory for the gold Democrats silver Democrats favoring State Senator J. W. Helme.

"I am pleased to give my experience with Wine of Cardui as I am very grateful for its help. After my first baby was born I could not seem to regain my strength, although the doctor gave me a tonic which he considered very superior, but instead of getting better I grew weaker every day. My husband came home one evening with some Wine of Cardui and insisted that I take it for a week and see what it would do for me. As he seemed to have so much faith in it I did take the imedicine and was very grateful to find my strength slowly returning. In two weeks I was out of bed and in a month I was able to take up my usual duties. I am very enthusiastic in its praise."

MOTHERHOOD is the noblest duty and highest privilege women can achieve or aspire to. Without this privilege women do not get all there is in life—too often they go through the world discontented, wrapped up in their own selfish cares and troubles. How different is the happy mother, watching her children grow into manhood and womanhood. A mother lives as many lives as she has children—their joys and sorrows are hers, as are their ambitions, triumphs and defeats. Healthy women do not suffer miscarriage nor does a woman who is healthy suffer tortures at childbirth. It is the woman who is ailing—who has female weakness—who fears the ordeal of becoming a mother. Wine of Cardui builds up the womanly in a woman. It stops all unnatural drains and strains—irregularities which are responsible for barrenness and miscarriage. It makes a woman strong and healthy and able to pass through pregnancy and childbirth with little suffering. After the ordeal is passed the Wine prepares a woman for a speedy recovery to health and activity.

Wine of Cardui, in re-inforcing the organs of generation, has made mothers of women who had given up hope of ever becoming mothers. Wine of Cardui will cure almost any case of barrenness except cases of organic trouble. How can you refuse to take such a remedy that promises such relief from suffering? Wine of Cardui simply makes you a strong woman, and strong, healthy women do not suffer. They look forward to motherhood with joy.

WINE of CARDUI

A million suffering women have found relief in Wine of Cardui.

Considering the interest taken in politics in East Liverpool, the ignorance of those who write upon the subject is something surprising. Scarcely a day passes that some newspaper reference is not made to "Judge Kennedy, of Youngstown, the Republican candidate for congress." Every person who can read ought to be well aware that Judge James B. Kennedy is not the candidate for congress. That honor has fallen to his cousin, Attorney James Kennedy, who, though well qualified to be a judge, has never held that position. The mistake is natural, though a person who assumes to enlighten the public on political matters ought not to make it. But what excuse is there for the statement that "Thomas J. Duffy, of this city, will be the candidate for the nomination for congress on the Labor ticket?" Mr. Duffy received the nomination on the Labor ticket August 23. The newspaper writer who is not aware of that fact ought to read up on local history or else be given some assignment where his stock of misinformation would not be paraded so conspicuously.

Attorney General Elkin, of Pennsylvania, said in a recent speech: "Any falling off of Republican majorities this year will be a notice to the public that distrust has arisen in relation to laws favored and policies formulated by the Republican administration." This statement is as applicable to Ohio as to Pennsylvania. There will be no falling off if every Republican does his duty. The people are busy, but they should never get too busy to vote, especially at an election the results of which are fraught with so much importance as this year.

Senators Hoar and Hale are old-time Republicans, who know the benefits which the protective system have brought to the country. They are against all tariff tinkering. This is the view of the masses of the Republican party. It is the view, too, of all the Republican leaders of any consequence, from President Roosevelt down. Business men may rest assured that nothing will be permitted by the Republican party which will have a tendency to check the present prosperity.

The tributes of praise and esteem showered on Rev. Dr. Clark Crawford are all deserved. He has been a conscientious and faithful pastor and a strenuous worker for the cause of Christ, and East Liverpool will hold his name and his work in grateful remembrance.

The Democrats who have been reading Secretary Root out of the cabinet are to be disappointed. He will remain where he is. The president has a strong cabinet, and the war secretary is among the ablest of its members.

A Bombay prince has left $5,000,000 as a fund for persons deprived of subsistence by sudden calamity in any part of the world. Even Asia can give a lesson in the broad philanthropic tendencies of the age.

A few loads of buckshot, well directed, would do more to discourage the activity of burglars and footpads in this city than all the arrests that have been made or are likely to be made.

The president will gladly settle the coal strike if those who are insisting that he do so will show him how. It now is up to the petitioners to produce their solution of the problem.

Eighty marriage licenses issued in Columbiana county last month is another evidence of prosperity.

Perry says it would cost $200,000 to discover the north pole. The game is not worth the candle.

AT THE THEATER

Costumes play a great part in the modern stage production. The average woman today looks to the stage for the latest mode. This important accessory has been used to the greatest advantage in the new revival in "East Lynne." Miss Warren has always had the reputation of being one of the best gowned women on the stage, and for this her first starring season her gowns, Parisian creations, will certainly make a sensation. Miss Warren is a coming woman in the dramatic race today, and those who see her at the Grand opera house on Saturday afternoon and evening will certainly be delighted.

Idah McGlone Gibson, who gives the talk on the stage at the opera house tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 is well known in the newspaper fraternity as "Mae." Mrs. Gibson's talk is not a cut and dried lecture but a series of stories, funny and pathetic, and those who have heard her, say that she is most entertaining. She has a number of pictures of the great people of the stage, Booth, Modjestica, Sol Smith Russell, Herne, who wrote Shore Acres, and others, and she tells personal reminiscenses of the people who have given them to her. The lecture is absolutely free and will doubtless be most entertaining. An attractive souvenir will be presented to every lady attending.

"The Prisoner of Zenda" was presented to a packed house at the Grand last evening. The play was well staged, but there was one drawback about the production, and this fact is to be regretted. Some of the players were not thoroughly acquainted with their parts, one or two of the cast appearing either to forget their lines or the way they should act. With a few weeks of rehearsal these things will be eliminated. Thomas B. Alexander and Eloise Elliston acted well their parts, and the performance as a whole was of more than average merit.

Butter making is quite an industry in Indiana. In order to faithfully reproduce one of the principal scenes a trained dog is introduced in "Indiana Folks." His duty consists of propelling the tread mill which agitates the churn. From two to four pounds of strictly fresh butter are churned by Snip, the cocker spaniel dog used in the play. The product of his labor is eaten on the bread used in the realistic dinner scene in the first act. This is only one of may natural features in this beautiful Indiana romance which comes to the Grand tonight, October 1.

Denman Thompson and Geo. W. Ryer's, best of all rural plays, "Our New Minister," more popular now than ever, and brighter and more attractive than before because of its new massive scenic environment, will make its annual visit to the Grand on Friday evening. There isn't much use in saying anything about "Our New Minister" nowadays—it's many merits are so well known—save to advise everybody to go and see it.

here tonight and he will undoubtedly attempt to read these members out of his party. Eight Republicans voted against the curative amendment. The Guerin amendment is very similar to the Hosea amendment, which was inserted in the code bill passed by the senate Tuesday afternoon, and it will be the duty of the conference committee to decide which one shall be adopted.

The action of the senate in re-incorporating the Beal act in the code Tuesday, Special Counsel Smith Bennett, of the attorney general's office, says neither strengthens nor weakens the law, giving no advantage to either the anti saloon people or the liquor interests.

Attorney Wayne B. Wheeler, of the Anti-Saloon league, stated today that it was true that the league was preparing to held a local option election in East Liverpool.

The LaBelle iron works, organized under the laws of West Virginia, capital $5,000,000, qualified to engage in business in Ohio, with headquarters at Steubenville. J. E. Wright, Steubenville, is president. The company has mammoth plants at Steubenville and Mingo.

Senator Connell has receiver a big stack of letter from ministers throughout his district, asking that nothing be put in the code which will interfere with the operation of the Beal local option law. Similar letters are pouring in from all over the state. It is not likely that anything will be done which will impair the effect of the act.

Attorney General Sheets said today that he had not examined the act under which registration was given East Liverpool and so could not say whether it was constitutional. The recent decision of the supreme court, he stated, made no reference to the registration laws, and as the East Liverpool act has not been questioned he advises that it be observed. He said that it is tacitly understood that the supreme court will not pass upon any of the election laws until the general assembly has had an opportunity to correct them. The next general assembly will undertake this task.

The Oakland Grove Free Methodist church, of East Liverpool, has been incorporated by Grant Funk, John R. Stewart, William Blankinship, Alex G. Chafin and Robert Kelly.

Win Mercer, the crack East Liverpool pitcher, who is with the Detroit team, is a member of Lajoie's All American Stars, who are playing the Columbus team in this city this afternoon.

Wild West Robbery Committed Near Goshen, N. Y.

Middletown, N. Y., Oct. 1.—The stage coach "Pioneer," which makes daily trips between Warwick and Goshen, was held up and robbed by three masked horsemen late yesterday afternoon at a lonely spot on the road. Clinton and Horatio S. Wisner, who own the coach, and were on it, saw the men on horses suddenly emerge from the dense woods which line the highway. Clinton was driving. The robbers ordered him to pull up his horses. This he refused to do, and the highwaymen opened fire with revolvers. None of the shots took effect, but the shooting caused the whip to bring his horses to a stop.

Inside the coach were Mrs. J. A. Chamberlain, Mrs. Fred Webster, Mrs. James Fuller Mrs. Hart, Mrs. Ed Johnson, all of Florida, N. Y. While two of the highwaymen covered the Wisner brothers with their revolvers the third, using many threats, compelled the passengers to give up all their money and valuables.

Wellsville Council Voted to Hear the Proposition of Manager L. W. Healy.

A special meeting of Wellsville council was called last evening for the purpose of consulting with the water works trustees relative to the sale of the present water works system.

It will be remembered that on last Friday evening, at a special meeting of council, Manager Healy, of the East Liverpool Railway company, stated thtat he had a proposition to make concerning the purchase of the local water works system and the establishing of a gravity system.

After a long discussion of the topic last evening a resolution was finally drawn up and passed asking Mr. Healy to submit his proposition to council. The idea, it seems, is merely to ascertain the value of the local plant, as the sentiment of nearly all of council is against the selling of it.

A suggestion was made by one of the councilmen last evening that a combination municipal electric light and water works plant would be a good scheme. In talking over the subject, President A. S. Rogers, of the water works trustees, said: "In my judgment $30,000 would be sufficient money to equip the new city water works plant with power to furnish this city with electric light." At the present there are 59 electric arc lights in the city, none of which have proven entirely satisfactory. Councilman Brennan stated last evening that 35 more were needed at different places in the city.

Continuing Mr. Rogers said: "I understand that the lease between the electric light company and the city will expire within 18 or 20 months. It is best to consider this matter and be prepared to furnish the city with light when this time comes."

Getting back to the water works subject, President Whitacre, of council, asked Supt. Perkins, of the water works, whether the expense of keeping up the present water works was more than the receipts or not. Supt. Perkins stated that at the present time the water works are running into debt every year to the amount of between $3,000 and $4,000. The water works have never paid the interest on its bonded indebtedness and the trustees say that it never will.

Mr. Whitacre said that he did not believe that any municipality would hold onto a thing of this kind, knowing that it is sinking money every year, when it can be sold on a good proposition.

The running expenses of the water works at the present time amounted to about $9,000 each year, the total expenses about $14,000 and the total receipts between $10,000 and $12,000.

The subject of disposing of the water works was discussed for som time, but no definite action was taken other than that mentioned before in this article, namely the passing of the resolution asking Healy to submit his proposition.

A communication was read which was received a few days ago by Supt. Perkins, and which is from the Robert W. Hunt company, who are the water works trustees' consulting engineers. It stated that they had received a favorable communication from Congressman Tayler to the effect that he would do all within his power to have the government dam placed at the lower end of the city. He said that he would use all of his influence with the war department to bring this about.

The action of the finance committee in selling the bonds recently to Lamprecht Bros., Cleveland stock brokers, they being the highest bidders, was confirmed last evening by council.

Rinehart Bros., the East Liverpool contractors, were awarded the contract to repair the torn up paving on Third street. They were urged to do the work as soon as possible, as the street is in a very bad condition.

Councilman McLain brought up the matter of improving the culvert by putting in a small piece of sewer at the intersection of Bunting's run and Steubenville street, in the West End. Councilman Shoub moved that the matter be placed in the hands of the improvement committee with power to act. The motion was carried.

A motion was made and carried that the present grade on Clark avenue, which there was some talk of changing for the convenience of the street railway company, will remain as it is.

After a short talk upon the old subject of erecting a city tool house for the shelter of the street sweeper and sprinkler, in which there was no action taken, council adjourned.

HEALTH BOARD MEETING

The regular meeting of the board of health was held last evening in Mayor Fogo's private office, at which time only four members were present.

Previous to the meeting Dr. Tarr reported to the members of the board that the smallpox cases have not yet reached their worst stage, but that just at the present time they are getting along nicely. He said that three places were being guarded, while there are six different houses in the city that are under quarantine.

After the meeting had been called to order by Vice President Ashley, the regular bills were read, accepted and ordered paid.

Dr. Tarr's report for the month of August was read and accepted. It is as follows: Births, 17; deaths, 9; burial permits, 10; transits, 3; bodies received from other places, 4; contagious diseases, none.

The rules and regulations for the care and prevention of smallpox cases issued by the state board of health was read at the last evening session. Dr. Tarr will follow them as closely as possible in the cases which he now has on his hands.

After the discussion of a few minor matters and a talk over the smallpox situation the board adjourned. They will meet again on next Monday evenin at which time they will order all of the smallpox bills paid up to the time of meeting.

RIGGS-EDWARDS

Episcopal Rector And Prominent Wellsville Lady Wedded Today at Noon.

The wedding of Rev. Raymond Harold Edwards, late rector of the Church of the Ascension, to Miss Ida Irene Riggs was solemnized at high noon today at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. James H. Riggs, of Front street.

The ceremony was performed by Bishop Cortlandt Whitehead, of Pittsburg. The bride was gowned in white grenadine, over white silk entraine trimmed with Duchesse lace, with pearl trimming. She carried bride's roses. The ceremony was performed in the drawing room of the bride's home, which was decorated with palms and pink and white asters. Only the immediate relatives and a few of the neighboring clergy were present. After receiving the congratulations of the guests, the company repaired to the dining room, where an elaborate wedding breakfast was served.

The dining room was beautifully decorated in red. Red roses were used in profusion on the tables and other rew flowers were scattered about the room.

A BURGLAR AT WORK

An Officer Saw Him, But Has Not Yet Been Able to Find Him.

Officer Howard Davis, who early yesterday morning interrupted a burglar, in the act of gaining an entrance to the rear of Julius Goetz's clothing store on Main street, between Fourth and Fifth streets, has as yet been unable to find the man whom he saw in the act.

The burglar had been at his work for some time and had succeeded partially in gaining an entrance, when Davis first came into view down the alley. The man heard the officer coming and immediately dropped his tools and ran up the alley. Davis heard him, but could not see him on account of the darkness and dense fog. He shot in the same direction several times, but evidently did not hit his man.

It is thought that the work was done by local talent and that they will be caught in a few days. Davis will have nothing to say regarding the matter and declines to be interviewed. It is thought that he has his man located and is now hunting for evidence to convict.

Arrested Trio Released.

The two young ladies and the young man, Otto Henshaw, who were arrested yesterday by Chief Thorn, while alighting from the early train on a message from Charleston, W. Va., have been released. It is thought by the authorities here that an elopement is the cause of the trouble, although nothing definite can be learned.

POPE-GRACE WEDDING

Popular Young Lady of This City Wedded to a Steubenville Man.

Prominent in the social circles of this city was the wedding of Miss Anna Pope and Mr. Frank Sterling Grace, of Steubenville, which occurred today. The drawing room of the Pope residence on Sheridan avenue was tastefully decorated in palms and other tropical plants. Pink and white were in evidence throughout the decorations.

Promptly at 3 o'clock Miss Sarah Dickey played Mendelssohn's wedding march and the bridal party entered the drawing room led by Rev. J. C. Taggart. Following Dr. Taggart came the best man, J. Easton McGowan, of Steubenville, and the maid of honor, Miss Margaret Pope, a sister of the bride. The maid of honor was attired in a pretty gown of pink satin mousseline. Then the bride entered upon the arm of her father, Mr. I. Bentley Pope. Her gown was a becoming creation of white organdie over white taffeta silk.

When the bridal party took their places in front of the mantel, which was banked with flowers, Rev. Mr. Taggart proceeded with the marriage ceremony, after which an elaborate breakfast was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Grace left this evening for an extended trip to Cleveland and Detroit, after which they will be at home to their friends in Steubenville.

Two Things Needful.

There are two things essential to success in advertising. The first is common sense, and the second is nerve. Perhaps in most cases nerve is a part of common sense, so that I might say there is only one thing necessary. Nerve in advertising implies the possession of sufficient wisdom to see the advisability of spending one dollar for the purpose of making two.—New England Grocer.

MANY VICTIMS OF CHOLERA.

Plague Worse In Iloilo Than Other Provinces.

Manila, Oct. 1.—It is announced that 5,124 cases of cholera and 2,746 deaths from that disease were reported in the province of Iloilo, island of Panay, on Monday. This is the highest record for any district since the outbreak occurred and exceeds the total of Manila and many of the provinces since the commencement. The town of Miago, in the province of Iloilo, was the worst sufferer, 1,173 cases being reported there Monday. At Cabatuan there were 939 cases and at Dumangas 395 cases were reported Monday. The people are fleeing to the mountains, leaving the dead unburied and the dying uncared for.

The government has ordered additional doctors and medicines to be sent to Iloilo. The number of victims makes ordinary sanitary measures impossible.

The totals for all the provinces Monday, were 5,390 cases and 3,09[illegible] deaths.

ANOTHER BIG CONTRACT.

Westinghouse Will Erect $2,500,000 Plant at Glasgow, Scotland.

London, Oct. 1.—The British Westinghouse Electric company has been awarded the contract for the erection and complete equipment of the proposed plant of the Clyde Valley Power company at Glasgow, Scotland, at a cost of approximately $2,500,000. The plant will be the largest of its kind in the United Kingdom and the British are wild with joy at capturing for a British firm a contract which the largest electrical companies in the United States have struggled desperately for for months. The importance of the British Westinghouse company and the part that it promises to play in the coming revolution of English traction roads is just beginning to dawn upon the English people and they are jubilant as a result.

PRESIDENT WISHES TO SETTLE STRIKE

CONFERENCE BEING HELD TODAY.

Two Were Held Yesterday, and It Was Decided the Government Could Not Interfere at Present—Secretary Root, After Seeing New York Business Men, Yesterday, Joined the Conference Today.

Washington, Oct. 1.—The President yesterday took iniative steps to ascertain what if anything could be done by Federal authority to settle oo kyc mfwmemig soienxe dnth thes the coal strike. The result was a rather general expression of opinion by the advisors of the President, who were parties to yesterday's conference, to the effect that the Federal laws and constitutiondid not afford means of Federal interference to end the strike, but another conference was held today and the President will do all he properly and legally can to bring about a settlement. At the temporary White House, yesterday, a conference was held with three cabinet officers, Attorney General Knox, Secretary Moody and Postmaster General Payne.

after the subject had been considered for some time they adjourned to another room and conferred together for an hour. They all returned later in the day and held another conference with the president and the strike situation was discussed further. The approach of winter, with a coal famine imminent, and the distress and suffering that must ensue unless coal becomes available, presents a situation which he thinks should receive the attention of the administration, if there is anything that can be done by the government. Many appeals have been made to him and many suggestions have been received by him, and it was with a view to ascertaining what power the federal authority could evoke that caused the conference to be held.

Don't Warrant Federal Interference.

During the conference every phase of the situation was discussed. The general opinion of the advisers of the President was that the situation did not present a case in which there could be Federal interference by any warrant of law. There has been no interference with Federal authority in the anthracite region, either by stoppage of the mails or resistance of the United States court press. It was pointed out that there was no occasion for the use of Federdal troops, as Governor Stone, of Pennsylvania, had not called on the government for assistance, nor had he even exhausted the resources of the state by calling out the full strength of the state militia. The question of the right to seek the appoinment of receivers for the mines, in order that they might be operated, was discussed, but neither in the constitution nor in any known law could any legal warrant be found for such action, though the discussion on such lines even went so far as the consideration of how the properties could be relinquished and control surrendered, after the object of supplying coal had been accepted, assuming the Federal government could intervene through receivers. The tenor of the whole discussion was to the effect that there was a lack of power in the Federal administration to take any action at the present stage of the strike, although the seriousness of the coal famine now and the much greater evils soon to follow, were considered at length and with a wish to discover some method of ending the industrial deadlock.

Governor Crane's presence naturally brought into prominence the proceedings brought in the Massachusetts court to secure the appointment of receivers for the coal properties, but the opinion was expressed that the situation could not be met successfully by this method.

Might Hamper a Settlement.

During the day advices were received that the strike might be settled by the miners and operators themselves, and it was suggested that hasty interference by the Federal government might prevent the consummation of the plans for a strike settlement, if any such were maturing. While recognizing the futility of efforts to end the strike that would accomplish nothing, it was stated that the President was anxious that the end of the strike should be brought about at the earliest possible moment and that, if the attorney general or any other member of the cabinet could devise a method, by which the President could proceed, that he would not hesitate to adopt it, unless meanwhile assurances of a settlement were received. After yesterday's meeting, Governor Crane left for Massachusetts.

The conference was resumed today, Secretary Root, who spent yesterday in New York, being present. It was understood last night that the visit of Secretary Root to New York was for the purpose of consulting prominent business men on the subject. The Secretary left for New York Monday after a short conference at the White House, when the same men were present, who were at yesterday's conference. It has been intimated that the President may send for the managers of the coal properties, but this will not be done until after the end of the conference today, and perhaps not then.

Root Refused to Talk.

Some confidence was expressed last night over the report Secretary Root may have brought from New York though it could not be learned what communication, if any, had been received from the Secretary while he was in New York. He reached Washington from there about 10 oclock last night, but denied himself to newspapermen and others seeking information.

No official statement was made regarding the conference yesterday though an intimation was given that last night some statement might follow the conference today. As heretofore stated, the main fact made apparent yesterday was, that the President will make every effort he can exert properly and lawfully to stop the strike and avert a fuel famine.

JONES CALLS A MEETING.

Toledo Mayor Issues Proclamation Upon Miners' Strike.

Toledo, O., Oct. 1.—Samuel M. Jones, the Golden Rule mayor, yesterday issued a proclamation regarding the miners' strike, in which, after telling of the strike and the outlook, that, with winter coming, thousands will not be able to get coal, he says:

"This state of affairs has moved some of our fellow citizens in Boston to ask the United States courts to appoint a receiver for the various anthracite mining companies and the coal carrying roads that are the direct cause of the trouble through their absolute refusal to submit the question of their differences to arbitration.

"Believing that this matter is one of vital importance and that these Boston citizens should have the benefit of the moral support of all good people everywhere and for the purpose of giving an opportunity to the people of our city to speak en masse on this topic, I, therefore, call upon all patriotic and liberty-loving citizens, to the extent of their ability, to assemble at Memorial hall, on Oct. 2, 1902, for the purpose of passing suitable resolutions to encourage these Boston citizens in the work that they have undertaken, and such other business as may properly come before the meeting."

MANUFACTURERS ACT.

Their President Invites Mitchell to Conference—He Accepts.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 1.—President D. M. Parry, of the National Association of Manufacturers, last night received from President John Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers, a telegram in answer to one sent him asking if the mine workers would be willing to appoint a committee to meet with a committee from the association and discuss a means of ending the coal strike. The message was dated Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 30, and contained the following:

"Shall be pleased to appoint committee to confer with committee of National Association of Manufacturers. Should prefer meeting in the east."

Upon receiving President Mitchell's telegram Mr. Parry sent Mr. Mitchell another telegram containing the following, in part:

"Your committee should represent those in full authority, including yourself. We suggest Buffalo as place of meeting, any day this week you may designate. Advise number of your committee."

CHAMBERLAIN APPROVED GIFT.

Phipps Said He Would Have Given to English, if Suffering.

New York, Oct. 1.—Henry Phipps, of the Carnegie Steel company, who gave $100,000 to the relief fund for destitute Boers, arrived on the steamship Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse yesterday. Mr. Phipps was reluctant to talk about his gift, but said:

"I sent Arthur White, the author, to see Mr. Chamberlain before he decided what to do and the answer came back that the gift would be all right. If the situation had been changed and England had been the suffering country I would have given her the money."

Husband's Shot Proved Fatal.

Greensburg, Pa., Oct. 1.—Mrs. Miller, who was shot by her husband at Jeannette, Friday night, died yesterday morning. Her husband, E. E. Miller, was arrested, and is now in jail. Mr. Miller is a son of David Miller, of the East End, Pittsburg, and a brother of William Miller, late engineer of the Pittsburg water works construction.

MONEY RATE'S DECLINE HELPED.

New York, Oct. 1.—The stock market, which closed utterly demoralized on Monday, as a result of stringent monetary conditions and other unfavorable circumstances, made a sensational recovery, yesterday. The chief causes for the complete reversal were the action of the secretary of the treasury in removing the restraint on bank reserves and persistent reports from various quarters that the coal strike had at last reached the point where negotiations for a settlement were actually under way. For this last rumor there appeared to be little or no foundation, according to the individual and collective statements of the leading operators, made after the regular weekly meeting.

Money Rate Decline Helped.

Another influence for better prices was the decline in call money rates, though during the morning loans were made as high as 19 per cent. A large part of the day's loans was made at around 10 per cent and the rate at the close down to 2, but the rally was nominal, no money being placed at that figure.

Opening prices were better all the way from a fraction to five points. Wide openings, in which blocks of 2,000, 3,000 and 5,000 shares changed hands, were numerous. The greatest gains were in the Standard Railway shares, notably St. Paul, Louisville and Nashville (which bore the brunt of the previous day's pounding), Missouri Pacific, Union Pacific, the coalers and a number of specialties.

On the floor of the stock exchange the greatest excitement and activity prevailed during the first hour. Brokers on the short side were covering with all possible speed and the bull faction was in absolute control. The list manifested a vacillating tendency soon after the first bulge and many of the active stocks whose initial gains had been largest, receded from one to three points.

The opening rate for call money was 12 per cent, but soon advanced to 18, creating general confusion among those committed to higher prices.

White House Conference Rumors.

The more sensational features of the market developed in the early afternoon on news from Washington intimating that the president and his cabinet had taken steps to terminate the coal strike. In spite of the absence of any confirmation the market seized upon this announcement and with the coal stocks in the lead the entire list shot upward. The market developed a buoyant tone in the last hour, though operations were confined largely to the coalers, which were heavily traded in, and closed at practically best prices for the day. The day's operations were in excess of 1,200,000 shares.

Secretary Shaw's visit to the street and his talks with the leading banking interests helped in no small measure to restore confidence. Local banks loaned moderately.

Detroit Strike Conference Favored.

Detroit, Oct. 1.—The telegraphic invitations sent out Wednesday night by Mayor William C. Maybury to governors of a number of states and the mayors of the principal cities in the east, middle west and northwest, asking them to send delegates to participate in a national conference on the coal strike, have met with a great number of acceptances, and the proposed conference bids fair to be a tremendous gathering. Mayor Ashbridge, of Philadelphia, declined, saying he expected a settlement before the conference could act.

On the Late Pastor With Other Tributes of Affection And Esteem—An Excellent Program — Exercises That Will Long Be Rembered.

Never in the history of the First Methodist Episcopal church has there occured a meeting in which so much feeling was manifested and more regret expressed than was witnessed at the farewell reception tendered Dr. and Mrs. Clark Crawford last night. Whn it came to the leave taking at 10 o'clock, there was scarcely a dry eye in the entire assemblage. Dr. Crawford was beloved by his people, and they took no pains to conceal their feelings.

President T. T. McCann, of the Epworth League had charge of the meeting, and a pleasing musical program was given at the beginning of the service. There was a song by the quartet, a vocal solo by Miss Everson, a piano selection by Mrs. Dix, a vocal solo by Mr. Blount, a humorous recitation by Will G. Morris, the congregational singing of "America," vocal solo by M. C. Williams, of Columbus, a vocal duet by Prof. and Mrs. John Phillis, and then another hymn by the congregation.

The affair was held in the Sunday school room of the church which was crowded. When the musical program was over, Rev. George W. Orcutt, pastor of the Erie street M. E. church in the East End, made an introductory address and at the proper time a piece of cloth was drawn from a large object on the platform which revealed a handsome bookcase that was formally presented to Dr. Crawford by his people.

Rev. Mr. Orcutt said: "We sometimes pause but never stop. Methodism goes on. The pastor of this church has never been without an appointment for a single moment and this church has never been without a pastor, yet there are changes which take place.

"The relationship of pastor and people is the most sacred outside of family ties. The four years that have passed will never be forgotten by this church. There have been times of joy and sorrow, words of welcome, the joys of matrimony and sadder scenes when the pastoral relationship has been evident in the deepest trials. A pastor's prayers and presence have brought relief and comfort. There is a special memory for Dr. Crawford to the converts of his ministry that will be deeper than perhaps for any other."

Mr. Orcutt remembered the everlasting image of the bearded preacher who had placed a hand on his head at the mourner's bench. That pastor had never been forgotten although others had come and gone. Think of that multitude of similar experience who love Dr. Crawford. He then asked those present who had been blesed by the present pastor to arise and there were persons who stood up in every portion of the room.

Rev. Mr. Orcutt then said that four years did not seem very long, but he recalled of the 123 honored dead in the M. E. conference the average pastoral service had been 28 years. Four years is 14 per cent. and practically 25 per cent. of Dr. Crawford's life given to East Liverpool people.

"It will go into history."

The speaker then gave a present to the deaconness, Miss Wallace, who is about leaving the city.

Dr. Crawford, with much emotion, stepped in front of the audience. He said that when he came to East Liverool four years ago his thoughts wer i nthe past.

Tonight his thoughts rank with the past in the consideration of a certain work ended. The commissior is now a matter of history. When he left that land of flowers and dropped into the smoke and fog of East Liverpool, he frequently asked his wife, "What is the matter with the sun?" He hoped then that the people were not as dark and gloomy as the atmosphere. Warm hearts were found and they had been found all through the charge.

A pastor of Pasadena, Cal., had said to him, "What will you do if you get into a cold pastorate after five years of revival?" He did not know but what he would get up a revival when he got here, but they had the revival fires burning.

"The object of the ministry is to save men and women. I don't know what to do if I can't get where souls can be brought to Jesus." He had gone into his new charge at Akron with just a little anxiety. He felt that he was going leaning on the arm of Christ with a prayer on his lips that he might be epuipped for any share in the work of that church.

Relations with East Liverpool people had been replete with gratitude and thanksgiving, yet it had been a pastorate of very hard work. Not enough time was taken for rest. Night and day there was labor for this church and the building of the Kingdom. He had sought to do his duty loyally and faithfully, yet he had seen where improvements could have been made. God is gracious and forgiving where faults and failings are not intentional. Compensation is felt for saving so many souls.

Pleasant and delightful have been the associations, Dr. Crawford declaring that he had always been a man of pacific spirit. That had reigned throughout his residence in this city. There had been a beautiful and unbroken fellowship. A debt of thanks is due to the predecessor. No collapse came and the work has been carried forward.

But, tenderest of memories would cluster around this altar and that above where new souls have been born into the Kingdom. His heart will burn as he thinks of these scenes. Two hundred and fifty East Liverpool funerals have been attended by Dr. Crawford. Forty-five of them have been members of the church, not including those that were probationary.

Dr. Crawford spoke at some length concerning his close connection with the flock. He wanted the people to offer their prayerful help to the charge that he was about to undertake. In accepting his gift he said that Mrs. Crawford might offer objections as she frequently interposed a tender remonstrance against his late hours in the library. He valued the love of the membership more than any temporal offering.

The final handshaking was a touching portion of the evening.

Miss Wallace, the deaconness, will leave tomorrow for her home in Iowa, stopping off for a short time in Chicago. Later she expects to go to California to spend the winter in the hope of benefitting her health. Miss Wallaces' departure is deeply regretted, and she is followed by the kindest wishes of a host of friends.

Scott's Emulsion does some things better than others. This is one of them. It has a peculiar action on the throat and lungs which gives them strength and makes them tough.

The Proper Treatment For a Sprained Ankle.

As a rule a man will feel well satisfied if he can hobble around on crutches two or three weeks after spraining his ankle, and it is usually two or three months before he has fully recovered. This is an unnecessary loss of time, for in many cases in which Chamberlain's Pain Balm has been promptly and freely applied, a complete cure has been effected in less than one week's time, and in some cases within three days. STRIKERS HOPEFUL.

Peaceful, Because They Anticipated a Settlement With the Operators.

MITCHELL TALKED TO A PERSON,

In New York, Over the Telephone, Last Night—Rumored He Might Go to Gotham Any Time Now—Both Sides Make Claims.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 1.—President Mitchell was still silent last night on his visit to Philadelphia, Monday. He said he is not in a position to speak, but declared that the party he was in conference with did not represent the coal operators. This declaration was considered important, as Mr. Mitchell would not deny that indirectly the persons he represented might be authorized to speak for the coal company. The impression at strike headquarters was that the mysterious man in the case is one of J. P. Morgan's financial agents and that he stands very close to P. A. B. Widener. It was also believed that the party who conferred with the miners' chief got his best terms for a settlement of the strike and that these terms were being discussed by the mine owners. President Mitchell will say nothing until the other side is heard from. He said to the Associated Press last night that he had no statement of any kind to give out. District Presidents Nicholls, Duffy and Fahy were still here. It was thought they were waiting for developments and might be summoned to a council any time.

Strikers Expect a Settlement.

Detachments from the Eighth and Ninth regiments made tours of the Wyoming and part of the Lackawanna regions yesterday, but found no crowds at the mines. The strikers were very peaceful, the feeling being strong among them that the end is near and that no more agitation is needed.

The chief officers of the miners' union went to Nanticoke today to attend the funeral of Joseph Gillis, who was killed by a coal and iron policeman at that place Sunday evening. The officers of the union claim Gillis was deliberately murdered.

District President Nicholls said 44 non-union men employed in the mines at Hyde Park quit work yesterday. He also reported that the Cayuga mine, in the Scranton district, was idle, after being in operation for a long period. President Fahy said many non-union men in his district were also quitting work and joining the miners' union.

Last evening President Mitchell talked over the 'phone with a party in New York. It was rumored that Mr. Mitchell might go to New York at almost any time now.

Shenandoah, Pa., Oct. 1.—Sheriff Knorr, of Columbia county, arrested 127 strikers at Centralia yesterday afternoon. They were charged on the warrants with rioting and inciting to riot.

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 1.—Perfect quiet reigned throughout the Lackawanna region yesterday. Not as much as a single case of stone throwing was reported.

School Children Went on Strike.

Sixty boys from the Boderly school, in Carbondale township, went on strike yesterday because seven children of non-union miners would not be turned out. They then marched with banners and drums to the Mayfield school and induced the boys there to strike. A majority of the pupils at No. 11 school, in this city, struck yesterday morning because coal which was being delivered at the school was reported to be "unfair" or mined by non-union men.

The local headquarters of the mine workers made claims yesterday that many men had quit work at various collieries, but in each instance the company officials denied emphatically that this was true, and made the counter claim that their forces were constantly growing. No colliery or washery has been started up in nearly two weeks, but the 40 places in this region that were operating prior to that time are all in operation.

There is No Question About it. It's a Plain Statement of Facts—Made By An East Liverpool Citizen.

Mrs. Margaret Tracy, of No. 179 Seventh street, East Liverpool, Ohio, says: "One of my family was very nervous, subject to nervous spells—weak and miserable—could not sleep and the digestion was very poor. I asked the invalid to take Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills I got at Larkin's Drug Store. The result was splendid—the medicine built her up—enriched the blood—made the nerves strong—gave restful sleep and so strengthened the stomach that digestion was perfect—the old time languid, played out feeling has given place to one of strength and energy and as a result we are more than pleased with the medicine."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package.

Refused Carnegie Library.

London, Oct. 1.—The committee of the Marylebone borough council has drawn up a report recommending that the council thank Andrew Carnegie for his offer of $150,000 for the establishment of free libraries, "which they cannot see their way to accept." The refusal is based on the objection of the borough to the increased rates which would be entailed by the acceptance of the libraries.

FASTER THAN A WALK

A Horse Which Became Frightened At a Car Heeded No Warning.

An unknown man and a fractious horse, created a little excitement on the bridge yesterday. The horse became frightened at an approaching street car and the man, in an attempt to avoid the car, trotted the horse across the bridge. J. F. Spivey, the bridge-tender halted the man and called his attention to the fine of five dollars for driving faster than a walk across the bridge. As the man undoubtedly had reasons for urging his horse the matter was dropped, after the administering of a severe reprimand.

There is, for instance, the Eureka gold mine, probably the highest in the world, situated 14,000 feet up in the Andes range, not far from the city of Jujuy, in Argentina. So high is this mine that it is only worked with great difficulty owing to the "mountain sickness" and to similar troubles to which workers at this immense altitude, almost three miles in the air, are subject.

The Eskimos call this phenomenon "the duck and ducklings," and any one who has watched the progress of the elder duck followed by her brood will appreciate the aptitude of the name.

Strange as it may seem, plants grow and blossom upon these great ice mountains. When a glacier is at rest, moss attaches itself to it, protecting the ice beneath, just as sawdust does. After a time the moss decays and forms a soil, in which the seeds of buttercups and dandelions, brought by the wind, take root and flourish.

Those who have traveled in arctic lands say they have found no point yet where the poppy does not bloom during the brief northern summer.

Lacemaking by Hand.

Making lace by hand is a well developed art in Paraguay. It was taught the natives 200 years ago by the missionaries and has been transmitted from generation to generation till it is now quite general throughout the republic. Some towns are devoted to making a certain kind of lace. In one town of 8,000 or 9,000 inhabitants almost all the women and children and many of the men make lace collarettes, handkerchiefs and ladies' ties. Another town makes lace embroidery and others drawn thread work, such as centerpieces, try mates, teacloths and doilies. The designs used in making the lace are taken from the curious webs of the semitropical spiders that are so numerous there. On this account it is called "nanduti," an Indian name which means spider web.

THE RECORD.

What Democracy Has Done About Trusts.

No Attempt to Execute Existing Statutes—Both Law Making and Law Enforcing Things Left to Republicans—The Record.

Mr. Bryan and other Democratic leaders are appealing to the record of their party against the trusts. It has none.

The first declaration against trusts in a national platform was made by the Republican convention of 1888. A resolution by William McKinley, declaring "opposition to all combinations of capital organized in trusts or otherwise to control arbitrarily the condition of trade," and recommending to "congress and state legislatures in their respective jurisdictions such legislation as will prevent the execution of all schemes to oppress the people by undue charges on their supplies or by unjust rates for the transportation of their products to market," was adopted.

In carrying out that instruction of the Republican party a Republican congress enacted the Sherman anti-trust law of 1890 and five Republican states enacted anti-trust laws between 1889 and 1891. The Sherman anti-trust bill was passed by Republican votes, and was opposed by the Democrats in the senate and house.

In the platforms of 1892 both parties demanded additional legislation against the trusts. The Democrats elected the president and secured control of congress. The president made no specific recommendation, and the congress enacted no anti-trust laws.

In 1896 the Democratic convention demanded the more rigid enforcement of the Sherman law, and additional trust legislation of 1890.

In 1900 the Democratic convention pledged the Democratic party to the enforcement of existing (Republican) laws against the trusts, and to the enactment of more stringent laws. The Republicans elected the president and a majority in congress.

The supreme court havinng decided that "the Sherman act does not affect contracts in restraint of trade unless they interfere directly and substantially with interstate commerce," and that "a state act which imposes limitations upon the power of a corporation created under the laws of another state, to make contracts within the state for carrying on commerce between the states, violates that clause of the constitution which confers upon congress the exclusive right to regulate commerce," the Republicans proposed a constitutional amendment, enlarging the powers of congress to control corporations and to terminate their existence.

The proposition was opposed at every stage by the Democrats. For it 150 Republicans and 4 Democrats voted. Against it were 130 Democrats and 2 Republicans. Two-thirds not having voted in the affirmative, the resolution failed, and the Democrats were responsible for the failure.

To evade this responsibility the Democratic leaders are clamoring for the enforcement of existing (Republican) laws, contending that no additional legislation is necessary. If the Democratic leaders are honest in this they ought to give hearty support to Attorney General Knox in his proceedings against trusts.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Brave Men.

Persians in general are not supposed to be the bravest people in the world, but even in Persia the inhabitants of Kashan, a mercantile city, are notorious for their lack of a warlike spirit.

Their pusillanimity has passed into a proverb and given rise to many stories.

One of the best of these is that when Nadir Shah disbanded his army on its return from India the 30,000 men belonging to Kashan and its sister city of Ispahan applied for an escort of 100 musketeers to see them safely home.

LEAP FROM ELEVATOR CAUSES FATAL HURT TO A YOUNG GIRL

Nannie Bucey, an employe of the decalcomania department of the K. T. & K. pottery, was fatally injured a few minutes after 12 o'clock today.

The girl, who is but 14 years of age, is employed as a decalcomaniia worker at the Walnut street decorating shop of the firm, and with 50 others has been very fond of riding on the elevator which passes through the department, and which is used to convey the decorated ware to and from the shop on the second floor.

Sallie DeBee and the Bucey girl are said to have gone below for the purpose of securing boxes, and after obtaining a number started the elevator toward the second story. The conveyance is run by hydraulic power, and the girls had no difficulty in stopping it at the proper place. As they were about to alight, the DeBee girl going first, some one upon the third floor is said to have released the elevator and it began slowly to ascend. Poth girls became terrified at once, and it is thought Miss Bucey attempted to jump from the cage as it was clearing the top portion of the door.

When she was caught the floor of the elevator was about four feet above the level of the decalcomania shop, and the unfortunate girl disappeared between the moving cage and the side of the elevator shaft. The space is not more than six inches wide and the little body was caught and terribly crushed about the stomach, head and breast. So tigthly did the body become wedged that the massive machine was stopped.

Other girls were attracted by the outcry, and all rushed to the door of the shaft. At the same time the employes of the decorating shop above hurried to the opening. They were horrified to see the body of the Bucy girl dangling in mid air, with the blood streaming from her body, and legs. A few had sufficient presence of mind to catch at the rope and release the body.

In a semi-conscious condition little Miss Bucey was tenderly carried to a large table in the decorating shop, and Dr. Bailey and the ambulance summoned. It was soon decided that nothing could be done for the relief of the sufferer until she could be taken home, and arrangements were at once made to carry out the plan.

HELPLESS FROM A FIT WHEN TRAIN STRUCK HIM

Unconscious, mangled and bleeding, Samuel Eckels, aged 22 years, a resident of Jethro Hollow, lay alongside of the C. & P. railroad track near Golding's flint mill yesterday afternoon for over an hour without attention, with face turned upward receiving the pelts of the dashing rain which poured throughout the day.

When discovered by three laborers employed by the bridge contractor, doing work a short distance below the mill, Eckels was yet unconscious, and it was thought that he was dead. They shook him vigorously, however, and noticing a quiver of his lips, and the twitching of his muscles, were convinced that life was not totally extinct and immediately constructed a rude cot on which they bore him to his home.

A physician was called and by the application of strong restoratives revived the young man, but not readily. A long, deep gash had been inflicted in his head and his body was otherwise badly bruised. The physician was compelled to take several stitches in sewing the wound, but states, notwithstanding that, Eckels will be confined to his bed for a number of days as the result of the accident, he is not in immediate danger of fatal results.

Eckels is subject to attacks of epilepsy and it was while wrestling with a fit that he met with the accident. He has been employed as water carrier by the bridge gang and was carrying a bucket up the track when seized with an attack. He states that he knew the attack was coming on and heard the east bound passenger coming up behind him, but was unable to move. While struggling with his terrible malady the engine struck him with terrific force, knocking him quite a distance. He does not remember whether the engineer sounded a warning signal or whether he slowed up after striking him. Nor does he remember whether he was prostrate or standing when struck.

His parents, it is said, will not permit him to work again near the railroad, and are thinking of making application for his admittance to the hospital at Gallipolis.

Lisbon, October 1.—(Special)—Lisbon was given a sensation this morning when it was reported that Cyrus W. Pritchard, time-keeper at the tin mill had disappeared, leaving behind him unpaid bills aggregating $6,000. Pritchard left Lisbon Saturday, some reports being to the effect that he had a companion, and others that he was alone.

Pritchard's short-comings became public this morning when Lodge Riddle, attorney for W. H. Bar, roller at the tin mill, filed attachment proceedings with County Clerk McNutt on four promissory notes, aggregating $1,237.

The notes were given on the dates named for the following amounts: August 30, 1902, $220; September 10, 1902, $432; September 13, 1902, $360; September 14, 1902, 125. In his affidavit Mr. Bar declares his belief that Pritchard has absconded, and that Frank P. Moore and Ed. F. Moore, as executors and trustees under the will of Mary Moore Pritchard holds moneys, claims and real estate in trust for Pritchard, the amount of which is unknown. Nothing has been found as yet with which to satisfy the claim.

Pritchard is said to have been living at a rapid pace lately, and the news of his disappearance is received with no surprise. He is a comparatively young man and has held the position at the tin mill ever since the plant was built ten years ago.

He has a wife and three children living here. Among other persons to whom he is said to be indebted are Judge J. G. Moore, Dr. Frank Moore, Bert Lyder, Harry George, the opera house orchestra, of which he was manager, and Mrs. Ida Eells, who conducts a grocery store in the East End. Mrs. Eells received a letter from Pittschard Monday, dated at Pittsburg, saying he would be home Monday evening.

It develops that he was discharged from the mill last Saturday for tampering with the pay envelopes.

Pritchard, it is said, has been noted for crooked dealings all of his life. It is related that when he was at college he forged some notes on a near relative, and the fraud was not discovered until the notes matured several years later.

FINE OF $50 AND COSTS

Four brothers, Daniel, John, David and Isaac Gourley, accompanied by their bosom friend, the notorious "Chongeye" Carraher, who escaped jail two weeks ago, were arraigned before the mayor this morning, all charged with drunkenness and vagrancy. To the charge they pleaded not guilty and were remanded back to their cells until this afternoon at 1 o'clock when they were again arraigned and this time tney pleaded guilty.

The mayor told them that he had given them all the chances in the world, and that the entire bunch is looked upon with terror by the peaceable citizens, and that the general public would not be satisfied until they were driven from the city. He also told them that he had conclusive evidence that two of them were the men who attempted to gain an entrance to Thomas Teeford's house, as exclusively mentioned in the News Review, and that he knew positively that they had stolen the jardinieres which have been reported lost during the past few weeks. At the conclusion of his speech the mayor sentenced each of the quintet to the Canton work house until a fine of $50 and costs is paid. They will be taken to the works tomorrow, where they will remain until late next spring.

MORE PURCHASES BY THE C. & P.

Representatives of the real estate departments of the Cleveland and Pittsburg railroad have been working in this city since Monday trying to secure, and also purchasing property fronting upon the railroad between this city and Wellsville. This property is needed to complete the plans already mapped out by the company for the extention of its new tracks between the two cities. The company at Wellsville yesterday completed the deal for the purchase of the property owned by Nat Ridner, which extends 300 feet along the railroad, and the consideration in the deal was $1,500. Property owned by Mrs. Thomas Blackmore is being sought, and this transfer may be completed this week. Property also owned by Walter B. Hill, and A. M. Peterson will, it is said, be under option in a day or so. In fact, all these sales may be consummated this week.

With the purchase of these properties the railroad company will have practically secured all the property that is needed for the completion of the improvements that are now under way. With the exception of the Ridner property, all other tracts are located on the north side of the railroad, while the Ridner property is located on the south side of the track, near "Driven from home" hill.

Lisbon, October 1.—(Special)—William Daugherty, who has been in jail since June 18, and was indicted in July by a special grand jury for assault with intent to kill, pleaded guilty in court yesterday afternoon to the charge of assault. His sentence is 60 days in the Canton workhouse and costs of prosecution.

Will Not Go With Mercer.

William Bradley, third baseman of the Cleveland American League team, will not accompany Win Mercer, of this city, on his tour to the Pacific coast. Mercer is getting together nearly all of the star performers of the American league for the purpose of touring it across the continent, winding up on with a series with the best teams on the coast. Mercer is now very desirous of getting Rhody Wallace to take his place, but Wallace is reported ready to decline the offer.

POLICE AID IS SOUGHT IN LOCATING LOST WIFE

After searching in vain for two days and nights in this city and Chester for his wife, who, he alleges, eloped two weeks ago with a man who boarded at his home, Daniel Devore, of Toronto, applied to central police station last evening and solicited the aid of the officers in locating his spouse.

To a friend in the city yesterday he stated that it is not due to the love that he has for his wife that he wants to find her, but it is because she has in her name property worth $1,600 which he wants to regain possession of. He turned the property over to her upon their marriage several years ago, but when he did so it was with the verbal agreement that she be true to him. Now, he says, she has proven false, he is determined that she shall not enjoy the fruits of the estate.

In a state bordering on distraction the deserted husband scoured the city and to a number of people told his tale in a pitiful manner. Never suspecting his wife of unfaithfulness he says he was completely dumfounded upon returning home one evening from his work at the American Sewer Pipe company's plant to find that his wife was gone with one of his most trusted boarders.

He waited patiently for her to return for several days, and she not putting in an appearance or sending him word, he instituted a search. She has friends and relatives in this city and the husband feels confident that she is in the vicinity.

Telephonic communication with the city officials at Toronto this morning revealed the fact that the officers of that town have been on the lookout for the woman ever since her disappearance, but they have not been able even to get a trace of her whereabouts. The woman, they state, was once highly respected in Toronto, but during the past few months had carried herself in a rather loose manner. Her maiden name was Wilson.

Willling to concede all reasonable demands, but decidedly in disfavor of making a concession which would not only jeopardize their business interests, but would cause dissatisfaction among their patrons, 40 members of the Business Men's association held a meeting last evening and turned down without a dissenting vote a proposition presented by a committee of the Retail Clerks' association.

The proposition was that the association discontinue the keeping open of stores on Monday evening after 6 o'clock. This, the members felt, could not be done, and after but little consideration ordered the proposition returned to the clerks. A member stated this morning that the business is now so congested on Saturday and Monday evening that it is impossible to handle the trade. Were the conditions such as to eliminate these evenings they might as well retire from the business, he said.

Several other concessions asked by the Retail association were looked upon with favor and may be granted. One of them applies to the keeping open on the eves of holidays. The clerks want the stores closed at the usual time, 6 o'clock, on such evenings, and it is said that practically every member of the B. M. A. is willing to vote to that end. The stand taken by the association is not contrary to the judgment of the public. The people desire that they be kept open on Monday evening, and the business men intend to comply with this wish.

The proposition presented was in the hands of three women and one man. They at first applied to the association and when given a voice made their demand known. It was done verbally, and they were ordered to retire and present the proposition in writing if they wished action taken. They did this, but not in the usual manner. Not only was the proposition devoid of the Retail association's stamp, it is said, but it had not the signatures of the proper officials. On this point alone the business men could have turned it down, but instead devoted attention to its demands.

After ordering the proposition returned to the clerks the president of the association instructed the secretary to prepare a resolution and hand it to the clerks for their acceptance. It will be placed in their hands at the regular meeting to be held tomorrow evening.

WILL DECLINE DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION FOR CONGRESS.

Is Engaged in Writing Out His Reasons—Committees Cannot Move Him.

T. J. Duffy, Labor candidate for congress, is this afternoon engaged upon his answer to the Democratic congressional committee.

Mr. Duffy stated that he has not changed his mind and cannot accept the Democratic nomination. The document which Mr. Duffy is now at work upon will be delivered into the hands of J. J. Weisend this evening.

The meeting of the Labor party executive committee in session at Alliance today will have no effect upon the decision of Mr. Duffy, and is called for the purpose of laying plans for the coming campaign.

President A. S. Hughes, of the N. B. of O. P., is representing the East Liverpool labor people. The city chairman, John T. Wood, was unable to go, and Mr. Hughes went in his stead.

THE NASH CODE PASSES SENATE

Only the Police Court Section of the Bill Is Eliminated From It.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, October 1. — The Nash code in all its entirety, save the police court section, was passed by the senate late Tuesday afternoon by a strict party vote. The Democrats tried to block its passage by resorting to obstruction tactics. The Republicans claimed they made a pledge to vote for the bill, but the Democrats denied this and insisted that their action was proper. With the police court provision in the bill a two-third vote was necessary to pass it, and as the Republicans could not muster this strength without receiving Democratic votes, in order to force the passage of the measure they took out the police court section, converting it into a separate bill, and soon secured its passage, a bare majority only being required. The Democrats offered an amendment to strike out the curative act in the bill, but it did not prevail. Senator Harding introduced the police court bill and it may be passed today. As has been stated it will take a two-thirds vote to pass it. Had the Republicans not eliminated it from the code they could not have passed it. The session was the stormiest yet held in the extraordinary session. The opposition which came from the minority was unexpected.

Senator Connell says that he will speak on the application for a pardon for Zach S. Robison, life man from Columbiana, at the next meeting of the state pardon board. Warden Darby and the penitentiary officials will do what they can to aid Robison, who, they declare, is the best behaved inmate of the prison. Zach has had charge of the paint gang for several years.

There were "doins" in the house, too. Guerin, of Erie, offered his curative amendment, which was adopted after a warm fight by a vote of 55 to 35. Eight Democrats stood out against Tom Johnson's threats and voted for the measure. Tom will be

The pottery in this city is running about the same as usual, but still work is a little slack. The clay hands are making from seven to eight days a pay. There is also a shortage of saggers, and owing to this fact the glost kilnmen are not making as much time as they would like to.

Patrick Rafferty, who has been working out his notice, thinking he would take a position at Akron, has changed his mind, and instead he will go to Trenton. Trenton was his former home. Samuel Thomas, who was formerly employed at this shop, and who recently went to New Castle, has written to his friends here stating he has a good position and proposes to remain.

Fletcher Massey, who left the Peoria shop to go to East Liverpool, has been working for a few days at Sebring. He is expected to arrive at East Liverpool in a few weeks.

Some changes have been made in the plan to give Samuel Brooks the dishmaking bench, which was made vacant by the resignation of Samuel Thomas. The company will keep the position open until next month, when the position will be given to an apprentice, whose time will expire within a few weeks. Samuel Brooks, who had the promise of this position, has secured a position at Derry and will leave for there soon. William Swan, who has also been working in the local clay shops, will also go to Derry when that shop commences operation.

The company has received a rush order for ware, and during the week three cars will be packed and shipped, which will clean the glost warehouse of every piece of ware in it. The company is in need of ware, but from some unknown cause it cannot be got through the kilns fast enough.

SHIPPING PIPE.

The Eastern Ohio Sewer Pipe company, at Irondale, owned principally by Fred Owesney and Alf. Freeman, of Steubenville, has made and shipped twenty-four cars of pipe to points in the east, the first pipe having been burned in the kilns 60 days ago. Six kilns are being used and six more are under construction. The plant is to be increased to 20 kilns all of which are of the largest kind. The kilns are 23 feet in diameter. Pipes are made ranging from two to 36 inches in size. Asbestos covering is being put around all of the heating and steam pipes both inside and outside of the building. Men are now setting a large mixing pan, also an immense grinding pan. The main building is of brick, two stories high and covers a ground surface of 91x300 feet. There are four floors with machine room annex. It is a plant that is complete in all of its appointments. The company has its own dynamo and electric light. At each machine is a push button which communicates with the engine room. In case of accident machinery can be stopped immediately so the safety devices are important. There are numerous elevators and labor saving machines. It is anticipated that the remaining kilns will be built by spring and when under full operation about 250 men will be employed day and night. Only about half that number are employed at present.

A NEW COMPANY.

Articles of incorporation will soon be filed at Columbus by the American Ceramic Art company, of this city, capital stock about $20,000. The incorporators, who are all local people, will be George Heisler, general manager of the decorating department of the Warwick pottery, Wheeling; Charles Pelley, of East End; Harry Waggoner, of the National China company and Ernest W. Thompson, a well known local business man. This company has been formed for several weeks, and its plant has already been arranged. Quarters have been secured in that part of the building on Railroad street formerly occupied by Frank E. Oyster. A large kiln, heated by oil, has been purchased and tested. Trials have been run through the kiln with excellent results, and from the experiments that have already been made, the venture is an assurd success. It is the intention of this new firm to enter the general decorating business, and already a number of large orders have been secured. The company will not only decorate ware for private customers, but for the general trade. It frequently occurs that the manufacturers of this city are pushed in their decorating departments, and from now on this rushing will be alleviated. It is also the intention of this new firm to decorate imported china, and for this work some of the best decorators in the district have been engaged. The policy that will be followed by this firm will in no manner conflict with any other industry in this city, and judging from present appearances, the company will handle a large business. The decorating of special pieces of ware will be given close attention by the new firm.

WANTS TO COME BACK.

About a year ago a well known local pottery workman secured what he thought was a good position in a Trenton shop. His position at that time was netting him not less than $4 a day. He worked out his two weeks' notice and soon afterwards went to Trenton. Several letters were received from him soon after he arrived in the east, and in them he spoke of the good time he was having, the money he was making and all that sort of thing. Then letters ceased to come to his local friends. A few days ago one of the prominent manufacturers in this city received a letter from him in which he asked if he could not be furnished employment. He also said that he was working but from four to five days a pay, and occasionally he would get in six days. He seemed to be tired of that way of working and said if he could get a position in East Liverpool again he would never leave the city. He will come back on these conditions, it is said.

AGED POTTER DEAD.

Former Deputy Revenue Collector John M. Pruden, the oldest pottery man in Elizabeth, if not in New Jersey, is dead. He was born in Elizabeth, and his father, Keen Pruden, was the pioneer of the pottery industry in Elizabeth. He was succeeded in it by his son, John, who had for a partner William Alcot. Afterwards the business was sold to the Beebower Pottery company. Mr. Pruden was appointed during the Harrison administration as deputy revenue collector, the only political position he ever held. His father was one of the early presidents of the National State bank at Elizabeth, and was succeeded as president by the late Colonel John Kean, father of United States Senator Kean. Mr. Pruden was a strong Republican in politics. He is survived by a widow and an only son, Caleb C. Pruden, who is a wealthy man and sole heir to his father's estate. The dead man was one of the most honored residents of Elizabeth.

MATTERS ARE ALL SETTLED.

The work of preliminary steps to form a relief association among the employes of the kiln and dipping departments of the Laughlin potteries Nos. 2 and 3, have about been completed, and it is expected that collections for the association will commence not later than Saturday. A meeting of the committee upon by-laws and constitution was held Monday morning and yesterday morning a general meeting of the employes was held. It was then that a full report of the by-laws committee was read for the first time. The constitution of the new association was read for the first time. The constitution of the new association is almost similar to that which has governed the association at the National pottery, although a few changes in some of the rules have been made. It is thought that the new association will start off with a membership of about 50, and it is possible this number will be exceeded.

NEW CLEVELAND SHOP.

Much has been said and written relative to Mr. Crook retiring from the Akron Pottery company, and what business he proposed to follow. It is now stated upon authority that Mr. Cook will locate in Cleveland, and that he will have an almost exclusive business. He is now having built at Cleveland a large decorating shop, and will enter the general decorating business upon a large scale. Decorating kilns will be built and a number of first class decorators, it is said, will be employed. In this manner a person will be enabled to purchase a piece of white ware or china, take them to this shop, tell what is wanted upon it, and within a few days, the order is finished. This is the same plan that will be followed by the American Ceramic Art company, which was recently organized in this city.

POTTER'S DEATH.

John Shue, aged 30, died yesterday at the home of his brother-in-law in Steubenville. He was born in Port Washington but has worked in the Steubenville pottery several years. He married Miss Mary Poole, of Steubenville, who survives with five children. He is also survived by the mother and one sister, Mrs. Fred Albright, and the following half-sisters and brothers: Mrs. Fred Black, Martins Ferry; Mrs. Wm. McGrew, Sebring; Misses Emma and Kate and Daniel and Thomas Wise, and Eva and Harry Lidy. He was a member of the Mystic Circle, of the Knights of the Golden Eagle and of Union No. No. 20, N. B. of O. P.

SMALL DECORATING KILN.

Theodore Leissel is a printer at the Smith-Phillips pottery, but this fact does not prohibit him from having higher ambitions. When his work is through at the pottery, Mr. Leissel devotes his attention to other lines, and in so doing, he is in a fair way to build up a business of his own. He has commenced the erection of a small decoarting kiln on his property in the Klondike section, and after his labor is finished at the pottery he will devote his time to experimenting in the decoration of ware. He has made several experiments of late in this particular line, all of which have been successful.

FIREMEN STAYED AT HOME.

Mr. W. G. Croxall, one of the owners and managers of the Kokomo sanitary shop, has been in the city for several days, not looking for many workmen, but just one, a kiln fireman. These workmen appear to be a scarce article, at least Mr. Croxall stated, and in one instance he offered one fireman an advance of $11 a week more than he is now receiving, but the fireman rejested the proposition with thanks. It appears that very few firemen care to leave the city, no matter how good a proposition they receive to do so. Mr. Croxall returned home last evening.

SCOTT WAS IN TOWN.

Samuel Scott, general manager of the Zanesville Art Pottery, was in the city a few days ago placing orders for some machinery, which is to be shipped as soon as possible. Mr. Scott stated that the shop was in full operation, and that all the workmen were making good time. There are seven kilns at this pottery, all being used for biscuit and glost firing. The glost ware is fired in the upper part of the kilns, while the lower part is used for biscuit purposes.

OVERCOME BY HEAT.

William McCoy, a kilnman, employed at the Union Porcelain works, at Trenton, was overcome by the heat while at work yesterday morning, and was taken to St. Francis hospital. McCoy was found to be suffering of thermic fever, and was given a cold bath and other treatment.

SOME LISBON NEWS.

Alexander Bayer, who has been employed at the Lisbon pottery, has gone to the New Castle pottery. He was employed while in Lisbon as manager of the slip house, and he will have a similar position in New Castle.

Robert Walters, well known in East Liverpool, who has been in Lisbon ever since the new pottery commenced operations, has taken charge of the clay shops, the department in which Mr. Bayer was employed.

A FLINT SALESMAN.

W. S. Chase, of Trenton, connected with a flint and spar company of that city, has been spending a few days in this district, calling upon the manufacturers.

GONE TO TRENTON.

Charles Harrison, a local decalcomania salesman, left last evening for Trenton where he will remain for a few days on business.

Salineville, October 1.—Thomas Hurley and John Hurley have returned from Monessen. The people of that vicinity are thoroughly convinced from the evidence produced that Michael Hurley was murdered. EAST END

BIG JOB OF GRADING

It has been years since so much grading has been done in the vicinity of Ralston's Crossing, and the plant of the United Power company as has been done this year. First there was excavating for the new plant to be built by the East Liverpool Brick Manufacturing company, and no sooner was this completed than work was commenced by Contractor McLaughlin and others, in grading for additional tracks about this city.

So far, it has been estimated by Mr. McLaughlin that from 25,000 to 35,000 yards of excavating will be required on that part of the contract which has been let.

The earth secured from this source is not only being used to widen the road in the vicinity of Ralston's Crossing, but it is also being used to fill in that hollow just east of the crossing, and west of the trestle on the street railway. At present there are 14 teams at work on this contract and from 40 to 50 men employed. The contractore would employ more teams and men but it appears they cannot be had at any price. All teams that have been used for grading purposes about the city during the past summer are still busy on unfinished contracts, and will be for some time to come. It is thought the grading for this improvement will be completed within four months, at least the railroad company would like to have the work done in that time. As there is considerable rock in the hillside at Ralston, much explosive material is being used.

Where the excavating is being done, a space of 21 feet will be cleared north of the railroad tracks. It may be, although a decision has not been reached by the railroad company on the matter, that a space of 51 feet will be graded near the Laughlin pottery, No. 1. It is thought that by the time the contractors reach that part of their work the railroad company will have reached a decision in this particular matter. When the present plans of the railroad company are completed, the company will have a three track road through the city.

J. D. McMurray's Reported Reason for Going to Pennsylvania.

J. D. McMurray is reported to be a resident of Pennsylvania. How long he will remain there cannot be told. Yesterday several boys employed at the Laughlin pottery threw some particles as several persons were passing the plant, and one of these struck McMurray. McMurray then picked up a stone and in throwing it at those whom he supposed were the boys who threw at him, struck Frank Dixon on the head, cutting a esevere gash. He was removed to his home, where his injuries were dressed by a physician.

Dixon was not mixed up in the affair, and, it is said, when McMurray heard what had been done he went to the neighboring state.

Scarcity of Brick.

Owing to the fact that the American Sewer Pipe company has been unable to get the required materials, work upon the new kilns to be built at the East End plant has been delayed much longer than was expected. An official of the East End plant said today that the three new kilns would be built just as soon as it was possible to do so, but owing to the condition of the brick market it has been impossible to get brick to begin the improvement. It is thought the kilns will be erected by the company's bricklayers

Meeting in Private House.

Instead of holding meetings in any public place in the East End, the members of the Free Methodist church are now meeting in private houses. The meetings are not held in the same residence each evening, but throughout different parts of the East End. A number of conversions have been reported to have been made at these meetings.

Goes to Parkersburg.

Walter Smith, who has been employed as an extra conductor by the East Liverpool Railway company, has resigned his position and within a few days will leave for Parkersburg, where he will take a position on the Ohio River railroad. He will first start as a freight brakeman, but has been assured that he will be promoted to the position of freight conductor within a short time.

Circle Cleared $75.

A settlement was made last evening between the officials of the East End branch of the Protected Home Circle and the officials of the Cleveland & Pittsburg railroad for the running of a special train from this city to Cascade Park in August. After all bills had been paid the circle cleared about $75

UNIVERSITY EXTENSION

Many Works in Carnegie Library Which Will Aid Students.

In speaking of the university extension work which Prof. Rayman has begun in this city, Miss Baker, the librarian of the Carnegie public library, said:

"All people interested in the university extension lectures which begin next Friday evening will be glad to learn that the Carnegie library has a number of books which will make good supplementary reading. Prof. Sparks' lectures on American history are not merely the recital of events in the nation's career without sign of the actors connected therewith. Instead of this it is the history of the nation as associated with the lives of the men who made it. Benjamin Franklin, Samuel Adams, John Adams, Robert Morris, Alexander Hamilton and George Washington were preeminently the men of their time, and events of history will be found to group themselves about these characters.

"Connected with them are other names of less importance at that period, but who subsequently also became leaders of men. The library has a variety of biographies covering the lives of the six men whose mastery of difficult situations form the subject of Prof. Sparks' lectures. Well worth reading among these are Paul Leicester Ford's 'The Many Sided Franklin' and 'The True George Washington' and 'The Familiar Letters of John Adams And His Wife.' There are two copies of 'The Men Who Made the Nation,' and in the American Statesman series will be found sidelights on all the minor characters mentioned by Prof. Sparks in the course of his lectures."

ON A BIG SCALE

Coal Mines Near Salem Will Be Opened And Operated And Coke Made.

Salem, Oct. 1.—The Farquhar coal mining property east of the city has been leased to Archibald Lemmon, a prominent coal mine operator of the south.

The lease is for a long term of years. Mr. Lemmon has decided to develop the property on a larger scale than was ever intended by the Farquhars. It is now the intention to build a railroad to the Salem railroad to get the output of coal to the foreign market. The route has been practically surveyed and will run from Buzzard's dam along the creek to the East Main street tramway, which is now being built. The road to be built will be about one and a half miles long. It is also the intention of the new lessee to put in a large number of coke ovens and manufacture coke on an extensive scale.

These gigantic undertakings will take much money, but Mr. Lemmon has decided to operate on a large scale. Hoisting machinery has been ordered, and it is expected to arrive this week, which can do the work for 200 employes if it is found necessary to employ that number.

"I am pleased to give my experience with Wine of Cardui as I am very grateful for its help. After my first baby was born I could not seem to regain my strength, although the doctor gave me a tonic which he considered very superior, but instead of getting better I grew weaker every day. My husband came home one evening with some Wine of Cardui and insisted that I take it for a week and see what it would do for me. As he seemed to have so much faith in it I did take the medicine and was very grateful to find my strength slowly returning. In two weeks I was out of bed and in a month I was able to take up my usual duties. I am very enthusiastic in its praise."

MOTHERHOOD is the noblest duty and highest privilege women can achieve or aspire to. Without this privilege women do not get all there is in life—too often they go through the world discontented, wrapped up in their own selfish cares and troubles. How different is the happy mother, watching her children grow into manhood and womanhood. A mother lives as many lives as she has children—their joys and sorrows are hers, as are their ambitions, triumphs and defeats. Healthy women do not suffer miscarriage nor does a woman who is healthy suffer tortures at childbirth. It is the woman who is ailing—who has female weakness—who fears the ordeal of becoming a mother. Wine of Cardui builds up the womanly in a woman. It stops all unnatural drains and strains—irregularities which are responsible for barrenness and miscarriage. It makes a woman strong and healthy and able to pass through pregnancy and childbirth with little suffering. After the ordeal is passed the Wine prepares a woman for a speedy recovery to health and activity.

Wine of Cardui, in re-inforcing the organs of generation, has made mothers of women who had given up hope of ever becoming mothers. Wine of Cardui will cure almost any case of barrenness except cases of organic trouble. How can you refuse to take such a remedy that promises such relief from suffering? Wine of Cardui simply makes you a strong woman, and strong, healthy women do not suffer. They look forward to motherhood with joy.

Considering the interest taken in politics in East Liverpool, the ignorance of those who write upon the subject is something surprising. Scarcely a day passes that some newspaper reference is not made to "Judge Kennedy, of Youngstown, the Republican candidate for congress." Every person who can read ought to be well aware that Judge James B. Kennedy is not the candidate for congress. That honor has fallen to his cousin, Attorney James Kennedy, who, though well qualified to be a judge, has never held that position. The mistake is natural, though a person who assumes to enlighten the public on political matters ought not to make it. But what excuse is there for the statement that "Thomas J. Duffy, of this city, will be the candidate for the nomination for congress on the Labor ticket?" Mr. Duffy received the nomination on the Labor ticket August 23. The newspaper writer who is not aware of that fact ought to read up on local history or else be given some assignment where his stock of misinformation would not be paraded so conspicuously.

Attorney General Elkin, of Pennsylvania, said in a recent speech: "Any falling off of Republican majorities this year will be a notice to the public that distrust has arisen in relation to laws favored and policies formulated by the Republican administration." This statement is as applicable to Ohio as to Pennsylvania. There will be no falling off if every Republican does his duty. The people are busy, but they should never get too busy to vote, especially at an election the results of which are fraught with so much importance as this year.

Senators Hoar and Hale are old-time Republicans, who know the benefits which the protective system have brought to the country. They are against all tariff tinkering. This is the view of the masses of the Republican party. It is the view, too, of all the Republican leaders of any consequence, from President Roosevelt down. Business men may rest assured that nothing will be permitted by the Republican party which will have a tendency to check the present prosperity.

The tributes of praise and esteem showered on Rev. Dr. Clark Crawford are all deserved. He has been a conscientious and faithful pastor and a strenuous worker for the cause of Christ, and East Liverpool will hold his name and his work in grateful remembrance.

The Democrats who have been reading Secretary Root out of the cabinet are to be disappointed. He will remain where he is. The president has a strong cabinet, and the war secretary is among the ablest of its members

A Bombay prince has left $5,000,000 as a fund for persons deprived of subsistence by sudden calamity in any part of the world. Even Asia can give a lesson in the broad philanthropic tendencies of the age.

A few loads of buckshot, well directed, would do more to discourage the activity of burglars and footpads in this city than all the arrests that have been made or are likely to be made.

The president will gladly settle the coal strike if those who are insisting that he do so will show him how. It now is up to the petitioners to produce their solution of the problem.

When Alger and Miles meet even the mild climate of Washington will appear chilly.

AT THE THEATER

Costumes play a great part in the modern stage production. The average woman today looks to the stage for the latest mode. This important accessory has been used to the greatest advantage in the new revival in "East Lynne." Miss Warren has always had the reputation of being one of the best gowned women on the stage, and for this her first starring season her gowns, Parisian creations, will certainly make a sensation. Miss Warren is a coming woman in the dramatic race today, and those who see her at the Grand opera house on Saturday afternoon and evening will certainly be delighted.

Idah McGlone Gibson, who gives the talk on the stage at the opera house tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 is well known in the newspaper fraternity as "Mae." Mrs. Gibson's talk is not a cut and dried lecture but a series of stories, funny and pathetic, and those who have heard her, say that she is most entertaining. She has a number of pictures of the great people of the stage, Booth, Modjestica, Sol Smith Russell, Herne, who wrote Shore Acres, and others, and she tells personal reminiscenses of the people who have given them to her. The lecture is absolutely free and will doubtless be most entertaining. An attractive souvenir will be presented to every lady attending.

"The Prisoner of Zenda" was presented to a packed house at the Grand last evening. The play was well staged, but there was one drawback about the production, and this fact is to be regretted. Some of the players were not thoroughly acquainted with their parts, one or two of the cast appearing either to forget their lines or the way they should act. With a few weeks of rehearsal these things will be eliminated. Thomas B. Alexander and Eloise Elliston acted well their parts, and the performance as a whole was of more than average merit.

Butter making is quite an industry in Indiana. In order to faithfully reproduce one of the principal scenes a trained dog is introduced in "Indiana Folks." His duty consists of propelling the tread mill which agitates the churn. From two to four pounds of strictly fresh butter are churned by Snip, the cocker spaniel dog used in the play. The product of his labor is eaten on the bread used in the realistic dinner scene in the first act. This is only one of may natural features in this beautiful Indiana romance which comes to the Grand tonight, October 1.

Denman Thompson and Geo. W. Ryer's, best of all rural plays, "Our New Minister," more popular now than ever, and brighter and more attractive than before because of its new massive scenic environment, will make its annual visit to the Grand on Friday evening. There isn't much use in saying anything about "Our New Minister" nowadays—it's many merits are so well known—save to advise everybody to go and see it.

here tonight and he will undoubtedly attempt to read these members out of his party. Eight Republicans voted against the curative amendment. The Guerin amendment is very similar to the Hosea amendment, which was inserted in the code bill passed by the senate Tuesday afternoon, and it will be the duty of the conference committee to decide which one shall be adopted.

The action of the senate in re-incorporating the Beal act in the code Tuesday, Special Counsel Smith Bennett, of the attorney general's office, says neither strengthens nor weakens the law, giving no advantage to either the anti saloon people or the liquor interests.

Attorney Wayne B. Wheeler, of the Anti-Saloon league, stated today that it was true that the league was preparing to held a local option election in East Liverpool.

The LaBelle iron works, organized under the laws of West Virginia, capital $5,000,000, qualified to engage in business in Ohio, with headquarters at Steubenville. J. E. Wright, Steubenville, is president. The company has mammoth plants at Steubenville and Mingo.

Senator Connell has receiver a big stack of letter from ministers throughout his district, asking that nothing be put in the code which will interfere with the operation of the Beal local option law. Similar letters are pouring in from all over the state. It is not likely that anything will be done which will impair the effect of the act.

Attorney General Sheets said today that he had not examined the act under which registration was given East Liverpool and so could not say whether it was constitutional. The recent decision of the supreme court, he stated, made no reference to the registration laws, and as the East Liverpool act has not been questioned he advises that it be observed. He said that it is tacitly understood that the supreme court will not pass upon any of the election laws until the general assembly has had an opportunity to correct them. The next general assembly will undertake this task.

Win Mercer, the crack East Liverpool pitcher, who is with the Detroit team, is a member of Lajoie's All American Stars, who are playing the Columbus team in this city this afternoon.

WELLSVILLE

A special meeting of Wellsville council was called last evening for the purpose of consulting with the water works trustees relative to the sale of the present water works system.

It will be remembered that on last Friday evening, at a special meeting of council, Manager Healy, of the East Liverpool Railway company, stated thtat he had a proposition to make concerning the purchase of the local water works system and the establishing of a gravity system.

After a long discussion of the topic last evening a resolution was finally drawn up and passed asking Mr. Healy to submit his proposition to council. The idea, it seems, is merely to ascertain the value of the local plant, as the sentiment of nearly all of council is against the selling of it.

A suggestion was made by one of the councilmen last evening that a combination municipal electric light and water works plant would be a good scheme. In talking over the subject, President A. S. Rogers, of the water works trustees, said: "In my judgment $30,000 would be sufficient money to equip the new city water works plant with power to furnish this city with electric light." At the present there are 59 electric arc lights in the city, none of which have proven entirely satisfactory. Councilman Brennan stated last evening that 35 more were needed at different places in the city.

Continuing Mr. Rogers said: "I understand that the lease between the electric light company and the city will expire within 18 or 20 months. It is best to consider this matter and be prepared to furnish the city with light when this time comes."

Getting back to the water works subject, President Whitacre, of council, asked Supt. Perkins, of the water works, whether the expense of keeping up the present water works was more than the receipts or not. Supt. Perkins stated that at the present time the water works are running into debt every year to the amount of between $3,000 and $4,000. The water works have never paid the interest on its bonded indebtedness and the trustees say that it never will.

Mr. Whitacre said that he did not believe that any municipality would hold onto a thing of this kind, knowing that it is sinking money every year, when it can be sold on a good proposition.

The running expenses of the water works at the present time amounted to about $9,000 each year, the total expenses about $14,000 and the total receipts between $10,000 and $12,000.

The subject of disposing of the water works was discussed for som time, but no definite action was taken other than that mentioned before in this article, namely the passing of the resolution asking Healy to submit his proposition.

A communication was read which was received a few days ago by Supt. Perkins, and which is from the Robert W. Hunt company, who are the water works trustees' consulting engineers. It stated that they had received a favorable communication from Congressman Tayler to the effect that he would do all within his power to have the government dam placed at the lower end of the city. He said that he would use all of his influence with the war department to bring this about.

The action of the finance committee in selling the bonds recently to Lamprecht Bros., Cleveland stock brokers, they being the highest bidders, was confirmed last evening by council.

Rinehart Bros., the East Liverpool contractors, were awarded the contract to repair the torn up paving on Third street. They were urged to do the work as soon as possible, as the street is in a very bad condition.

Councilman McLain brought up the matter of improving the culvert by putting in a small piece of sewer at the intersection of Bunting's run and Steubenville street, in the West End. Councilman Shoub moved that the matter be placed in the hands of the improvement committee with power to act. The motion was carried.

A motion was made and carried that the present grade on Clark avenue, which there was some talk of changing for the convenience of the street railway company, will remain as it is.

After a short talk upon the old subject of erecting a city tool house for the shelter of the street sweeper and sprinkler, in which there was no action taken, council adjourned.

The regular meeting of the board of health was held last evening in Mayor Fogo's private office, at which time only four members were present.

Previous to the meeting Dr. Tarr reported to the members of the board that the smallpox cases have not yet reached their worst stage, but that just at the present time they are getting along nicely. He said that three places were being guarded, while there are six different houses in the city that are under quarantine.

After the meeting had been called to order by Vice President Ashley, the regular bills were read, accepted and ordered paid.

Dr. Tarr's report for the month of August was read and accepted. It is as follows: Births, 17; deaths, 9; burial permits, 10; transits, 3; bodies received from other places, 4; contagious diseases, none.

The rules and regulations for the care and prevention of smallpox cases issued by the state board of health was read at the last evening session. Dr. Tarr will follow them as closely as possible in the cases which he now has on his hands.

After the discussion of a few minor matters and a talk over the smallpox situation the board adjourned. They will meet again on next Monday evenin at which time they will order all of the smallpox bills paid up to the time of meeting.

RIGGS-EDWARDS

Episcopal Rector And Prominent Wellsville Lady Wedded Today at Noon.

The wedding of Rev. Raymond Harold Edwards, late rector of the Church of the Ascension, to Miss Ida Irene Riggs was solemnized at high noon today at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. James H. Riggs, of Front street.

The ceremony was performed by Bishop Cortlandt Whitehead, of Pittsburg. The bride was gowned in white grenadine, over white silk entraine trimmed with Duchesse lace, with pearl trimming. She carried bride's roses. The ceremony was performed in the drawing room of the bride's home, which was decorated with palms and pink and white asters. Only the immediate relatives and a few of the neighboring clergy were present. After receiving the congratulations of the guests, the company repaired to the dining room, where an elaborate wedding breakfast was served.

The dining room was beautifully decorated in red. Red roses were used in profusion on the tables and other rew flowers were scattered about the room.

A BURGLAR AT WORK

An Officer Saw Him, But Has Not Yet Been Able to Find Him.

Officer Howard Davis, who early yesterday morning interrupted a burglar, in the act of gaining an entrance to the rear of Julius Goetz's clothing store on Main street, between Fourth and Fifth streets, has as yet been unable to find the man whom he saw in the act.

The burglar had been at his work for some time and had succeeded partially in gaining an entrance, when Davis first came into view down the alley. The man heard the officer coming and immediately dropped his tools and ran up the alley. Davis heard him, but could not see him on account of the darkness and dense fog. He shot in the same direction several times, but evidently did not hit his man.

It is thought that the work was done by local talent and that they will be caught in a few days. Davis will have nothing to say regarding the matter and declines to be interviewed. It is thought that he has his man located and is now hunting for evidence to convict.

Water Trustees Meeting.

The water works trustees held their regular business meeting last evening in the water works office, at which time only routine business was transacted. After this meeting they adjourned to the council chamber, where they met with council and discussed the water works proposition made by Manager L. W. Healy, of the East Liverpool Railway company, an account of which appears elsewhere.

Additional Fee Charged.

The two young ladies and the young man, Otto Henshaw, who were arrested yesterday by Chief Thorn, while alighting from the early train on a message from Charleston, W. Va., have been released. It is thought by the authorities here that an elopement is the cause of the trouble, although nothing definite can be learned.

POPE-GRACE WEDDING

Prominent in the social circles of this city was the wedding of Miss Anna Pope and Mr. Frank Sterling Grace, of Steubenville, which occurred today. The drawing room of the Pope residence on Sheridan avenue was tastefully decorated in palms and other tropical plants. Pink and white were in evidence throughout the decorations.

Promptly at 3 o'clock Miss Sarah Dickey played Mendelssohn's wedding march and the bridal party entered the drawing room led by Rev. J. C. Taggart. Following Dr. Taggart came the best man, J. Easton McGowan, of Steubenville, and the maid of honor, Miss Margaret Pope, a sister of the bride. The maid of honor was attired in a pretty gown of pink satin mousseline. Then the bride entered upon the arm of her father, Mr. I. Bentley Pope. Her gown was a becoming creation of white organdie over white taffeta silk.

When the bridal party took their places in front of the mantel, which was banked with flowers, Rev. Mr. Taggart proceeded with the marriage ceremony, after which an elaborate breakfast was served.

RE-CLASSIFICATION

Of Y. M. C. A. Membership Determined Upon at Directors' Meeting.

The Y. M. C. T. board of directors at the meeting last evening discussed a proposed change in the classification of the members. Heretofore the members have been divided into the following classes: Juniors, those under 15 years of age; intermediates, between the ages of 15 and 18; seniors, all over 18. A new class was formed of members under 12 years of age, whose work will be confined strictly to the gymnasium.

The junior class will be composed of members from 12 to 16 years of age; the intermediate, 16 to 18; the senior, 18 and over. Those of the intermediate class at present, who are under age, according to the new rule, and whose tickets expire before the first of December, will be allowed to continue in their present class, otherwise the new rule will go into effect at once.

Two Things Needful.

There are two things essential to success in advertising. The first is common sense, and the second is nerve. Perhaps in most cases nerve is a part of common sense, so that I might say there is only one thing necessary. Nerve in advertising implies the possession of sufficient wisdom to see the advisability of spending one dollar for the purpose of making two.—New England Grocer.

MANY VICTIMS OF CHOLERA.

Plague Worse In Iloilo Than Other Provinces.

Manila, Oct. 1.—It is announced that 5,124 cases of cholera and 2,746 deaths from that disease were reported in the province of Iloilo, island of Panay, on Monday. This is the highest record for any district since the outbreak occurred and exceeds the total of Manila and many of the provinces since the commencement. The town of Miago, in the province of Iloilo, was the worst sufferer, 1,173 cases being reported there Monday. At Cabatuan there were 939 cases and at Dumangas 395 cases were reported Monday. The people are fleeing to the mountains, leaving the dead unburied and the dying uncared for.

The government has ordered additional doctors and medicines to be sent to Iloilo. The number of victims makes ordinary sanitary measures impossible.

The totals for all the provinces Monday, were 5,390 cases and 3,09[illegible] deaths.

ANOTHER BIG CONTRACT.

Westinghouse Will Erect $2,500,000 Plant at Glasgow, Scotland.

London, Oct. 1.—The British Westinghouse Electric company has been awarded the contract for the erection and complete equipment of the proposed plant of the Clyde Valley Power company at Glasgow, Scotland, at a cost of approximately $2,500,000. The plant will be the largest of its kind in the United Kingdom and the British are wild with joy at capturing for a British firm a contract which the largest electrical companies in the United States have struggled desperately for for months. The importance of the British Westinghouse company and the part that it promises to play in the coming revolution of English traction roads is just beginning to dawn upon the English people and they are jubilant as a result.

PRESIDENT WISHES TO SETTLE STRIKE

CONFERENCE BEING HELD TODAY.

Two Were Held Yesterday, and It Was Decided the Government Could Not Interfere at Present—Secretary Root, After Seeing New York Business Men, Yesterday, Joined the Conference Today.

Washington, Oct. 1.—The President yesterday took iniative steps to ascertain what if anything could be done by Federal authority to settle oo kyc mfwmemig soienxe dnth thes the coal strike. The result was a rather general expression of opinion by the advisors of the President, who were parties to yesterday's conference, to the effect that the Federal laws and constitutiondid not afford means of Federal interference to end the strike, but another conference was held today and the President will do all he properly and legally can to bring about a settlement. At the temporary White House, yesterday, a conference was held with three cabinet officers, Attorney General Knox Secretary Moody and Postmaster General Payne.

after the subject had been considered for some time they adjourned to another room and conferred together for an hour. They all returned later in the day and held another conference with the president and the strike situation was discussed further. The approach of winter, with a coal famine imminent, and the distress and suffering that must ensue unless coal becomes available, presents a situation which he thinks should receive the attention of the administration, if there is anything that can be done by the government. Many appeals have been made to him and many suggestions have been received by him, and it was with a view to ascertaining what power the federal authority could evoke that caused the conference to be held.

Don't Warrant Federal Interference.

During the conference every phase of the situation was discussed. The general opinion of the advisers of the President was that the situation did not present a case in which there could be Federal interference by any warrant of law. There has been no interference with Federal authority in the anthracite region, either by stoppage of the mails or resistance of the United States court press. It was pointed out that there was no occasion for the use of Federdal troops as Governor Stone, of Pennsylvania, had not called on the government for assistance, nor had he even exhausted the resources of the state by calling out the full strength of the state militia. The question of the right to seek the appoinment of receivers for the mines, in order that they might be operated, was discussed, but neither in the constitution nor in any known law could any legal warrant be found for such action, though the discussion on such lines even went so far as the consideration of how the properties could be relinquished and control surrendered, after the object of supplying coal had been accepted, assuming the Federal government could intervene through receivers. The tenor of the whole discussion was to the effect that there was a lack of power in the Federal administration to take any action at the present stage of the strike, although the seriousness of the coal famine now and the much greater evils soon to follow, were considered at length and with a wish to discover some method of ending the industrial deadlock.

Governor Crane's presence naturally brought into prominence the proceedings brought in the Massachusetts court to secure the appointment of receivers for the coal properties, but the opinion was expressed that the situation could not be met successfully by this method.

During the day advices were received that the strike might be settled by the miners and operators themselves, and it was suggested that hasty interference by the Federal government might prevent the consummation of the plans for a strike settlement, if any such were maturing. While recognizing the futility of efforts to end the strike that would accomplish nothing, it was stated that the President was anxious that the end of the strike should be brought about at the earliest possible moment and that, if the attorney general or any other member of the cabinet could devise a method, by which the President could proceed, that he would not hesitate to adopt it, unless meanwhile assurances of a settlement were received. After yesterday's meeting, Governor Crane left for Massachusetts.

The conference was resumed today, Secretary Root, who spent yesterday in New York, being present. It was understood last night that the visit of Secretary Root to New York was for the purpose of consulting prominent business men on the subject. The Secretary left for New York Monday after a short conference at the White House, when the same men were present, who were at yesterday's conference. It has been intimated that the President may send for the managers of the coal properties, but this will not be done until after the end of the conference today, and perhaps not then.

Some confidence was expressed last night over the report Secretary Root may have brought from New York though it could not be learned what communication, if any, had been received from the Secretary while he was in New York. He reached Washington from there about 10 oclock last night, but denied himself to newspapermen and others seeking information.

No official statement was made regarding the conference yesterday though an intimation was given that last night some statement might follow the conference today. As heretofore stated, the main fact made apparent yesterday was, that the President will make every effort he can exert properly and lawfully to stop the strike and avert a fuel famine.

Toledo Mayor Issues Proclamation Upon Miners' Strike.

Toledo, O., Oct. 1.—Samuel M. Jones, the Golden Rule mayor, yesterday issued a proclamation regarding the miners' strike, in which, after telling of the strike and the outlook, that, with winter coming, thousands will not be able to get coal, he says:

"This state of affairs has moved some of our fellow citizens in Boston to ask the United States courts to appoint a receiver for the various anthracite mining companies and the coal carrying roads that are the direct cause of the trouble through their absolute refusal to submit the question of their differences to arbitration.

"Believing that this matter is one of vital importance and that these Boston citizens should have the benefit of the moral support of all good people everywhere and for the purpose of giving an opportunity to the people of our city to speak en masse on this topic, I, therefore, call upon all patriotic and liberty-loving citizens, to the extent of their ability, to assemble at Memorial hall, on Oct. 2, 1902, for the purpose of passing suitable resolutions to encourage these Boston citizens in the work that they have undertaken, and such other business as may properly come before the meeting."

MANUFACTURERS ACT.

Their President Invites Mitchell to Conference—He Accepts.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 1.—President D. M. Parry, of the National Association of Manufacturers, last night received from President John Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers, a telegram in answer to one sent him asking if the mine workers would be willing to appoint a committee to meet with a committee from the association and discuss a means of ending the coal strike. The message was dated Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 30, and contained the following:

"Shall be pleased to appoint committee to confer with committee of National Association of Manufacturers. Should prefer meeting in the east."

Upon receiving President Mitchell's telegram Mr. Parry sent Mr. Mitchell another telegram containing the following, in part:

"Your committee should represent those in full authority, including yourself. We suggest Buffalo as place of meeting, any day this week you may designate. Advise number of your committee."

CHAMBERLAIN APPROVED GIFT.

Phipps Said He Would Have Given to English, if Suffering.

New York, Oct. 1.—Henry Phipps, of the Carnegie Steel company, who gave $100,000 to the relief fund for destitute Boers, arrived on the steamship Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse yesterday. Mr. Phipps was reluctant to talk about his gift, but said:

"I sent Arthur White, the author, to see Mr. Chamberlain before he decided what to do and the answer came back that the gift would be all right. If the situation had been changed and England had been the suffering country I would have given her the money."

Husband's Shot Proved Fatal.

Greensburg, Pa., Oct. 1.—Mrs. Miller, who was shot by her husband at Jeannette, Friday night, died yesterday morning. Her husband, E. E. Miller, was arrested, and is now in jail. Mr. Miller is a son of David Miller, of the East End, Pittsburg, and a brother of William Miller, late engineer of the Pittsburg water works construction.

MONEY RATE'S DECLINE HELPED.

New York, Oct. 1.—The stock market, which closed utterly demoralized on Monday, as a result of stringent monetary conditions and other unfavorable circumstances, made a sensational recovery, yesterday. The chief causes for the complete reversal were the action of the secretary of the treasury in removing the restraint on bank reserves and persistent reports from various quarters that the coal strike had at last reached the point where negotiations for a settlement were actually under way. For this last rumor there appeared to be little or no foundation, according to the individual and collective statements of the leading operators, made after the regular weekly meeting.

Money Rate Decline Helped.

Another influence for better prices was the decline in call money rates, though during the morning loans were made as high as 19 per cent. A large part of the day's loans was made at around 10 per cent and the rate at the close down to 2, but the rally was nominal, no money being placed at that figure.

Opening prices were better all the way from a fraction to five points. Wide openings, in which blocks of 2,000, 3,000 and 5,000 shares changed hands, were numerous. The greatest gains were in the Standard Railway shares, notably St. Paul, Louisville and Nashville (which bore the brunt of the previous day's pounding), Missouri Pacific, Union Pacific, the coalers and a number of specialties.

On the floor of the stock exchange the greatest excitement and activity prevailed during the first hour. Brokers on the short side were covering with all possible speed and the bull faction was in absolute control. The list manifested a vacillating tendency soon after the first bulge and many of the active stocks whose initial gains had been largest, receded from one to three points.

The opening rate for call money was 12 per cent, but soon advanced to 18, creating general confusion among those committed to higher prices.

White House Conference Rumors.

The more sensational features of the market developed in the early afternoon on news from Washington intimating that the president and his cabinet had taken steps to terminate the coal strike. In spite of the absence of any confirmation the market seized upon this announcement and with the coal stocks in the lead the entire list shot upward. The market developed a buoyant tone in the last hour, though operations were confined largely to the coalers, which were heavily traded in, and closed at practically best prices for the day. The day's operations were in excess of 1,200,000 shares.

Secretary Shaw's visit to the street and his talks with the leading banking interests helped in no small measure to restore confidence. Local banks loaned moderately.

Detroit Strike Conference Favored.

Detroit, Oct. 1.—The telegraphic invitations sent out Wednesday night by Mayor William C. Maybury to governors of a number of states and the mayors of the principal cities in the east, middle west and northwest, asking them to send delegates to participate in a national conference on the coal strike, have met with a great number of acceptances, and the proposed conference bids fair to be a tremendous gathering. Mayor Ashbridge, of Philadelphia, declined, saying he expected a settlement before the conference could act.

FAREWELL SAID TO DR. CRAWFORD

On the Late Pastor With Other Tributes of Affection And Esteem—An Excellent Program — Exercises That Will Long Be Rembered.

Never in the history of the First Methodist Episcopal church has there occured a meeting in which so much feeling was manifested and more regret expressed than was witnessed at the farewell reception tendered Dr. and Mrs. Clark Crawford last night. Whn it came to the leave taking at 10 o'clock, there was scarcely a dry eye in the entire assemblage. Dr. Crawford was beloved by his people, and they took no pains to conceal their feelings.

President T. T. McCann, of the Epworth League had charge of the meeting, and a pleasing musical program was given at the beginning of the service. There was a song by the quartet, a vocal solo by Miss Everson, a piano selection by Mrs. Dix, a vocal solo by Mr. Blount, a humorous recitation by Will G. Morris, the congregational singing of "America," vocal solo by M. C. Williams, of Columbus, a vocal duet by Prof. and Mrs. John Phillis, and then another hymn by the congregation.

The affair was held in the Sunday school room of the church which was crowded. When the musical program was over, Rev. George W. Orcutt, pastor of the Erie street M. E. church in the East End, made an introductory address and at the proper time a piece of cloth was drawn from a large object on the platform which revealed a handsome bookcase that was formally presented to Dr. Crawford by his people.

Rev. Mr. Orcutt said: "We sometimes pause but never stop. Methodism goes on. The pastor of this church has never been without an appointment for a single moment and this church has never been without a pastor, yet there are changes which take place.

"The relationship of pastor and people is the most sacred outside of family ties. The four years that have passed will never be forgotten by this church. There have been times of joy and sorrow, words of welcome, the joys of matrimony and sadder scenes when the pastoral relationship has been evident in the deepest trials. A pastor's prayers and presence have brought relief and comfort. There is a special memory for Dr. Crawford to the converts of his ministry that will be deeper than perhaps for any other."

Mr. Orcutt remembered the everlasting image of the bearded preacher who had placed a hand on his head at the mourner's bench. That pastor had never been forgotten although others had come and gone. Think of that multitude of similar experience who love Dr. Crawford. He then asked those present who had been blesed by the present pastor to arise and there were persons who stood up in every portion of the room.

Rev. Mr. Orcutt then said that four years did not seem very long, but he recalled of the 123 honored dead in the M. E. conference the average pastoral service had been 28 years. Four years is 14 per cent. and practically 25 per cent. of Dr. Crawford's life given to East Liverpool people.

"It will go into history."

The speaker then gave a present to the deaconness, Miss Wallace, who is about leaving the city.

Dr. Crawford, with much emotion, stepped in front of the audience. He said that when he came to East Liverool four years ago his thoughts wer i nthe past.

Tonight his thoughts rank with the past in the consideration of a certain work ended. The commissior is now a matter of history. When he left that land of flowers and dropped into the smoke and fog of East Liverpool, he frequently asked his wife, "What is the matter with the sun?" He hoped then that the people were not as dark and gloomy as the atmosphere. Warm hearts were found and they had been found all through the charge.

A pastor of Pasadena, Cal., had said to him, "What will you do if you get into a cold pastorate after five years of revival?" He did not know but what he would get up a revival when he got here, but they had the revival fires burning.

"The object of the ministry is to save men and women. I don't know what to do if I can't get where souls can be brought to Jesus." He had gone into his new charge at Akron with just a little anxiety. He felt that he was going leaning on the arm of Christ with a prayer on his lips that he might be epuipped for any share in the work of that church.

Relations with East Liverpool people had been replete with gratitude and thanksgiving, yet it had been a pastorate of very hard work. Not enough time was taken for rest. Night and day there was labor for this church and the building of the Kingdom. He had sought to do his duty loyally and faithfully, yet he had seen where improvements could have been made. God is gracious and forgiving where faults and failings are not intentional. Compensation is felt for saving so many souls.

Pleasant and delightful have been the associations, Dr. Crawford declaring that he had always been a man of pacific spirit. That had reigned throughout his residence in this city. There had been a beautiful and unbroken fellowship. A debt of thanks is due to the predecessor. No collapse came and the work has been carried forward.

But, tenderest of memories would cluster around this altar and that above where new souls have been born into the Kingdom. His heart will burn as he thinks of these scenes. Two hundred and fifty East Liverpool funerals have been attended by Dr. Crawford. Forty-five of them have been members of the church, not including those that were probationary.

Dr. Crawford spoke at some length concerning his close connection with the flock. He wanted the people to offer their prayerful help to the charge that he was about to undertake. In accepting his gift he said that Mrs. Crawford might offer objections as she frequently interposed a tender remonstrance against his late hours in the library. He valued the love of the membership more than any temporal offering.

The final handshaking was a touching portion of the evening.

Miss Wallace, the deaconness, will leave tomorrow for her home in Iowa, stopping off for a short time in Chicago. Later she expects to go to California to spend the winter in the hope of benefitting her health. Miss Wallaces' departure is deeply regretted, and she is followed by the kindest wishes of a host of friends.

STRIKERS HOPEFUL.

Peaceful, Because They Anticipated a Settlement With the Operators.

MITCHELL TALKED TO A PERSON,

In New York, Over the Telephone, Last Night—Rumored He Might Go to Gotham Any Time Now—Both Sides Make Claims.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 1.—President Mitchell was still silent last night on his visit to Philadelphia, Monday. He said he is not in a position to speak, but declared that the party he was in conference with did not represent the coal operators. This declaration was considered important, as Mr. Mitchell would not deny that indirectly the persons he represented might be authorized to speak for the coal company. The impression at strike headquarters was that the mysterious man in the case is one of J. P. Morgan's financial agents and that he stands very close to P. A. B. Widener. It was also believed that the party who conferred with the miners' chief got his best terms for a settlement of the strike and that these terms were being discussed by the mine owners. President Mitchell will say nothing until the other side is heard from. He said to the Associated Press last night that he had no statement of any kind to give out. District Presidents Nicholls, Duffy and Fahy were still here. It was thought they were waiting for developments and might be summoned to a council any time.

Strikers Expect a Settlement.

Detachments from the Eighth and Ninth regiments made tours of the Wyoming and part of the Lackawanna regions yesterday, but found no crowds at the mines. The strikers were very peaceful, the feeling being strong among them that the end is near and that no more agitation is needed.

The chief officers of the miners' union went to Nanticoke today to attend the funeral of Joseph Gillis, who was killed by a coal and iron policeman at that place Sunday evening. The officers of the union claim Gillis was deliberately murdered.

District President Nicholls said 44 non-union men employed in the mines at Hyde Park quit work yesterday. He also reported that the Cayuga mine, in the Scranton district, was idle, after being in operation for a long period. President Fahy said many non-union men in his district were also quitting work and joining the miners' union.

Last evening President Mitchell talked over the 'phone with a party in New York. It was rumored that Mr. Mitchell might go to New York at almost any time now.

Shenandoah, Pa., Oct. 1.—Sheriff Knorr, of Columbia county, arrested 127 strikers at Centralia yesterday afternoon. They were charged on the warrants with rioting and inciting to riot.

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 1.—Perfect quiet reigned throughout the Lackawanna region yesterday. Not as much as a single case of stone throwing was reported.

School Children Went on Strike.

Sixty boys from the Boderly school, in Carbondale township, went on strike yesterday because seven children of non-union miners would not be turned out. They then marched with banners and drums to the Mayfield school and induced the boys there to strike. A majority of the pupils at No. 11 school, in this city, struck yesterday morning because coal which was being delivered at the school was reported to be "unfair" or mined by non-union men.

The local headquarters of the mine workers made claims yesterday that many men had quit work at various collieries, but in each instance the company officials denied emphatically that this was true, and made the counter claim that their forces were constantly growing. No colliery or washery has been started up in nearly two weeks, but the 40 places in this region that were operating prior to that time are all in operation.

There is No Question About it. It's a Plain Statement of Facts—Made By An East Liverpool Citizen.

Mrs. Margaret Tracy, of No. 179 Seventh street, East Liverpool, Ohio, says: "One of my family was very nervous, subject to nervous spells—weak and miserable—could not sleep and the digestion was very poor. I asked the invalid to take Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills I got at Larkin's Drug Store. The result was splendid—the medicine built her up—enriched the blood—made the nerves strong—gave restful sleep and so strengthened the stomach that digestion was perfect—the old time languid, played out feeling has given place to one of strength and energy and as a result we are more than pleased with the medicine."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package.

Refused Carnegie Library.

London, Oct. 1.—The committee of the Marylebone borough council has drawn up a report recommending that the council thank Andrew Carnegie for his offer of $150,000 for the establishment of free libraries, "which they cannot see their way to accept." The refusal is based on the objection of the borough to the increased rates which would be entailed by the acceptance of the libraries.

FASTER THAN A WALK

A Horse Which Became Frightened At a Car Heeded No Warning.

An unknown man and a fractious horse, created a little excitement on the bridge yesterday. The horse became frightened at an approaching street car and the man, in an attempt to avoid the car, trotted the horse across the bridge. J. F. Spivey, the bridge-tender halted the man and called his attention to the fine of five dollars for driving faster than a walk across the bridge. As the man undoubtedly had reasons for urging his horse the matter was dropped, after the administering of a severe reprimand.

Nothing in engineering is more romantic or curious than the fashion in which the ordinary conception of a mine as an opening penetrating far below the ordinary level is reversed where inducements offer to climb high above the earth's surface before piercing into it.

There is, for instance, the Eureka gold mine, probably the highest in the world, situated 14,000 feet up in the Andes range, not far from the city of Jujuy, in Argentina. So high is this mine that it is only worked with great difficulty owing to the "mountain sickness" and to similar troubles to which workers at this immense altitude, almost three miles in the air, are subject.

Cool Garden Spots.

A glacier when it dislodges itself and sails away over the Arctic ocean never travels alone. In the wake of every large one floats a line of smaller companions.

The Eskimos call this phenomenon "the duck and ducklings," and any one who has watched the progress of the eider duck followed by her brood will appreciate the aptitude of the name.

Strange as it may seem, plants grow and blossom upon these great ice mountains. When a glacier is at rest, moss attaches itself to it, protecting the ice beneath, just as sawdust does. After a time the moss decays and forms a soil, in which the seeds of buttercups and dandelions, brought by the wind, take root and flourish.

Those who have traveled in arctic lands say they have found no point yet where the poppy does not bloom during the brief northern summer.

Prince Jerome Napoleon was fond of telling the story of his scheme during the Crimean war by which he kept up the spirits of his men. The French army was losing daily large numbers of men through the ravages of the cholera. Marshal Canrobert sent the order to Prince Jerome that he should move his division to Varna. Jerome issued marching orders and added: "Seek out in every regiment all the actors, comedians, clowns, conjurers and entertainers. I will personally arrange a performance and present prizes to the best entertainer." During the whole of the retreat these performances took place for the edification of the division. Prince Jerome is not famous for any remarkable military triumphs, but this one act must at least be put to his credit, for it was undoubtedly due to this method of cheering up his men that his division could boast a death roll at least three times as small as that of any other. These performances were the forerunner of the now famous Zouave theater in the Crimea.

Lacemaking by Hand.

Making lace by hand is a well developed art in Paraguay. It was taught the natives 200 years ago by the missionaries and has been transmitted from generation to generation till it is now quite general throughout the republic. Some towns are devoted to making a certain kind of lace. In one town of 8,000 or 9,000 inhabitants almost all the women and children and many of the men make lace collarettes, handkerchiefs and ladies' ties. Another town makes lace embroidery and others drawn thread work, such as centerpieces, try mates, teacloths and doilies. The designs used in making the lace are taken from the curious webs of the semitropical spiders that are so numerous there. On this account it is called "nanduti," an Indian name which means spider web.

THE RECORD.

What Democracy Has Done About Trusts.

Not a National Statute From That Party.

No Attempt to Execute Existing Statutes—Both Law Making and Law Enforcing Things Left to Republicans—The Record.

Mr. Bryan and other Democratic leaders are appealing to the record of their party against the trusts. It has none.

The first declaration against trusts in a national platform was made by the Republican convention of 1888. A resolution by William McKinley, declaring "opposition to all combinations of capital organized in trusts or otherwise to control arbitrarily the condition of trade," and recommending to "congress and state legislatures in their respective jurisdictions such legislation as will prevent the execution of all schemes to oppress the people by undue charges on their supplies or by unjust rates for the transportation of their products to market," was adopted.

In carrying out that instruction of the Republican party a Republican congress enacted the Sherman anti-trust law of 1890 and five Republican states enacted anti-trust laws between 1889 and 1891. The Sherman anti-trust bill was passed by Republican votes, and was opposed by the Democrats in the senate and house.

In the platforms of 1892 both parties demanded additional legislation against the trusts. The Democrats elected the president and secured control of congress. The president made no specific recommendation, and the congress enacted no anti-trust laws.

In 1896 the Democratic convention demanded the more rigid enforcement of the Sherman law, and additional trust legislation of 1890.

In 1900 the Democratic convention pledged the Democratic party to the enforcement of existing (Republican) laws against the trusts, and to the enactment of more stringent laws. The Republicans elected the president and a majority in congress.

The supreme court havinng decided that "the Sherman act does not affect contracts in restraint of trade unless they interfere directly and substantially with interstate commerce," and that "a state act which imposes limitations upon the power of a corporation created under the laws of another state, to make contracts within the state for carrying on commerce between the states, violates that clause of the constitution which confers upon congress the exclusive right to regulate commerce," the Republicans proposed a constitutional amendment, enlarging the powers of congress to control corporations and to terminate their existence.

The proposition was opposed at every stage by the Democrats. For it 150 Republicans and 4 Democrats voted. Against it were 130 Democrats and 2 Republicans. Two-thirds not having voted in the affirmative, the resolution failed, and the Democrats were responsible for the failure.

To evade this responsibility the Democratic leaders are clamoring for the enforcement of existing (Republican) laws, contending that no additional legislation is necessary. If the Democratic leaders are honest in this they ought to give hearty support to Attorney General Knox in his proceedings against trusts.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Brave Men.

Persians in general are not supposed to be the bravest people in the world, but even in Persia the inhabitants of Kashan, a mercantile city, are notorious for their lack of a warlike spirit.

Their pusillanimity has passed into a proverb and given rise to many stories.

One of the best of these is that when Nadir Shah disbanded his army on its return from India the 30,000 men belonging to Kashan and its sister city of Ispahan applied for an escort of 100 musketeers to see them safely home.
